PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair. It had turned white at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial, it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in search of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDER.

NEW YORK, July 24, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common among persons who perspire freely.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald. I had tried many Hair Restoratives, but I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications further stopped the hair from falling, began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original position black; at this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend your Restorative to all. D. H. HOGE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds at least 50 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES ever before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying their place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the nervous system, and restoring the system to perfect health.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach, and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Two doses will cure Fever and Ague.

One dose of two pills and all Fevers of a specific nature will generally relieve Sick Headache.

Congress dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhoea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

We take pleasure in recommending this valuable medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a specific nature, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

Only one dose is needed to remove the cause of Jaundice or to cure the disease—effecting a yellowness or unnatural color from the skin, in a short time, before setting gives vigor to the system, makes the food digest well.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding country, experiencing their lives to the incidental effects of certain disgraceful maladies which still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that he can be consulted at all times by the unfortunate, or by letter, as to all who may order them, provided the nature and description of the disease be set forth, and what it is that ails the patient.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by others, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicine sent to any part of the country, carefully concealed from curious inquiring eyes.

Particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be tempted to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, healthy manhood.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all cases of irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. These are worthless, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call upon the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

Pills forwarded to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. DIX'S private accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurse if they wish, at a reasonable rate. ly2 ddy

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows:—$12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or be entirely satisfied with the arrangement. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s8 6m

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.

The annual meeting was held on Tuesday last. As this Factory is the only prominent one in Portsmouth, every man, whether stockholder or not, wishes to know its condition. The history of the past year exhibits the peculiar troubles which have beset the manufacturing interest, and while many have been sacrificed, but few have been left in better condition than to hold their own. Of the latter favored class is the Portsmouth Steam Factory.

The last annual report showed a very large amount of goods on hand, more than a million and a half yards. In November last, it was found that the stock had increased to about three millions. On the 17th of that month it was deemed most prudent to stop operations at the mills. On the 29th of March the mill resumed, and has since been in full operation. During the suspension the stock was reduced about two and a half millions yards. There are at present on hand only about 250,000 yards. The goods produced but little more than the cost of cotton and labor—the balance of profit being only about $7000.

This factory has thus gone through the troubles with its capital stock unimpaired, with personal property enough to pay every debt, and leave a balance to every stockholder. The whole buildings and machinery are in complete repair,—and now again in full operation. This is a far better state of things than has been experienced by a majority of the mills in New England.

The following Board of Directors was chosen: Ichabod Goodwin, John Knowlton, William P. Jones, John A. Blanchard, Calvin W. Clark, Nathaniel Goddard, William Sheafe.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

NAPOLEON AND BYRON.—It may be regarded as a happy circumstance that the antediluvian age of man has been reduced—for thereby fall many reach by turnpike the Temple of Fame at the age of two or three score years, (if they then chance to die,) which it would have taken nearly a thousand years to have arrived at in the early ages of the world. Though in life Napoleon waded through seas of human blood, exercised with no more of human sympathy than if crossing the waters of the Rhine, yet after he has "shuffled off this mortal coil" some Headley can be found to canonize him among the Saints, for the admiration and imitation of his fellow-men! But, with all the laudation and flattery bestowed upon that self-raised monument of personal ambition, not even the muzzled presses of France were restrained from exhibiting true sketches of his blood-thirsty disposition and unprincipled private life. They had a right so to do, and humanity was benefitted by its exercise. So a licentious Byron,—who as an erratic star moving in the region of poetry, contaminated literature by as much as his powers were above the ordinary compass, has only to pass to a foreign grave, which no discarded wife nor neglected daughter can bedew with tears,—has only therein to rest, to have the sycophantic signet of immortality stamp upon him by a morbid popular opinion, and a deep niche in the Temple of Fame devoted to his occupancy.—Yet there are men who have no very exalted opinion of him as a man, as a moralist, as a christian, as a husband, as a father, as a philanthropist, or of his having made the world one whit better for having lived in it.

Who of all the panegyrists of Napoleon Bonaparte, or Lord Byron, would wish for a son of his to imitate the personal habits of either? If their fame is to be trumpetted to the world, the world has a right to know how much of moral principle was sacrificed on which to base that fame. The press, if free, has the same right to present one side of the picture as the other.—Journal.

CITY COUNCIL.

In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, complaint of the drainage through Fleet st. from Mr. Somerby's stable was referred to Health com.

A circular from Gov. Haile, announcing that he had, according to the legislative act, concluded a contract with E. A. Boardman of Boston, for furnishing the liquor agencies in the several towns and cities in the state with pure and unadulterated liquor, was laid on the table one week.

The bills for costs growing out of the suits of Charles Robinson & als. were referred to the counsel for the city.

The petitioners for widening Market street had leave to withdraw.

Common Council not in session.

Among the improvements of the day, we might call attention to those made in the establishment of JONES & MENDUM, in Market street. That long deep room has now a truly business like aspect. Fifty at least can now be accommodated at the extensive counters. Their carpet room is well stocked with choice variotion, and offers a variety sufficient to suit the taste of almost every purchaser. If you would know of what their large stock consists, read their advertisement.

WARM WEATHER.—We have had but two days the past summer warmer than Thursday last.—July 8th, mercury rose to 93, and on the 11th to 91. June 24th, July 10th and Sept. 9th, it was as 90. On no other days has the mercury risen to that point.

The Union Prayer Meeting on Sunday morning, will be held in the Brick Chapel in Fleet street, (not in the North Church,) at the ringing of the first bells.

TO A YOUNG DEPARTED FRIEND.

Calm on the bosom of thy God,
Young spirit! rest thee now,
Even while with us thy footstep trod,
His seal was on thy brow.

Dust, to its narrow house beneath!
Soul, to its place on high!—
They that have seen thy look in death,
No more may fear to die.

Lone are the paths, and sad the bowers,
Whence thy meek smile is gone;
But oh!—a brighter home than ours,
In heaven is now thine own.

SECTIONALISM—EDUCATION.

Sectional feelings are apt to exist among all people and all nations, however large or small.

The enmity, that people of one nation feel toward the people of another—for instance the sort of hereditary dislike of the Englishman to the Frenchman—may be said to sectionalism upon a grand scale. And the enmity of the people of one section of any country toward the people of another section of that same country, is only the same sentiment upon a smaller scale. Such also is the enmity of the people of one provinces to the people of another province; or to come nearer home, the enmity of the people of one of the States of our glorious Union, to the people of another of these same States.

The basis of this Union is laid upon too broad a foundation to admit of the entertaining of such feelings; and he who does harbor them, can only do it in forgetfulness of the grand principles upon which our government is established.

Washington was fully aware of the evil consequences which might result from sectionalism, having learned them by bitter experience. In the "Life and Times of Washington," a work now being published, it is said:

At this time (1776) of imminent danger, Washington had the grief and mortification to learn that dissensions were breaking out among the different portions of the army, threatening the most serious consequences. The officers coming from the various parts of the country were jealous of each other, and openly expressed themselves in terms so disrespectful, as necessarily to produce a very bad state of feeling towards each other, which spread also among the soldiers to such an extent as to excite an apprehension of actual collision between the corps.

Washington, in explaining the evil consequences to be feared from this, says:

"Let all distinctions of nations, countries, and provinces be lost in the generous contest, who shall behave with the most courage against the enemy, and the most kindness and good humor to each other."

I am very prone to believe that if we all were actuated by such sentiments as these, which are thus expressed by Washington, we should hear less of those sectional bickerings, too many of which are constantly being engaged in now-a-days.

Of the same nature, only placed upon a still narrower foundation, is the prejudice which we often find existing between neighboring towns and cities, and which, instead of benefitting those towns and cities, in many cases operates to their disadvantage.

He who travels, and is brought into contact with the people of other lands, of other portions of his native land, or of other cities than where he is most familiar—is liable to less prejudices and less antipathies than he who plods along in one continued dull routine. By the constant dwelling in one locality, the mind becomes cramped, and the ideas contracted. The soul, confined as it is within its carnal prison, does not have an opportunity to expand itself, except by the locomotion of the body, or by the perusal of the ideas of others—and the man leads a wearisome life, suspicion of his fellow men, egotistic perhaps, and vain.

But, says the objector, every one cannot travel. It may be true that nearly all are unable to extend their journeys so far as they might wish, but perhaps all can look about them much more than at the first glance it might be supposed. There are times when every one may have the leisure, even if he may not have the pecuniary means, to travel; and it is not necessary that one should sit down inactive, because he may not have the means of travelling to very distant places.

Perhaps it is not well to go far before visiting the localities in one's own neighborhood. Of the thousands living in Portsmouth, I doubt that many have visited the places of interest in our own vicinity, even where it can be done at little or no expense. I will venture to say that but few of them have ever sailed up the beautiful Piscataqua to the city of Dover, or to the many pleasant towns and villages upon the banks of the river, and at its head waters: and it is doubtful if more than a few have visited the United States Navy Yard, opposite to our city.

Once in the city of New Orleans, I visited, with a young creole, resident of that city, some of the many fine ships and steamers lying at its levees in another municipality from that in which he had always lived; and he informed me that he had never before been out of the limits of his own section of the city. Such apathy often exists with persons not of inquiring minds. The associating with men robs us wonderfully of our prejudices.

Next to travelling, in stripping our minds of undue sectional feelings, comes something, which, thanks to the press, costs but little. I mean the reading of the newspapers,—not merely those upon one side of any question, but those also of opposite sides. "Prove all things, and hold fast that which is good."

During this short life get all the information possible, and keep the mind unbiased. It may be that we shall need our information in another sphere of action.

VIATOR.

☞ Some of the Illinois farmers say that the quantity of Sugar raised in that State this year, from the Sorghum cane, will exceed in amount that of any other one product of the State. The Springfield (Ill.) Sugar Mill will be ready on the 20th Sept. to work night and day in crushing canes and boiling the juice. Cane is in order to cut, one month after it blossoms. Gov. Matteson, to further this great enterprise, offers to carry cane free on the railroad—believing that if successful, a valuable staple will be added to the crops of Illinois.

A. B. C. F. M.—In a telegraphic notice of the American Board, dated Detroit Sept. 7, in all the papers, the receipts are set down at $33,480, and the expenditures at $37,241. This is an error; the receipts and expenditures being about ten times as large.

☞ The Boston and Maine Railroad corporation held their annual meeting at Haverhill, on Wednesday, and made choice of the same directors as last year. The meeting was rather a stormy one, from the discussion of the affairs of the corporation by F. O. J. Smith, of Portland; but the directors carried the day by an immense majority. The meeting was composed of seven hundred persons, and near one hundred were females.

☞ Workmen are engaged at Erie, Pa., in raising the remains of the flagship Lawrence, of Perry's fleet. A large portion of the hull has been taken up and is in a good state of preservation. Some of the planks and heavy timbers bear the marks of cannon balls, and are considerably shattered. Perry's victory is about to be celebrated by the people of that region, who propose to erect a monument to his memory.

☞ The Bath Times says: "Dudley was taken from this city early Monday morning. He requested to be taken away before the outside crowd could have a chance to gather about the door. He declares his purpose to do the best he can in prison, to secure the favor of all who have connection with him, and deserve mercy and pardon, whether he receives it or not. He also says that he hopes not only to survive his sentence, but to return to Topeham a wiser and better man, again to be respected. God grant that his strength may be equal to his resolution."

What has happened to Dudley, might happen any day, to any one of the two hundred loafers or five hundred drinkers here. By the way, three of their number have fallen within a week, victims to their own peculiar institution.

☞ Two Millerites named Martin and Rew, living in Newark, Wayne county, N. Y., recently became converts to Judaism, and to signalize their devotion to their new faith, the misguided men on Saturday actually circumcised their sons, one aged eight and the other eleven years. This cruel and dangerous act aroused the indignation of the people of the village, and they had the men who perpetrated it arrested and put under bonds for their good behavior.

☞ We learn from the Pine Bluff (Arkansas) Independent that the gentleman just elected to the Legislature of that State from Calhoun county, died the day after the election. It is said that he was in the habit of remarking, in all his speeches, that if he could just be elected to the Legislature of Arkansas, he was ready to die. Singular.

☞ Mr. Morphy, the great American Chess-player, was born in Louisiana, and is a native of the United States for three generations. He is not yet 21 years of age.

☞ The loss of property at New York Quarantine, (Staten Island,) is believed to equal at least $300,000.

☞ There are fourteen persons in the Boston jail on the charge of murder.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—The deaths from yellow fever Thursday were forty-nine.

A TRIP TO HAVERHILL.

On Wednesday last, Messrs. Editors, your misguided correspondent, in company with fifty or more stockholders in the Boston and Maine Railroad, embarked on a special train on the P & C Road, at half past seven A. M., to connect at Newmarket Junction with the train from the east on the first named road.

Receiving accessions on the road, we entered Haverhill with nine full car loads of live stock (holders). Passing between two long rows of shoe-stores, redolent with the perfume of new leather, we at last reached the Eagle Hotel, the only public house in the place.

The stockholders proceeded to the Town Hall, on the opposite side of the street from the "Eagle." Here was considerable spouting and blowing, ending, however, as you are already aware, in the election of the old Board of Directors.

Regardless of the interests of the road, and bent only on our own gratification, we proceeded to walk up the hill to view the place. Down the hill came a horse with a light buggy and no driver. He just grazes a chaise; and now he strikes a heavy wood wagon, overthrows the buggy, breaking both shafts, cross bar, dasher and seat, freeing himself from the wreck, and falling heavily on the sidewalk, and starting the old horse with the wood cart—but he was stopped without damage.

This was all the object of interest we saw in Haverhill. In the afternoon a few of us crossed the Merrimack to Bradford, which we found to equal Haverhill in interest to the stranger. Here we met the Mayor of Strawberry Bank, who had come on to revisit the arena of his school days.

But our troubles now began. Instead of taking the regular train, and so connecting with the down train on the P. & C. road, ten or a dozen of us got into the extra train, and on our arrival at the Junction, were pleased to learn that we had an opportunity to "foot it" about a dozen miles.

Five of us performed the perilous journey, after having visited, by invitation, Mr. J. H. Diman's beautiful Highland Cottage at Stratham, where he kindly furnished us refreshments. From Mr. Diman's to R. Hilton's store in Islington street, was crawled over in one hour and fifty-five minutes! which we considered so good time for a nine mile's walk, that we went in and partook of Richard's cool beer.

And in our litany you may find this addition: "And from all trips to Haverhill, (especially when we have to walk back), good Lord deliver us."

I see your friend Veritas rather censures me for writing of a quarrel in the Upper House at Exeter, and intimating that it is no one's business out of the place. Perhaps he is not aware that a row in a church is as bad as a row in a rum-shop, and just as much public property. Yours, ION.

The reason of Lieut. Maffit's sending the captain of the slaver Echo back to Charleston was that he supposed the law required his trial there. He should have left him at Key West, as the law requires his trial at the port where the Dolphin first touched after his capture.—Boston Journal.

Punch, speaking of the advantage of the Atlantic Telegraph, hopes "that the American sea serpent will not rudely intervene, and be scaly enough to snap those ties assunder."

DIED,

Funeral this (Saturday) morning, at 9 o'clock, from St. John's Church.

In this city, at the Mariner's House, Friday 10th inst., Mr. Duncan McNorton, aged 28, a native of Greenock, Scotland.

In Hindapore, Hindoostan, Thomas E. Randall, aged 17, of the 26 Naval Brigade, son of the late Wm. Randall of this city.

In Epping, Sept. 6, Gen. Joseph Towle, aged 70. Gen. Towle was one of the prominent men in the county. In the war of 1812 he commanded, for six months, a company stationed for the defence of our harbor and town. He subsequently, when the frontier was in a state of distraction, became Major General of this Division of the N. H. Militia. Late in life he held, for five years, the office of High Sheriff of Rockingham County. He was a faithful and acceptable public officer, and an honorable, benevolent and upright man.

In New Ipswich, Edward M. Isaacs, aged 40.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

This distressing and mortifying nervous affection is left generally either to take its natural course, or is treated on general principles with very little success. The nervous symptoms are not the disease itself, and proceed from functional or organic derangement in the nervous centres. No medicine has been found equal to the PERUVIAN SYRUP, in checking the involuntary nervous tremblings known as St. Vitus's Dance.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rum sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRIKTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st; R. LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the purest and most effectual cosmetic for pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? for Sale Everywhere.

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he has urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are sanctioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THAYER, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. ☞ Those of our business men who are scared at the idea of paying fifty or a hundred dollars a year for Advertising, would do well to take a few lessons from the proprietor of the panorama now exhibiting here. Why he, no doubt, pays three times more to advertise his exhibition, in one way and another, than for all his other expenses together. And he knows it pays, too—for he has tried the business many a year, with good success. The day is coming, and has already come to some—when a man will be considered green who does not pay as much for advertising as for store rent. We don't say this especially on our own account, for the Chronicle has about as much advertising as we can accommodate, as our columns show.

THE SHOALS.

Correspondence of the Newburyport Herald.

ISLES OF SHOALS, Sept. 6.

The bell again notifies the visitors, that dinner is awaiting their appreciating appetites. There is no summons that a man obeys with so much alacrity as the summons to dinner, and one would suppose from the rapidity with which some of our company are making towards the hotel, that "Their various cares in one great point combine

The business of their lives—that is, to dine."

On entering the dining room, we find some thirty men busily engaged in discussing the smoking sirloin, et ceteras, "for finer or fatter, ne'er ranged in a forest or smoked in a platter." Byron says that happiness for man must depend on dinner, and as this meal, like the preceding ones, was faultless, perfect happiness abounded.—The afternoon, like the forenoon, was spent in visiting the various objects of attraction. These islands, seven in all, forming the extreme outpost of the State of New Hampshire, are situated about S. S. E. from Portsmouth Harbor in the open sea.—Their names are—Star Island, on which is situated the village of Gosport, which contains the church edifice, and two hotels, the Gosport House and Atlantic House; White Island, on which there is a lighthouse containing a revolving light, which can be seen at at a distance of twenty-five miles; Smutty Nose Island contains a deserted hotel and a few dwelling houses, together with the only wharf where vessels can approach; Hog Island is the largest and most fertile, and owned by Mr. Laighton, the proprietor of the Appledore House; then there is Cedar Island, Duck Island, and the Londoner. These islands were discovered by the celebrated John Smith, and were called by him "Smith's Isles." This name was changed previous to 1629, since, in the deed of the Indian Sagamores to Wheelwright and others of that year, they are called the Isles of Shoals. In appearance they are dreary and inhospitable, and would probably have been uninhabited, but for their favorable situation for carrying on the fisheries. In some seasons, thousands of barrels of mackerel are here taken in seines; together with large quantities of cod, hake and pollock.

Star Island is composed of a coarse variety of granite, having large crystals of white felspar, grey quartz, and but little mica. Intercalated beds of mica slate also occur in the granite. Through the middle of the island runs a large dyke of greenstone trap-rock, in a N.50° E., S.50° W. direction. There is but little soil on the rocks, except in a few places for kitchen gardens for the cultivation of potatoes and a few ordinary vegetables. Hog Island is composed mostly of mixed slate-rocks, and has a thin covering of soil, but is not cultivated to any extent. Duck Island is composed of granite and gneiss rocks. The Island took its name from the abundance of sea fowl which frequented its shores, to deposit their eggs on the rocks or among the grass. The Islands possesses but little to interest the geologist. Huge chasms are to be seen in the rocks, several yards wide and from one to thirty feet deep, occasioned, as some suppose, by a violent earthquake.

In some places, acres of rocks are partially severed, and through the fissures thus formed the sea at high tides and in storms rushes in torrents. At one of these fissures which we saw upon Star Island, a young lady a few years since, while she sat musing upon and watching the heavy surges of the sea as they rolled and roared through the chasm, was taken off by a heavy sea, and with a bubbling groan, unknelled, uncoffined, she sank into the foaming billows never more to rise until awakened by Gabriel's trump at the resurrection.

The Shoals were occupied at a very early date, and soon became places of note and resort. In 1661 they were inhabited by upwards of forty families. In 1730 several ships were loaded with fish at these Island, for Bilboa in Spain; besides large quantities were taken to Portsmouth to be shipped to the West Indies. Their dun fish was considered the best table fish in the world. The population in 1775 was about six hundred, whose only pursuit was fishing; between three and four thousand quintals were annually caught. The war of the revolution produced a disastrous change. A large proportion of the inhabitants abandoned their homes and took up their abode on the main land, and never returned. They also suffered greatly in the Indian wars, plunder excursions were frequent, and many females were carried into captivity. A chasm in the rocks, where, according to tradition, one Betty Moody concealed herself during an Indian incursion, is still shown to strangers and known as "Betty Moody's hole."

Poor as they were in everything but the products of the ocean, they were still plundered by the infamous Low and other pirates who infested this coast, and were disturbed in their pursuits by visits from the French, who captured their boats and shallops. We were informed of a singular fact that occured soon after the settlement of the islands. A house on Smutty Nose Island was washed from its foundations in a storm, and carried entire to Cape Cod, where it was secured, and a discovery made of its port of departure by opening a box containing linen, papers, &c.

Among the many anecdotes preserved of the inhabitants, it is related that prior to 1647 the Court had ordained that "no woman should live upon the Isle of Shoals," and that one John Reynolds, utterly disregarding the ordinance, carried his wife there with the intention of living with her. Two old bachelors by the name of Richard Cutt and Cutting, who did not agree with the poet Moore—

"O woman, dear woman! whose form and whose soul
Are the light and the life of each shell we pursue,
Whether sunned in the tropics or chilled at the pole,
If woman be there, there is happiness too."

Therefore these old fossils, in a petition to the government, complained of this breach of the ordinance, and were further grieved by the introduction by the said Reynolds of "a great quantity of goats and hogs,"—and prayed to be relieved of the several nuisances, consisting of Mrs. Reynolds, and the goats and swine. The Court, after considering the petition, ordered said Reynolds to move his goats and hogs to the main land, within twenty days, and allow Mrs. Reynolds to enjoy the company of her husband, provided no other complaint was made. HEPSIDAM.

AN EXCELLENT PAPER is the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette—one of the best Weeklies in the land—large, beautifully printed, and most ably and judiciously edited. The contents are varied and valuable, and never include anything objectionable. To Portsmouth readers, particularly, the Gazette offers especial attractions. Our own Shillaber is one of the editors—and besides the rich contributions of his humorous pen, of universal interest—each year the paper contains local allusions to Portsmouth history and men, sufficient to richly repay our citizens for giving it a good list. Mr. Morse will furnish it, or it may be had by mail.

The American and Republican State Conventions which have been in session at Syracuse, N. Y., failed to unite upon a ticket after having mutually agreed upon a platform. The Americans appear to have taken umbrage at the free discussion in which the Republicans indulged, and declined to carry out the arrangement which had been made for a division of the State ticket. Probably the ticket will be adjusted before, the election, as the feeling is very strong in favor of union.—Boston Journal.

THE OLD CELLAR.

A Tale of Olden Time.

BY B. F. SHILLABER.

Such is the title of a new story to be contained in the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, for Saturday, Sept. 11. The scene of the tale is laid in Portsmouth, N. H., and whether the incidents described are historically correct or not, we will leave others to determine; but of one thing we are certain,—the OLD CELLAR was there, which will be undoubtedly remembered by all Portsmouth boys, until ten years ago, when it became a victim to the spirit of improvement, which entirely eradicated this remainder of a remote period. A mystery, impenetrable to the young habitues of the spot, hung over it.

The Old Cellar had no story or legend revealing the reason or the use of its existence, although it was a frequent cause for wonder. There was a vague and indefinite hint that the cellar was dug by a man who went to sea and never came back, but no one gave it heed, and the matter has remained in obscurity until now, when the present story, through a mystical channel, comes to the enlightenment of all interested.

The interest of the tale is not merely local. It is of the early day, and reveals a plot of treachery, reasonable love, necessary misapprehension, an interesting abduction, prompt restoration, the discomfiture of guilt, and the triumph of virtue! It it no thrilling or blood-curdling tale, but flows as evenly as the waters of the placid creek, on whose borders its scenes were enacted. The grave character of its author is a sufficient guaranty for the absence of frivolity in its scope.

It will be sold at wholesale, by box, or by retail, to suit purchasers.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do not hesitate to assert that IT'S EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Boards, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing forced upon their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do not candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the most, like the Atlantic Cable, to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your Houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

This Patent Strip is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "one plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties attending others. It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices are putting to Dropry Japan Finish, 91 to each. Price $10.00, $2.50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, that eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be of those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, making you look more than half her charms. Ayer's Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

New York, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the extraordinary restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative at a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, truly yours,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryeh a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or two ago I purchased one bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color; but to her and my surprise, after using a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time heal the disease and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CANDIE.

New York, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Restorative my hair, which was quite gray, has all were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and any unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIRT.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative according to directions, and it soon caused my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is perfectly restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to me to all. J. D. HOBS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds 1 pint, the medium holds 1 pint and a half, and at least 50 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the system, and a preventive of Cholera. One bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

The Gums are so mild, yet so powerful, giving relief in the most obstinate cases of Liver Inflammation.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chills and Fevers, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, giving no nausea or griping, but leaving no wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony to its wonderful virtues.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of females in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the hideous inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints to a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invidiable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of females which have been inoperably treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number now enjoy good health, as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing strangers.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with other pretended remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are universally acknowledged to be a superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some specious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery of Samuel Sloan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as those present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the Constitution of Samuel Sloan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all ticket holders.

BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are now the popular panacea for the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain, in the side, restoring health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with punctuality, AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that notwithstanding the well known CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their great everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NILL and VOID; that is to say, if in one case NO BENEFIT be taken any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confined myself, as heretofore, to those only who enter the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—eS 6m

☞ Orders solicited and promptly attended to.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1858.

☞ Mr. De Saty, the electrician in charge of the Atlantic Telegraph at Trinity Bay, declines to make any statement relative to the cable, for publication, beyond the positive assurance to the Agent of the Associated Press, that there are only temporary difficulties of an electrical nature, and there is no reason whatever for the rumor that the cable has parted.

☞ Rev. Charles Beecher, the youngest of the family, settled over a parish at Georgetown, is accused in the Puritan Recorder of uttering several heresies from his pulpit, one of which is, that the sinner may repent and God may forgive him in the future life. He is also opposed to the use of creeds, believing that they tend to suppress inquiry and the consequent intelligent comprehension of the truth, and he inclines to his brother Edward's doctrine of pre-existence.

Boys and Horses.—A work has just appeared in England, entitled: "What is a Boy? and what to do with him?" By Thomas Morrill Blackie. The book is an appeal to all instructors of youth, to consult the bent of a boy's mind in imparting instruction, to abstain from the frequent use of the rod, to associate with his pupils in their hours of recreation, to lend his countenance to their sports and diversions—in fact, to become unto them what Mr. Rarey is to the horse.

Horse Exhibition at Springfield.—The National Horse Show at Springfield, which commences on Tuesday next, is to be a grand affair, and opens under more auspicious circumstances than did any of the previous ones. Six Governors of the States are to be present, including Gov. Banks, and Gov. King of New York. Edward Everett is to deliver an oration.—Ethan Allen and Young Rattler are among the horses entered. There are, at the present time, three hundred entries.

Rebuilding the Hospitals at Quarantine.—The commissioners of health are about to raise $300,000 for rebuilding of the hospitals. Some half dozen obnoxious individuals were burnt in effigy by the Staten Island mob. An attacked was anticipated by the police who were prepared for it. They were not needed, however, as no other disturbance than as above noted occurred. The Roman candles fired off by the crowd attracted attention on board the frigate Sabine, and 100 men were sent ashore.

☞ The guns of the frigate Sabine are kept shotted day and night, and everything is ready for instant action on board, in hopes that the mob will do something which may justify a broadside.

☞ Col. Sayles, Agent of the Post Office Department, from Arizona, reports the existence of a very lawless state of things in that country—the pistol and the bowie knife being the only law recognized. Indian depredations were frequent. Colonel Sayles speaks favorably of the mineral resources of the territory, but deems the annexation of Sonora of the utmost importance to their successful development.

☞ A collision on the Old Colony Railroad took place at Bridgewater, on Friday, between a freight and cattle train, and a passenger train. On the latter, the engineer and fireman were thrown out and considerably injured, though they were able to walk after a few minutes. Their names are J. Simmons and Andrew Berkley. The passengers were much jostled about and thrown from their seats, but none were materially hurt, though they were generally much frightened. In the cattle cars on the freight train which was struck, quite a commotion ensued, and several of the cattle were killed.

☞ Two ladies, Maria Hunter of Newry and Mary Jane Morrison of Derryhale, were killed on board the Shamrock screw steamer on the 28th ult., while on a pleasure trip from Portadown to Lough Neagh. The unfortunate ladies' dresses having become entangled in the machinery, they were virtually cut to pieces before assistance could be rendered.

☞ In Cincinnati, on Monday, a little girl three years of age swallowed a copper cent of the old coinage. The child suffered considerable pain, but all efforts to remove the cent by cathartics or emetics proved unavailing. The following afternoon, however, the coin was skillfully taken from the stomach by a physician, by the use of an instrument inserted in the mouth.

A Malicious Hoax.—Some of our country cotemporaries have been sadly and wickedly hoaxed by a telegraph operator, who has had the bad taste to send a message that Mr. Smith, formerly proprietor of the Sea View House, had confessed, on his death-bed, that he murdered Moses, the bar-keeper, for whose death Donnelly was executed. We deem it our duty to say that the whole story is a base fabrication, as stupid as malicious. Mr. Smith is alive and well, and at his place of business in this city.—New York News.

Bad taste, truly! to charge a man with murder who is not guilty. The perpetrator ought to go to the State Prison, if there is law enough to send him there,—or to be tarred and feathered if there is no law.

The Captured Slaver.—On Thursday the U. S. brig Dolphin arrived at Boston, having on board the supposed captain of the captured slaver "Echo." He was transferred to the Boston Jail, and on Friday was brought before U. S. Commissioner C. W. Loring for examination.

J. N. Maffit, Lieutenant commanding the Dolphin, was the only witness examined. At the conclusion of the testimony, the prisoner was remanded to jail until the 21st inst., when a further examination will be held.

Capt. Townsend is an extremely good looking man, about thirty-five years of age. He gives no indication of where he belongs, and even his Christian name is unknown.

The "Echo" negroes were purchased on the west coast of Africa at from 50 cents to $1 a piece, and, costing scarcely more than $10 or $15 to be delivered on the coast of Cuba, were all to be sold by contract, at $560 all round, or one hundred and seventy-five thousand nine hundred and eighty dollars ($177,980) for the cargo.

Firemen's Muster at Worcester.—On Thursday fifty-two companies were present. The prizes were all taken by Massachusetts companies, thus:—E. Hopkins, Woodville, 180 feet; Rescue, Grafton, 162 feet; Blackstone, Grafton, 161 feet; Pacific, Chicopee, 161 feet; Quinsigamond, Shrewsbury, 160 feet; Niagara, Lynn, 158 feet. The height of stream of the several companies from New Hampshire was thus:—Torrent, Manchester, 151; Manchester, Manchester, 150; Massabesic, Manchester, 130 feet; Neptune, of Keene, 142; Protector, of Nashua, 140. There was much drunkenness and rowdyism.

☞ The British House of Commons, have been investigating some portions of the Coolie Trade, and have published some damaging disclosures about the ship John Calhoun, Capt. Thornhill, which lost 111 Coolies and 11 of his crew by "dysentery, anasarca, and from the effects of opium."

☞ The Yazoo (Miss.) Banner contains an advertisement stating that two of Senator Douglas's negroes were confined in Yazoo County Jail. They had run away from the plantation of Mr. Douglas, in Washington County, Miss.

☞ A barn belonging to Robert W. Hovey, in Londonderry, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday afternoon, with all its contents, consisting of a horse, hog, calf, and from six to eight tons of hay. The fire is supposed to have been set by a boy playing with matches.

Horses Killed by Eating Rusted Oats.—A Canada paper says that a gentleman recently turned five horses into a field of rusted oats, and they were all found dead next morning. Rust is supposed to be caused by a very minute insect which lives on the juice of the straw, and the rust is its poisonous secretions.

☞ Walter Savage Landor, the celebrated English poet, has been convicted at Bristol, of a series of atrocious and disgusting libels upon a lady of Bath, named Yescombe, who though formerly a friend, had offended him. He was mulcted in damages £1000 and costs. He is in his dotage.

☞ A Halifax paper says that a tinsmith of that place is building a wherry to contest the championship at a coming regatta. It is constructed of tin, the framework merely being of wood, and is eighteen feet in length, and two feet broad in the centre.

☞ "Did I hurt you?" asked a lady the other day, when she trod on a man's corns.

"No, madam, I thank you, seeing it is you. If it were anybody else I'd holler murder."

THE SHOALS.

A correspondent of the Newburyport Herald, dating at the Isles of Shoals, Sept. 6th, says:

Considerable merriment was occasioned at the table by the voracious appetite of an invalid, who was restricted by his attending physician to beef tea, of which he had partaken freely, but the invigorating air had so much improved his system that he was enabled to dispose of one chicken, sundry fish balls, with numerous side dishes.

The temperature at the Shoals does not much vary: the average is 60 degrees, seldom higher than 62, seldom lower than 58. So remarkably healthy are the inhabitants of these sea-girt isles, that the services of a physician are rarely needed. We are informed—but will not vouch for the accuracy of the statement—that the inhabitants seldom die a natural death—that after attaining 90 or 100 years of age, they begin to fade, dry up, wither and decay, until their whole animal economy has become powder-posted, and their remains are scattered to the four winds of heaven. Considering the difficulty of grave-digging on these barren rocks, such a disposition seems a very judicious one.

The following anecdote is related during the ministry of the Rev. Mr. Brock. The fishermen were induced by him to enter into an agreement to spend one week-day in every month in religious worship. Once, however, when a day thus set apart occurred, they desired him to postpone the meeting, because the weather, which a number of days previous had been too boisterous to allow them to visit the fishing grounds, had then become moderate. To this request he assented.

Finding that they were determined to make up their lost time, he addressed them as follows:—"If you are resolved to neglect your duty to God, and will go away, I say unto you, catch fish if you can; but as for you who will tarry and worship the Lord, I will pray unto him for you, that you may catch fish until you are weary." Of the thirty-five to whom this address was made, thirty went to the fishing ground, and five remained with their spiritual adviser. The thirty caught but four haddock, though they labored all day; while the five who followed at the conclusion of the religious services, caught five hundred codfish! After this, says his biography, the week-day meeting was well attended.

On another occasion, a poor fisherman, who had been very useful in carrying persons who attended meeting across from island to island, and who had lost his boat in a storm, on making his loss known to the worthy pastor, "Go home, honest man," was the reply, "I will mention the matter to the Lord; you will have your boat again to-morrow!" On the next day, in answer to earnest prayer, the man recovered his boat, which was brought up from the bottom by the anchor of a vessel cast upon it without design."

While Rev. Mr. Moody was officiating at the islands, a fishing shallop with all on board was lost in a gale in Ipswich bay. Mr. Moody, anxious to improve the melancholy event for the awakening of those of his hearers who were exposed to the like disaster, put home the case in language adapted to their occupation and understanding thus—"Supposing my friends, any of you should be caught in the bay in a northeast storm, your hearts trembling with fear and nothing but death before you, whither would your thoughts turn?—what would you do?" "What would I do?" replied a fisherman, "why, I should hoist the foresail and scud away for Squam." To the uninitiated who are unacquainted with the location, we would state that Squam harbor lies on the north side of Cape Ann, and was a noted place for shelter for small craft when in the position supposed by Mr. Moody.

It is related of a Capt. Smith, of Newburyport, that some fifty years ago he sailed from home in a schooner bound for the West Indies. The vessel was a very dull sailer; and after a lapse of some three weeks, during which time he had been unable to get an observation, he made the Isles of Shoals. The supercargo was informed that these were the West India group. The boat was lowered, and the vessel's agent proceeded on shore to dispose of her cargo. He soon returned, however, well satisfied that he had been sold if the cargo had not.

Suicide.—Edward Tucker, the engineer of the train of cars on the New Haven Railroad that went through the draw bridge at Norwalk some five years since, causing terrible loss of life, has committed suicide, by bleeding. He leaves a wife and family at Troy.

A carpenter had been for some time repairing a dwelling house whose mistress is a reputed termagant. Listening to her as she vented her wrath on her good-natured "old man," the other day, Shavings turned to a bystander and seriously said; "If I had such a wife as that, I'd 'point her funeral to-morrow 't two o'clock—and by Jocks, the corpse would be ready!"

☞ Refrain from bitter words; there is only the difference of a letter between words and swords.

Cincinnati, Sept. 11.—The Steubenville and Cincinnati express train going West on the Steubenville, Cincinnati and Indiana road, ran through the bridge Friday evening, thirteen miles west of Steubenville. A messenger who has just come in reports that the whole train, which was filled with passengers, went down. A train has been despatched to the scene of the disaster to render all possible assistance.

"There are many devils that walk this world,
Devils great and devils small,
Devils with tails and devils without;"
Devils who whisper, devils who shout,
Devils who mystify, devils who teach;
But the Calumny Devil—as hard to reach
As the snail who, now safe on some distant beech,
Is digesting the core of my favorite peach—
Is the shabbiest devil of all!—[Dickens.

"Settle up"—"Pay your way"—it's all very well
For a Randolph or Astor to say it;
But if they had a bill, and nought in the till,
They'd be bothered (as many a good-looking fellow has been and will be again)—to pay it.

The Why.—Messrs. Editors:—We can explain the inquiry of the Bath Times to our own satisfaction, if not to his. We think the reason the clergy are so much more constant at Sabbath meetings, than their beef-eating hearers, is, that they have from ten to sixty dollars for going; and you would not find your humble servant at home on a rainy, or any other Sunday, could he get the lowest of those prices,—it would be perfectly satisfactory. Speaking of beef-eating men and corn-fed women,—my dear sirs, the New England clergymen will compare as a whole with any equal number of beef-eating laymen, saying nothing about their corn-fed wives. It is not so much the fear of getting cold, as it is of hearing a sermon that will put us to sleep, after a hearty beef dinner, that keeps us from church. You will oblige me, Mr. Chronicle, if you will give our explanation to the Bath Times, and ask him if he is satisfied. A Beef Eater.

Crops at the West.—The Detroit Tribune of Wednesday last has the following:

"The market is somewhat less active today. Most buyers are disposed to wait until it is known what effect the Canada's news will have upon the market. For the past few month's such 'little matters' as the foreign markets have been wholly ignored; but as the evidences that there is actually a surplus in the country begin to multiply, dealers talk seriously of returning to 'first principles.' The reaction in the New York Market—the decline of 18 cents yesterday in wheat in Chicago, and the receipts of over a quarter of a million bushels of grain at the latter port the same day, all tend to prove that the 'local scarcity' game is well nigh played out, and buyers are inclined to pause."

Sabbath Schools Illegal at the South. In Richmond, Va., on Sunday, upwards of ninety negroes were arrested by order of the Mayor, at the Leigh Street Baptist African Church, where they had assembled to receive instructions as Sabbath School Scholars! The negroes, after being reprimanded by the Mayor, were discharged.—"The Mayor, according to the Richmond Dispatch, is disposed to give a very sharp construction to the laws of the State relative to the instruction of negroes. He is "not at all satisfied that Sabbath Schools, even where negroes are taught orally, come under the head of religious worship; and as he believes that such assemblages lead to others of a worse character, will not be apt to yield his opinion, unless overruled by the Court of Appeals." The conduct of the Mayor, we learn from the same source, does not meet with unanimous support from the citizens, there being some who believe that he has transcended his powers.

Revival of the Slave Trade.—The Charleston Courier of the 4th inst. has a manly and outspoken article against reviving the slave trade. It makes the assumption that a revival of the slave trade is impracticable under our existing Constitution and legislation, and in the present state of public sentiment throughout the Union. But if it were practicable, our Charleston contemporary would set his face against it: 1. because it is inhuman and brutalizing: 2. it would deteriorate, barbarize, and heathenize, or supersede, our now civilized and Christian slaves; 3. it would brutalize ourselves; 4. it would abolitionize the border Slave States; 5. it would ruinously impair the value of slaves; 6. it would fill Northern pockets at the expense of Southern interests; 7. the very agitation of the question is calculated to distract and divide the South. Here are seven very good reasons for not opening the slave trade, to which the editor adds an eighth to the effect that "we are happy to say that our views are in concurrence with those of most of the leading men and minds of the State and the South."

☞ The Portland Advertiser says the mackerel-men begin to come in, but generally with slim fares. The fish are plenty, but they obstinately refuse to be caught.

☞ The city's bill for the funeral of Alderman Murray, in New York, was $672, of which $138 were for drinks on the road to and from the cemetery.

☞ The sugar crop of Louisiana is estimated, provided the weather hereafter proves favorable, at three hundred and fifty thousand hogsheads.

To the Citizens of New Hampshire.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, CALCULI, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "vastly superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None Other is Imported.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THIS Delicate Cosmetic is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics; it not only treates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from coming out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. We never knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it! For Sale Everwhere.

MUSIC AT ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

Some time since, your correspondent, "Rockingham," called the attention of those in charge of music at the coming Rockingham County Fair, to the propriety of employing some one or more of the very respectable Bands in our County to furnish the music on that occasion, and thus make the affair more strictly a home one. It is therefore with regret that I see, that the suggestion of your correspondent, (which met the approval of many prominent members of the Society) has been entirely disregarded, and the bills which announce the Fair, also notify us that the Germania Band of Boston will be in attendance.

Primarily we suppose the object of these Fairs, is to incite an interest and improvement in agricultural objects, but the liberal premiums which are awarded for mechanical and miscellaneous articles, attest that it is the object of the Society to foster all the improvements and interests of the county. That the people of the County deem the organization and encouragement of Bands in their midst, as an object worthy of their attention, is evident from the very liberal support which the several towns have extended them.

Your citizens honored our last national anniversary with an elegant show, and very judiciously employed native musical talent.—Unlike the managers of the County Fair, you were under no obligations so to do; but the people of the County manifested their appreciation of your action, by attending in large numbers.

Nor, Messrs. Editors, have I ever heard any complaint of the music you provided on that occasion. Indeed, it was pronounced by all, the most attractive feature of the celebration. But Exeter, with a selfishness peculiarly her own, has ignored this interest of the County. The ears of her people are more fastidious than those of your citizens—forsooth, because they are longer; and the treasury of our county association must be depleted, to build up Boston interests, and tickle the ears polite of our excellent Exeter friends. I hope the music of the Germanians—excellent as it undoubtedly is—will on that day tickle the ears of none others.

But, Messrs. Editors, this is not an unusual action for Exeter. Has she not always been thus liberal in expending the money of the county? Let the two public buildings recently erected there answer.—And have not her citizens always been the recipients of public favor? Let her Members of Congress, and Judges, and Attorney Generals answer.

Yes, Messrs. Editors, when favors are to be granted by the people of the County, she has been the first to assert her claim to them; but when to be reciprocated,—like our City Cousins of a Summer,—she has forgotten us. When will she learn "to wear her honors meekly," and cease to make the other towns in the County drawers of water and hewers of stone?"

HOME MADE.

Epping, Sept. 11th.

☞ We publish this morning a rather singular communication respecting our County Fair. The leading idea of the writer, "Encourage your own," is commendable: but the article is written rather bitter style, and hardly in the tone which becomes a public journalist.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

Rockingham County, at Exeter, Sept. 22d and 23d. New Hampshire State, at Dover, Oct. 6th, 7th, and 8th.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting on Sabbath Morning, Sept. 19th, is to be held at the Old South Church,—to commence at ringing of first bells. C. R.

☞ Hon. Neal Dow will lecture in this city, on the subject of Temperance, next Wednesday evening, at the Temple.

☞ The Manchester Mirror states that a young man was arrested in Concord, for obtaining goods under false pretences. It appeared that a party on trial the past week, for the illegal sale of liquor, secured this young man to get a pint of R. G. at the City Agency, for chemical purposes, but the sequel shows that it was obtained to get a witness tight, summoned by the prosecution. The critter was sent by a third person who instead of delivering, made a deposit, and brought up in the lobby.

There is no depth of meanness to which such a trade does not sink men.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—At the municipal election held at Leavenworth on the 6th great excitement prevailed, but no serious disturbance occured. L. B. Dedman, Free State Democrat, was elected by about 200 majority. Lyman Scott, Republican and Know Nothing, and Adams Fisher, Republican, were opposing candidates.

From Utah.—The Salt Lake mail has arrived at St. Louis, and was twenty one days en route.

The Mormons were orderly, and the government officials were attending to their business. As soon as Associate Judges arrived, the trials of treason would commence. No arrests had yet been made.—The Indians were very troublesome about the city, and had killed several of the Mormons. One family was massacred while moving South.

Dr. Forney, Indian Agent, was out among the tribes making treaties, and has thus far been successful. Engineers are locating the four posts on the western division of the mail route.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine materials which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Gale and Frost of the Pitch and other Compositions heretofore used. He succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully satisfied of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS QUALITIES ARE NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and good as when first put on, without change or decay.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM.

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye ever so sparkling, the teeth be white or pearly, if the head be covered by the scaly, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two, or, three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you how delightfully under the influence of the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, since the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative, it has soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

"DRESDANS GARTENDIDUT."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 17, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Some months or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative, and for a few days I followed the directions for it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color; but to my well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has produced that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I can therefore fully recommend your Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were quite gray, have regained their proper dark, and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness which is so common among persons of my age. Respectfully yours, J. G. KNIZ.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling out, and continuously I kept fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative, and it has kept my hair from falling. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It has now left off falling, and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOIS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz.—large medium, and small; the small holds a gill, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounded by their friends in the judicious use of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, I would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say, that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated, and consequently have grown under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated at a distance by advice of Dr. DIX, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing inspection.

Remember in Sending Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of your health, that is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue to regulating all those irregularities to which female is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, and better call on the Dr. at the office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills are sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. ly2 dly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to conduct their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They refer to the public for opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers will respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A Schedule will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. Parties may rely upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

The following prizes are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Savannah, Georgia.

IF A Card from Dr James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confining myself, as heretofore, to those only who enter the Infirmary or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address
JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.
P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s8 6m

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1858.

ANCIENT AND MODERN EMPIRES.—Blackwood's Magazine, with all its conservative principles, mingled as they are with doctrines that are now regarded as politically effete, often condenses into brief space many interesting and historical matters that are alike agreeable and instructive to the general reader. Among these interesting papers we find a reference to the Roman Empire and its military forces, and a comparison with similar elements in modern kingdoms. According to the estimates before us, Russia surpasses Rome in extent of territory, and contains an army considerably more numerous. France and Austria rank next to Russia in the number of their standing armies; could bring singly into the field a much larger force than the whole Roman Empire.

The military force of the Pagan Empire is here estimated at 450,000 men; the Christian monarchies of France and Austria, are each of them reputed to maintain an army of 650,000 men, and when we reflect upon the invention of gunpowder, and the enormous force of artillery, it is evident that any one of the first rate powers of modern Europe could bring into to the field a destructive force that would sweep from the face of the earth the thirty legions of Adrian.

The very division of Europe into a number of States, involves this increase of soldiery. In the old Roman Empire the great Mediterranean Sea lay as peaceful as a lake, and the Roman ships had nothing to dread but the winds and waves; whereas in Modern Europe many quite artificial boundaries have to be guarded by an army of soldiers. "Belgium defends her flats with 100,000 men, and the marshes of Holland are secured by 60,000 Dutch."—Hitherto everything has tended to develop the military power in Christendom.

☞ The philosophy which affects to teach us a contempt of money, does not run very deep; for, indeed, it ought to be still more clear to the philosopher than it is to the ordinary man, that there are few things of greater importance. And so manifold are the bearings of money upon the lives and character of mankind, that an insight which would search out the life of a man in his pecuniary relations, would penetrate into almost every cranny of his nature.

He who knows, like St. Paul, both how to spare, and to abound, has a great knowledge; for if we take account of all the virtues with which money is mixed up—honesty, justice, generosity, charity, frugality, forethought, self-sacrifice, and of their correlative vices, it is a knowledge which goes near to cover the length and breadth of humanity; and a right measure and manner in getting, saving, spending, giving, taking, lending, borrowing, and bequeathing, would almost argue a perfect man.

☞ The sweetest singing birds are not generally the most beautiful, nor, according to the New York Express, can our best singers boast of their good looks. Speaking of the chorus of the New York Academy at the debut of Mme. Gassier, it says: "The chorus looked natural; there were the fat woman and the thin one, the tall one and the short one, and the one with the corkscrew curls; and all the ugly ones, which includes the whole troupe."

YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS.—A dispatch at the Merchants' Exchange, dated New Orleans, Sept. 11, P M, states the deaths from yellow fever in that city for twenty-four hours ending at noon Friday, were eighty-five, being equal to the worst day of the season. The deaths in the charity Hospital to 6 P M, Saturday, were 12; being a decrease of eight as compared with Friday.

BEQUESTS TO ANDOVER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—At the late Semi-Centennial anniversary of this Seminary, the Treasurer, Rev. J. L. Taylor, presented the following statement of facts respecting its endowment. There has been given for this purpose, by

Madame Phillips and Son,	$ 20,000
Samuel Abbott,	110,000
William Bartlett,	160,000
Moses Brown,	35,000
John Norris & wife, of Salem,	40,000
William Phillips,	10,000
Miss Waldo, of Worcester,	15,000
S H Hitchcock, (recently)	15,000
From other sources,	45,000

Making a total of $450,000. If to this be added the endowment of Phillips' Academy, we have the sum of $550,000, contributed to sustain the Institutions of Learning and Religion on Andover hill.

DEATH FROM FRIGHT.—A young lady, the daughter of Mr. Haywood, a gardener of John Jacob Astor, Jr., of Esopus, N. Y., died on Tuesday. The governess of Mr. Astor's children and the daughter of his gardener were in a wagon driven to Poughkeepsie, by his hired man, an Irishman. While they were at Poughkeepsie the Irishman got drunk; and on their way home, he became unable to keep his seat, and fell out of the wagon. The governess then caught hold of the reins and drove on. The Irishman followed, begging to be allowed to get into the wagon. After going a short distance, the governess consented to stop the wagon and allow the Irishman to get in, on condition that he would not attempt to drive. After he had got in the wagon, he took up the whip and commenced plying it upon the horse. The animal commenced going at high speed, and partially upset the wagon.—The Irishman and the governess fell out; the other lady remained in the wagon, and was carried away rapidly by the, frightened horse. After she was carried a mile in this way, some one caught the horse and arrested his flight. The young woman, at this juncture, requested him to take her from the wagon, as she was dying. He carried her into a house near by, and she was instantly taken care of; but in a few minutes she breathed her last. It is quite certain that she died from the effects of fright. She was a young lady, some 18 or 19 years of age.

☞ The Emperor Napoleon of France, has had two span of American Trotting Horses in his stables, for a year or more, and so well is he pleased with them, that he has just had three more Vermont three-year olds sent out for the imperial stud. Porter's Spirit well says:—

Though the French Emperor will use these fine animals mainly for show, there are times when he feels it to be wholesome to his safety to be able to command a rapid gait; and it is not out of unreasonable calculation to suppose, that the swiftness of these American trotters may, on some dark occasion, whirl him out of the danger of some ambuscade, or save from capture the Empress and Heir to the House of Bonaparte. There is one good effect that will certainly attend this second imperial importation of American horses, and that will be, to draw the general attention of France to the qualities of this superb breed of roadsters, and to render their introduction fashionable. The horse business of New England may therefore be considered on the rise.

JUVENILE TALES.—Messrs. Shepard, Clark & Brown, publishers, of Boston, are issuing a New Series of Juvenile Books, in volumes of over 300 pages, neatly bound and gilt. We have before us, from the bookstore of J. H. Head, in this city, the first two volumes of the series, viz., Play and Study, and the Motherless Children. Both these are by Mrs. Madeline Leslie. The Motherless Children is a moral tale or novel, with plot and incident, and interest enough to make the reader who begins, go through without a halt. Play and Study is also a tale, but of quite another cast. It details short trials, experiences, and victories over ignorance. All of which is done in a skillful and agreeable style. The other four volumes will be published during the autumn, the titles of which are: Howard and His Teacher; Trying to be Useful; Jack, the Chimney Sweeper; Never Give Up.

YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS.—A dispatch at the Merchants' Exchange, dated New Orleans, Sept. 11, P M, states the deaths from yellow fever in that city for twenty-four hours ending at noon Friday, were eighty-five, being equal to the worst day of the season. The deaths in the charity Hospital to 6 P M, Saturday, were 12; being a decrease of eight as compared with Friday.

NO RESPECT FOR DIGNITARIES.—The Philadelphia Press says—"England and France have just been spending millions in powder and incense and gorgeous receptions to four mortals called Louis Napoleon, Eugenie Montijo, Albert Coburg, and Victoria Guelph, who are just as certain to fall under the shafts of death as the countless unwashed who gaped at the proceedings in wide-mouthed astonishment, and who are not in the least bereft of the frailties of our common humanity."

☞ An English officer writes from India of the taking of a Rajah and the sacking of his palace. They found in the treasure vaults bags containing 320,000 rupees and £80,000 in gold, with jewels estimated at £200,000. Pleasant fighting, when it comes to the palaces.

☞ In Concord, the new Court House, completed about a year since, is receiving a coat of tar, the tin roof having been done in so cheap and careless a manner as to cause leaks. Such carelessness in a building costing $50,000 shows a leak somewhere beside the roof.

MARYLAND.—The Baltimore American says that in looking over its Maryland exchanges, it has been struck by the number of advertisements of runaway slaves. On the border counties especially, this species of property is becoming a very unsafe investment.

BEVERLY, MASS.—Tuesday, the 7th inst., was indeed a gala day in Beverly. The stores were closed, and every one seemed resolved to devote the day to the good cause of temperance. At 10 A. M. the six Bands of Hope assembled in Thorndike street, near the Town Hall, with their officers and banners, the children being decorated with flowers and evergreen.—Franklin Division Sons of Temperance, were out in large numbers, with their simple regalia and beautiful banner, and made a fine appearance. A company of young men on horseback, marshalled by Major Israel W. Wallis, volunteered to do escort duty, and Gilmore's full band performed the music. The procession moved at 10 1-2 o'clock, down Cabot street, and back to the Town Hall. At 11 they marched in procession to Standley's Grove, to spend the day. At one o'clock, 2500 sat down to a bountiful supply of good things, provided by the parents and other friends, and many baskets full of fragments were taken up and distributed to those who did not arrive in season to partake at the table. It was contemplated to have some exercises by the children, but the attempt proved that they could not be heard except by a very few, and this part of the exercises was abandoned, and the time spent in social conversation and rational amusements. The procession left the grove at 5 P. M., and after taking leave of Franklin Division in front of their hall, the band playing one of their best tunes, it was dismissed. There were 4000 persons present.

NEWBURYPORT.—The Sons of Temperance, since their removal to Essex Hall, have been in a highly prosperous condition. Their Division is not a year old yet, and some fifty members have joined it, and as many lady visitors. It is doing very much to confirm and strengthen the temperance feeling of the city, and save the young men from resorting to the use of strong drinks and the haunts of the drinkers.

THE LATE EX-GOV. METCALF.—The Claremont Eagle closes an obituary notice of the late Governor Metcalf with the following remarks:

Gov. M. was distinguished by a sound and comprehensive judgment, and by varied literary and legal acquirements. Modest to a fault before an audience, he was nevertheless, when he chose, a ready and convincing speaker. As a writer, his style was easy, logical and elegant. As a statesman, he was wise and practical. As a neighbor, friend, husband and father, his worth will ever be held in grateful remembrance by those afflicted by his loss.

THE EXTRAVAGANCE OF FASHION.—Says the Paris correspondent of the Philadelphia Gazette:

"I never remember to have seen greater extravagance or more excentricity in toilette than during the past few months.—At the seaside, and the various other watering places of the continent, the whole attire of the ladies is not that of sensible women of the nineteeth century, but gives the idea of the fantastic creations of wild girls of sixteen on a frolic. The hats are so various and so grotesque, the skirts so voluminous, the trimmings and furbelows so profuse, that the eye is now more often offended than gratified by the productions of European milliners and mantua makers."

AN APPARITION.—The Manchester Mirror says:—"The Spiritualists, who have been wont to hold meetings in one of the towns on the southern suburbs of Manchester, were knocked one day last week higher than a kite, by the sudden appearance of a chap, bringing his body along with him, whom they had supposed to be in the spirit-land. They had often called his spirit from the 'vasty deep' to comfort and confirm the faithful, and to astound unbelievers with the marvels of their faith. He had piped for them, sung, danced and fiddled. But he retured, suddenly on his track, not from the spirit-land, but from a four years' whaling voyage, and proved, as he said, more graphically than classically, a 'sticker on 'em.'"

☞ Great numbers of children laboring under hooping cough, now visit the gas works at Preston, Eng., for the purpose of breathing the exhalations from the gas lime. It is said that all the life sufferers feel considerably relieved, and many are absolutely cured by this simple remedy.

☞ The Washington Union, in an argument deprecating the support of Douglas because he is a better Democrat than Lincoln, says "Sumner was a Democrat of ability, intelligence, and very sound views on every political question but that of slavery." Stick a pin there.

☞ At Rome a short time ago, a mischievous boy, amused at the vast crinoline worn by a lady, contrived to set fire to it as she was crossing the Piazza della Carrette. The poor lady was dreadfully burned, and expired the next day.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.

Steamship Star of the West, bringing California dates to the 20th ult., and nearly $1,700,000 in treasure arrived about 12 o'clock last night.

The California Anti-Lecomptonites have nominated John Curry for Supreme Judge, and the Republicans endorsed the nomination. The Lecomptonites nominated J. G. Baldwin. The Auties had also nominated the Hon. Joseph C. McKibben and W. L. Dudley of Calvaseras for Congress.

Advices from Frazer River are to the 14th. The river had fallen and the mines were doing better.

A fire at Sonora on the 5th, destroyed $40,000 worth of property. The Presbyterian church was burned.

The difficulties between Fremont and the Merced Mining Company continue.—The latter refuse to yield possession of their vein, and the men who occupy it insist that they will resist. The guards of the overland mail, which left Placerville July 21st had been killed by the Shoshonees. Their names were Joseph Condi, Charles Conover, Elias Estheredge, and Theodore Barban.

The Democrats of San Francisco held primary election on the 14th. Anti-Lecomptonites elected two-thirds of the delegates.

A number of the troops which arrived in the Golden Gate deserted in citizens' dress. Some were arrested.

Mr R. B. Hampton, a prominent citizen, had been brutally beaten. The assailants were fined.

H. M. Willis, city prosecuting attorney, had resigned in consequence of disreputable conduct in his social relations.

The business portion of Georgetown, El Dorado County, was burnt; loss exceeded $100,000.

A desperate affray had taken place at Peria Bar, Stanilaus River, August 4, between a party of French and Americans, in regard to a mining claim, which resulted in the death of three of the latter, Leonard Shock, Abraham Delevan and Robert Warren, and the wounding of George I. Crooks, Charles McKenney and Roger McClure, Americans. The French were outnumbered in the fight and used guns. The murderers had not been arrested.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, now stored in Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally for the cure of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists and grocers, and a mile North Westerly of Portsmouth village, well divided into pasture, wood, and tillage land, with a boiling spring of water near the dwelling house. He may have liberal wages, or half the farm at a low valuation and long credit for part, to be undivided until otherwise agreed, and then he may have the other half. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, now stored in Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally for the cure of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists and grocers, and a mile North Westerly of Portsmouth village, well divided into pasture, wood, and tillage land, with a boiling spring of water near the dwelling house. He may have liberal wages, or half the farm at a low valuation and long credit for part, to be undivided until otherwise agreed, and then he may have the other half. Such advantageous terms will occur.

Wanted also immediately from the country, for a few months or until next spring, a steady young man, used to the axe, to cut and cord wood and do some farm work.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that secretes the oil in the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the favorites of the Queen of Spain. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

HUMAN NATURE.

Messrs. Editors:—One of our city clergymen, last Sabbath morning, made use in his sermon of the following illustration: "There is," said he, "in the neighborhood of Boston, a princely mansion, surrounded on all sides by a high brick wall. The entrance is through a side gate, of elegant workmanship. A lady belonging to the City Mission of Boston, while on her rounds of charity, succeeded, though with some difficulty, in effecting an entrance to the parlor of this mansion, and obtained an interview with the lady of the house. Unrolling the list of names and charities which she carried, she proceeded to state her business. For answer, the lady, turning to the window, merely asked, "Do you see that brick wall?" "I do," was the reply. "Well, that wall was built on purpose to keep out just such people as you." "There," said the preacher, "you have a perfect illustration of human nature." He then went on from this text to enlarge upon the contrast between the human and the divine nature.

Now the question we wish to ask is this: When the clergyman first heard the story related, was his involuntary exclamation, "how natural! Just the answer eight out of nine people would have made!" Or was it, "Is it possible? Can that be true?" How does he suppose his audience mentally commented on his illustration? Did they think, "Exactly what I would have done!" or even exactly what A, B or C would have done!" Or did they think, "I don't believe that story; nobody could have been so rude." If the latter thought is the most involuntary, does it not prove that the preacher has maligned human nature? And what purpurpose can such slander answer? If the reverend gentleman will answer these questions, he will confer a favor on more than one AUDITOR.

MARRYING A BRIDESMAID.—A few weeks since, in the neighborhood of St. Barnabas, a lover conducted his intended bride to the altar. The marriage ceremony proceeded with regularity, until the fair one was asked the question, "Wilt thou have this man for thy wedded husband? To which, with much apparent sincerity, she replied "No." The poor bridegroom gazed upon her with astonishment; but no expostulation could induce her to alter her resolution. She frankly replied that she had just seen a gentleman whom she liked better. This declaration soon brought matters to a crisis. The marriage ceremony was suspended, and the clergyman politely conducted the parties to different doors. The bridegroom, more disgusted at such conduct, than mortified at his disappointment, declared that his affections from that moment were alienated, and that nothing should induce him to take the lady, even if her resolution were to alter. Mr. G. B., the lady's own brother, finding him in such good spirits, intimated that, as a splendid dinner would be prepared at his house, much time and expense would be spared, if he would return to the church and conclude the marriage ceremony with one of the bridesmaids. The hint was instantly taken, and the proposals made, and as the fair one had no objection, a special license was instantly procured, they got married at the identical church on the identical morning, and afterwards partook of the identical dinner which had been prepared for the changeable one.—London Court Journal.

A WOMAN'S RIGHTS HEN.—Messrs. Editors:—I have in my possession a hen—of what breed I know not; but when I first got her, she was a pattern fowl, of comely appearance, and laid her daily egg with becoming industry. A few weeks since, however, she took it into her head to adopt the privileges and habits of the other sex, discontinued laying eggs, and essayed the art of crowing. She can now crow as lustily as any cock. But with this acquisition she lost all her former virtues, and is now of no use to any one, being moreover an unsightly creature, owing to her ornamental tail feathers having unaccountably dropped out soon after changing her habits of life. Might she not be justly styled a "woman's rights" hen?—Journal of Commerce.

After he had discharged his piece, he stepped forward to see the robber breathe his last, when to his astonishment he found he had killed one of his neighbor's cows, valued at $100.—Hartford Times.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destructibility of Tar and Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a several of many years, it stands as reliable and as good at when first put on, without change or decay.

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever thrown into use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
This PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "no plus ultra" of the line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for getting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.50 each. Brass Finish, $2.50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not satisfactory, will be removed.
Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be marled and shriveled, hoary and dry, or worse still, if covered with scurvy, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently preserve to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 10, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Feeling it to owe to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly commencing to turn, I applied a few bottles of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a most valuable invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Dryeh a'r Gwyllesydet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 12 Nassau st., Apr. 12, 58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Some months ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair; little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, and moreover has stopped the falling out and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CLARKE.

NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common an ong persons who perspire freely. J. G. RAY.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill on grow out and formed back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz—large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $1.75; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $2.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the ridiculous notion of hiding their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may desire them, upon the true description of the disease to be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invitable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been incurably treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described as being quite desperate.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing curiosity.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to experiment with Self-Styled Doctors, or remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impostors who are being practiced upon by advertising spurious article under assuming surnames or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effect and ingredients.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine, the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—27 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 diy

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous pretenders are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether men, women, or women, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are still the certain remedy for the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful obstruction, assuaging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially those who are overcome, as they are sure to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from all mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore, that no one may be deceived, the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced with the regular COMMON PILLS; yet the ladies will aware this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that said Proclamation is not to be considered rain, and vain; that is to say the PILLS cannot be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on receipt of $1 to Dr. CHESEMAN, Lawrence, Mass. No. 447, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

American and Foreign Patents.
B. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office can better and the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. B. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

From the N. H. Gazette.

Can the People of a Territory in any Lawful way, against the wishes of any Citizen of the United States, exclude Slavery from their limits prior to the formation of a State Constitution?

The above question was propounded to Judge Douglas by Mr. Lincoln at their last discussion in Freeport. The Boston Journal, Washington Union and a few other papers particularly unfriendly to Douglas, claim that in his reply Douglas repudiates the doctrine of the Dred Scott decision, and asserts the unqualified right of the people within the territories to abolish and exclude that institution. Let us see how that is, for if Douglas asserts that doctrine, he certainly differs upon an important question with the, we had supposed, unanimous voice of the Democratic party. We believe, as a matter of law, that Congress has no more constitutional right to establish, abolish, or in any way meddle with the subject of slavery within the territores, the common property of the States, than it has to control and manage that matter within the States themselves. That point has been adjudicated and settled by the highest tribunal known to our law, and it follows as a legal and logical sequence, that Congress cannot delegate to the territorial legislatures which it establishes, any powers greater than it could itself exercise; therefore, if Douglas claims for them any such right, he claims a right which the Democratic party expressly deny, and is in that particular an unsound Democrat. But we deny that Douglas assumes any such position. In reply to the question he says:

I answer emphatically, as Mr. Lincoln has heard me answer a hundred times from every stump in Illinois, that in my opinion the people of a territory can, by lawful means, exclude slavery from their limits prior to the formation of a State Constitution. (Enthusiastic applause.) Mr. Lincoln knew that I had answered that question over and over again. He heard me argue the Nebraska bill on that principle all over the State in 1854, in 1855 and in 1856, and he has no excuse for pretending to be in doubt as to my position on that question. It matters not what way the Supreme Court may hereafter decide as to the abstract question whether slavery may or may not go into a territory under the constitution, the people have the lawful means to introduce or exclude it as they please, for the reason that slavery cannot exist a day or an hour anywhere, unless it is supported by local police regulations. (Rights, right.) Those police regulations can only be established by the local legislature, and if the people are opposed to slavery they will elect representatives to that body who will by unfriendly legislation effectually prevent the introduction of it into their midst. If, on the contrary, they are for it, their legislation will favor its extension. Hence, no matter what the decision of the Supreme Court may be on that abstract question, still the right of the people to make a slave territory or a free territory is perfect and complete under the Nebraska bill. I hope Mr. Lincoln deems my answer satisfactory on that point.

Now if we rightly understand this plain and emphatic English, Douglas does not assert the right of a territorial legislature by affirmative action to exclude negro servitude, but only contends that by neglecting and refusing, as in their discretion they have the undoubted legal right to do, to frame a slave code, providing these numerous municipal regulations without the fostering care of which the institution dies out of its own inherent weakness, slavery can never have a practical existence or attain any strength or permanency in the territories, whatever abstract rights the Constitution may guaranty it. We have never heard it claimed (except in a few extreme Southern journals) that the people of the territories were under even a moral obligation to enact and enforce laws and regulations for the benefit of an institution distasteful to a majority; certainly, no one contends that any legal obligation exists in such a case. But even if it did, and the people were in favor of withholding such protection and encouragement, what could be done about it?

The doctrine which Douglas holds on this subject is the acknowledged doctrine among all whom we have ever heard undertake to expound or define the Democratic faith upon the subject. It is a sound, sensible, Democratic, constitutional doctrine. It does not in the slightest degree conflict with the decision or any dicta in the Dred Scott case.

"STICKING TO THE NIGGER."—While leading men and papers of the black party, all over the country, are repudiating their old dogmas, which have become odious in the eyes of the people, Fogg continues to advocate them. He "sticks to the nigger," reckless of the interests of white men. He continues to howl—"No more slave States," and to denounce all who would allow the people of a territory to have a controlling voice in the formation of their own domestic institutions; and he applies the lash in true "nigger driver" style to all of his party who will not join in the chorus to his "negro melody." In allusion to his dogmatical talk upon the latter point, the Lebanon Whig says:—

There is not a Republican paper in the State after the Independent Democrat, which goes the whole length of popular despotism on this subject, that would dream for a moment of denying that the people of Kansas not only, but the people of all our Territories, have the exclusive right and should enjoy it, of making their own Constitution, preparatory to admission into the Union. Did the Republican party acknowledge the least sympathy with the tyrant creed of the Independent on this subject, it could not live a single day, and would not deserve to. If the people of the Territories dance at the right of forming the Constitutions they chose to live under as States after admission into the Union, we shall like to know who has the right to do the work for them. Perhaps the Independent could enlighten us on this point.—Patriot.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1858.

A PREDICTION.—Col. Forney, of Penn., at a recent mass meeting in New York, to sustain Hon. J. B. Haskins, prophesied that in 1860, there would not be a white man at the north willing to say he had ever heard the name of Lecompton.

Haskins is a Democrat; was elected to Congress two years ago as a warm and devoted supporter of the Administration; was a close personal friend of Mr. Buchanan, and fully expected to sustain his policy as the President of the nation; but refused flatly, when to refuse was next door to martyrdom, to swallow Lecompton, and courageously kept his stand all through the memorable days and nights of the last session at the national capitol.

At the above meeting of democrats, Americans and Republicans, speeches were made by Col. Forney, Ma. Haskins, and others, and the nomination of the latter gentleman was finally carried by acclamation.

Mr. Haskins himself declared:

"It has been proclaimed that this Kansas question is settled, but it stands precisely where it did when the last Congress assembled. I tell you," added he "that instead of being settled, this question is the vital living question of the day, the one which the next presidential election will be determined."

And so it will surely prove. Office holders may meet in convention to-day, and resolve that this question is forever settled; but to-morrow they are obliged to rub out what they have declared, and begin and resolve over again. There is no settlement for such a question, except upon the basis of justice and truth.

☞ The General Convention of Universalists in the United States of America, will meet in the city of Providence, R. I., on the third Tuesday and following Wednesday and Thursday in September, the 21st, 22d and 23d days.

And in Boston, Hon. Mr. Usher has made arrangements with the Boston and Providence Railroad Company, to take them from Boston to Providence, and return, for $1,50, it being the fare one way.

Tickets, which will be good during convention week, may be obtained at 37 Cornhill, of Mr. Usher.

MORTALITY FROM CHLOROFORM.—It appears that the mortality in the London Hospitals has increased since the introduction of etherization, from twenty-one to thirty-three per cent.; or vary the expression, instead of amputation being fatal in a less proportion than one in four of those operated upon, it now proves fatal to one in three. The Medical Times and Gazette asks, in view of these facts, "Whether so enormous a sacrifice of life is not too high a price to be paid for anæsthesia?"

☞ The Massachusetts and Rhode Island Christian Conference has just closed its annual session in New Bedford.—There were about forty ministers present. The proceedings throughout were characterized by the most perfect harmony. From the reports presented, it appears that there has been a very great increase in the membership of the churches—more than for many years. There were four additions to the Conference—two of them young men of promise who have recently entered the ministry.

☞ There has been some talk in Maine of Maine of Gov. Morrill as a candidate for the U. S. Senate against Hon. Wm. Pitt Fessenden. Gov. Morrill on Saturday, at a public meeting in Winthrop, presided over by ex-Congressman S. P. Benson, disavowed any desire to be a candinate, and declared most emphatically in favor of Mr. Fessenden's re-election.

☞ Edward W. Stebbins, an employee of the Connecticut River Railroad, in attempting to cross the cascade near the Profile House, Franconia Notch, on the 7th inst., slipped, and was carried down the smooth rocks about three hundred feet, with great rapidity, and off a perpendicular precipice, about twenty feet, onto the rocks below. He was taken up insensible.

☞ Gilman Alcott, a pedlar, residing in Lowell, hung himself in that city on Friday last. Hard times was the cause of the act.

☞ There is a married lady living in the town of Essex, Mass., whose weight is but eighty-one pounds when dressed.

AGNES.—A Novel, by the author of Ida May.—Boston, Phillips, Sampson & Company, 1858. Pages 510. This is a Novel of the American Revolution, of Indian Character, of Whig and Tory artifice, of royalist pride and hauteur, and of patriotic daring and fortitude.

It is in fine, a most lively and lifelike picture of the times that tried men's souls, and of the women who helped make the the trials, and then helped to bear them. It will be a popular book with all readers of American fiction.

It is for sale in this city, at Mr. Shores's bookstore.

☞ In Vermont, the decided political character of that State, allows of considerable latitude in voting for members of the House. Of twenty-one Dem. members in the House, whose names are given in the Watchman, two-thirds are from Republican towns, while Danville, the most decidedly democratic town of the State, sends a Republican.

THE SLAVER CAPTAIN IN BOSTON.—Capt. Samuel Townsend, of the Echo, captured by the Dolphin, it appears, has been brought to Boston for trial. He was arraigned before Commissioner Loring, on Saturday, and fully committed for examination on the 21st inst. The punishment of the offence with which he stands charged, is death.

☞ Men consume, as a general thing, too little air, and too much food. A little reform would make them better every way. If atmosphere cost fifty cents a gallon, there would be an immense rush for it.

PERSONAL.—The Paris correspondent of the Philadelphia Bulletin communicates the following:

"A number of the blue stockings gave a dinner at a restaurant in the Palais Royal, on Monday last, to Mrs. Beecher Stowe, at which no masculine member was to be admitted. Three exceptions, however, found favor in the eyes of the dinner committee, on account of their feminine names; these privileged literateurs were Marie Aicard, Marie Escudier, and Eleonore de Vaubabelle."

☞ Charleston papers report that the Africans found on board the slave brig Echo, are dying off at the rate of four to six a day. If this mortality continues, the Niagara will have but few of them to carry to Liberia.

☞ A new church edifice was dedicated by the Frist Baptist Society at Fisherville, N. H., on Wednesday last. It was built by Messrs. Read & Benson, of Concord, from a design made by H. Graves, architect, of Boston; and cost, exclusive of the lot, $18,500.

☞ Mr. Timothy H. Clark, of Rochester, son of Peleg B. Clark, aged thirty-four years and eleven months, hung himself in a barn on Saturday last. He had been sick for some weeks.

☞ "Think of me as your friend," is the title of a Song we have received from J. R. Miller, the publisher, Boston—poetry by Wm. Winter, music by C. E. Whiting.

"The Angels told me so," Duet and Chorus by Rev. Sydney Dyer, words by words by Horace Waters, New York, the publisher.

Imprisoned in a living jail,
A lusty, kicking son of earth,
Ready to wake, and weep, and wail,
My limbs are struggling to the birth.
Let me pass.

Now on my feet I tottering stand,
Till by enticements bolder grown,
I quit the watchful mother's hand,
And, lo! I learn to go alone.
Let me pass.

Now, in youth's buoyant, merry round,
With quickened pulse my steps advance,
Where music, wine, and wit abound,
And blooming beauty leads the dance.
Let me pass.

Now blest with children, wife, and friends,
Ambition urging to the van,
I strive to wait where duty tends,
With love of God, good will to man.
Let me pass.

And now my better home draws nigh,
Free from presumption and despair,
But weary, faint, I wait to die,
And leave this world and all its care.
Let me pass.

A wag who was asked to buy the Bank Note Detector yesterday, said he would purchase it if it would detect a bank note in his pocket.

MAINE ELECTION.

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.—Midnight.—We have returns of the vote for Governor from 134 towns, giving the following result:—

Morrill	31,885
Smith	27,108

The vote in the same towns, last year, was for Morrill 29,116, Smith 21, 987, giving a Republican majority, then, of 7129. The Republican majority, this year in the same towns, is 5777, showing a Democratic gain of 1352.

The Democrats have gained several State representatives. We have no definite returns for Senators.

The vote for members of Congress runs about even with the Governor. In the First District the vote is very close and the result doubtful. Johnson, Democrat, is probably elected in the Third District.—Foster, Republican, in the Sixth, and Washburne, Republican, in the Fifth.

The Saco Democrat Extra informs us that the Democratic majority in York Co., will be from 150 to 250—securing the election of the Democratic County ticket.—The vote for Governor in Eliot is for Smith, 212, Morrill, 161.

A Biddeford dispatch of Tuesday, says the majority for Somes, Republican, in the 1st Congressional District, is over 300.

Morrill's majority in York is 43. The Republican State Senators are elected in Cumberland and Penobscot. York is in doubt. The Republicans will carry most of their Senators throughout the State.

In Penobscot, Cumberland and. York counties, all but three Representatives have been heard from, and the result is 32 Republicans to 16 Democrats.

A Belfast dispatch says Col. A. W. Johnson (Dem.) is elected in the Third District, which gave the present Republican member a majority of 2300.

Indications now are that five Republicans are elected to Congress to one Democrat.

THE SLAVER CREW.—At Charleston, on Friday last, Judge Magrath refused the application for the discharge of the crew of the slave brig Echo, on a writ of habeas corpus.

The The N. Y. Yost insists, and offers many facts to prove, that the Mormon war was purely a contrivance of contractors to bleed the treasury.

A FREE PRESS.

"More light! more light!" the poor world said,
As groping 'round in wretchedness—
A heavenly power at once replied,
And lo! arose the PRINTING PRESS.
And God, all-wise, in his decree,
Made it the champion of the free.

A VETERAN PREACHER AND WRITER.—Rev. John Angell James, an English writer and preacher, has just published another volume on practical divinity, entitled "Christian Hope." Mr. James is now 74 years of age, but his mind has all the freshness and buoyancy of youth, and his outer man exhibits as yet but few symptoms of decay. To his abstinence from all intoxicants for many years, and from tobacco indulgence for the whole of his life, no doubt, must be ascribed his vigor of body, and his freshness of intellect, now that he has traveled beyond the three score years and ten allotted to man upon earth. During a ministry of 54 years he presided over the same congregation, numbering more than 1000 communicants, and still he is as popular and useful as ever.—Trans.

THE SPRINGFIELD HORSE SHOW.—Springfield, Sept. 13.—The numbers of entries for the national exhibition of horses, which opens to-morrow, is 390. This is now more than twice last year's number, and imbraces over 500 animals, and the best collection ever seen. The town is fast filling up, and everything promises well.—The exhibition grounds were quite lively, to-day, with informal trials of speed among the horses here.

The show opens at 10 A. M., with a grand cavalcade of all horses entered.

F. P. Tracy, Esq., of San Francisco, formerly a resident of Newburyport, is one of the Republican candidates for Congress.—We don't believe there is a man of more intellect in the whole of California than he, nor one who would more honor the State if chosen its representative. As the Republicans and Douglas Democrats coalesce to some extent, and the people are tired of Buchanan there, he may be elected. It depends a great deal, however, upon the men who count the votes in that State!—N. Herald.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—Savannah, Sept. 13.—The Chairman of the Board of Health reports a few sporadic cases of yellow fever since Wednesday, of a mild type, but no epidemic.

New Orleans, Sept, 13.—The deaths in this city yesterday by yellow fever were 70 and for the week 470.

Charleston, Sept. 13.—The deaths by yellow fever in this city during the past week were 103. Wm. Curtis of Boston died of the fever on Sunday.

The National Horse Show at Springfield commences on Tuesday next, and continues till Friday. The proceeding close with a banquet. Some of the best horse flesh in the country is expected to be present.—Exchange.

If the horse-flesh does not prove to be tender and juicy, the banquet will of course be a failure.

There is no pride in heaven, because there is no corruption for it to thrive on.

PAT AND THE CABLE.—BY MR. O'NAIL.

FOUNDED ON FACT.

"Och! the tilegraf's come," said Jemmy to Pat,
Who, in reply, said to him, "Faith, what to that!"
"Don't ye know, man, be jabers, that ivery day
The news from ould Ireland comes in that way!
The beg sheps, ye know, pulled the rope across the sea,
The said country's tied fast, way up in some bay;
And now when they spake be the lightning at four,
It comes to us three or more hours before!"
"Git out wid ye, man, it's ye're own divil's lie;
Ye might as well tell me the moon's chaise a pie!
If ye spake the trood Jemmy, it's sartain and thrue,
We can gid to the moon be the tilegraf, too."

BAD COLDS.

As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will entail more serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Radway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold; and the continued use of the R. R. R. Remedies will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It acts powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the plegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given entire relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imnitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; B. Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THIS Discovery is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the nine plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dissolves them, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which become diseased, and prevent perspiration from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

☞ Joseph M. Edmonds, Esq., who for wenty-six years has been employed as Clerk in the Custom House at this port,—latterly, for a long sevies of Administrations, as Deputy Collector—was removed on the first of September: and Edward N. Mathes, Esq., clerk to the Naval Officer here, appointed to the place. Mr. Mathes is a young gentleman of much worth, and he will without doubt prove a capable and worthy successor of the late incumbent—in all save his politics; about which we think nothing, when we wish him all success, as a good fellow. Neither do we have any care for the gentleman removed, in our eye, when we ask if it is either necessary or desirable, that any man who has devoted a quarter of a century to any business, should be discharged and left to learn a new trade, merely because he has learned the duties of his old station thoroughly? Nobody but Uncle Sam and some few of his political "sovereigns," is green enough to do such a thing as that—to turn off a servant just because he has been with him long enough to "learn the ropes," or is of a different political complexion.

☞ A reference to our Auction column, will show a rare chance to purchase a good pleasure team cheaply. The mare is a very nice animal, "as prompt as a Major," and gentle and kind as an old house-dog. She is quiet enough for any woman or child to drive, and smart enough to suit any man who knows a good horse. Her present owner, who has drove and rode her for a year or more, has no further use for her—and has chosen the most direct and expeditious mode of disposing of her. 'Tis no fault which brings "Kate" under Auctioneer Wendell's hammer—where not a little of the best property in the city has been.

☞ Hon. Neal Dow will lecture in this city, on the subject of Temperance, this Wednesday evening, at the Temple. Admission 3 cents. Doors open at 7 o'clock, lecture begins at half-past 7.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting on Sabbath Morning, Sept. 19th, is to be held at the Old South Church,—to commence at ringing of first bells. C. R.

☞ On our first page to-day, may be found a column of political matter, copied from the last New Hampshire Gazette, as a fair specimen of the articles in the papers of the democratic party. There is no way in which to give a man's views so clearly as to let him speak for himself.

☞ Advertisements and notices of Dr. E. R. Clarke, will be seen in other columns. We understand that his bookkeeper and foreman, Mr. Wm. B. Wickes, is to be in the city to-day, as agent for the sale of his medicines, &c., to dealers.

PURE WATER.

Some paper says:—

If you want to get a house out of a whiskey barrel, in a secure place near a spring of good water, on the road to the grog-shop. When you want a dram, take the price of it in your hand and start to the grog-shop; go as far as the spring, drop the money through the bunghole, take a good drink of water, and return home. Repeat this operation till the barrel is full, knock out the head, and you have the price of a splendid brick building.

That might be the once with a hard drinker, or one who hankered dreadfully for pernicious drinks. The hint, however, may be improved in this city.—In the two markets there should be good aqueduct water, with metal drinking cups, fastened as they used to be to the pumps.

By the way, the water furnished on the Railroads, in the cars, is a great and valuable improvement, at a very small cost.

☞ The Lewistou Falls Jouanal thus concludes its account of the execution of the "Albion Cooper" murderers:—"The awful scene which was witnessed in front of our county building to-day, is an oration against capital punishment more eloquent, more convincing, than the Oration of the Crown. No one who has a mind to discriminate and a heart to feel, that looked upon the scene, can have gone away without feelling in his heart that capital punishment was a disgrace to any people, a relic of a barbarous and cruel age. It protects society no better, we believe far less effectually than imprisonment, leaves a bloody impess upon the heart of every person who witnesses it, and makes conviction more doubtful. When will the world be convinced that it is the certainty, not the severity of punisment that deters men from the commission of crime?"

RAPHAEL'S HOURS OF THE NIGHT.

BY MRS. H. B. STOWE.

These exquisite little designs are the fresco ornament of a pavilion near Rome, and now are nearly obliterated. They are evidently conceived in the spirit of the graceful flying figures in the Pompeian frescoes, but breathe the chaster influence of Christian art. They are exquisitely poetical and fanciful.

Hours of the night!—upon my chamber walls
Hung dreamy figures hovering in mid air,
Begot by Raphael when the antique art
He wedded with the bridal ring of Christ.
Sweet Raphael—fairest of the sons of men,
Whose thoughts were visible music, whose accord
Died not when died its master, but lives on,
Charming the eye and thought of lands unknown.
Hours of the night! how dreamily they move!
One from her vase pours down the cloudy dew—
One hovering with veiled brow and wavering robe
Seems bearer of calm dreams like floating clouds—
Flying, yet still—bound as I gaze, my brain
Grows tremulous and seems to float and dream,
And as I dream thus flows the tide of song;

Hours of the night, forever there unfolding
Your purple shady robes, heavy and still!
Pass, pass ye on, while we, your course beholding,
Wait for the morning which pursues you still.

Hours of the night! to him forever passed!
For he hath gone into God's perfect day!
Where the ideal is mystery no more;
Where doubt and error flee with night away!

Hours of the night! ye have your pleasant dreams,
Your falling dews, with silvery doubtful gleam;
But pass ye on, and rise the perfect day
When all shall stand revealed in morning's beam!

For all that painters, all that poets dream,
Are but the dew-drops of life's fleeting night
That shine on tree and flower, but cannot guide,
While grope we on, in the imperfect light.

He is the Morning Star, that son of God,
Whom Raphael saw transfigured in the sky—
That glorious dream was given to his night hours
To be for ours perpetual legacy;—

He saw and died—the morning star had risen—
The fleeting night brought in th' immortal day,
And as a dew-drop spreads its rainbow wings,
The artist's soul exhaled in light away.*

Ah, these night hours, O Saviour, grant us power
To pass them bravely, waiting till we see
Thee rising in the east, before whose face
All night, all sorrow, shall forever flee.

—(N. Y. Independent.

*The Transfiguration was the last work of Raphael, of which the sublime head of Christ is, perhaps, the nearest to the inapproachable idea of Christian art of all attempts which have been made.

are particularly adapted to the wants of those who require a cathartic medicine, and there is no one who can afford to take them who will suffer from any form of disease that can be cured by this medicine. Being sugar coated, they are free from all taste or smell, and are the most perfect, as well as agreeable, purgative pill yet offered to the public. Being composed of vegetable matter only, they are found to have many valuable properties not possessed by other pills, and are adapted to all ages and conditions of the human family.

Although so well known to the public, we think it necessary only to allude to some of the many good results which have been brought to our knowledge by the use of these pills. Many of our friends and neighbors have given their certificates that they have cured them of the most distressing cases of Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Jaundice, Piles, Dropsy, Pain in the Side and Back, and Urinary Complaints, by the use of these pills; and we have published a few of the many certificates we have received, in our Almanac, which we give away to our customers and others who call for it. We do not think it necessary to publish testimonials in this place, as we do not wish to occupy the time of our readers with matter which they may not consider of importance to them; but we have no hesitation in saying that we believe these pills to be the most perfect cathartic now in use, and that they are worthy the confidence of the public, and the trade.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. S. M. Worcester, Salem, Mass.

"Your Pills are the object of praise. Their excellent workings are well calculated to enhance. They are so mild, but more certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which renders them invaluable to us in our early practice of physic."

FOR DYSPEPSIA AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS,

From Dr. Theodore Dwight, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purposes as cathartics, but I believe that in the class of cases for which they are recommended, they have in my hands proved more efficacious, for the cure of bilious complaints, than any other medicine. I attribute this superiority to the fact that they are the most perfectly purgative pills with which I am acquainted, and that they are free from any ingredient which can counteract the effect of the other ingredients."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX,

From Dr. J. G. Owen, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a large trial in my practice, and I find them to be all that you claim for them. I have cured some cases of Dysentery with them, which had resisted the other remedies so extensively used. Indeed I have experimentally tested them in almost every case of the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION,

From Dr. Henry J. Bond, of N. Zealand.

"The Pills you send me I consider to be the best we have long all and in our practice, and have satisfied me that they are even an extraordinary medicine, so positively are they the best of purgatives. I have cured many cases of Dyspepsia with them, and I have no hesitation in saying that I have cured some cases of Dyspepsia with them, which had resisted the other remedies so extensively used. Indeed I have experimentally tested them in almost every case of the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX,

From Dr. J. G. Owen, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a large trial in my practice, and I find them to be all that you claim for them. I have cured some cases of Dysentery with them, which had resisted the other remedies so extensively used. Indeed I have experimentally tested them in almost every case of the complaints for which you recommend them."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION — WORMS — SUPPRESSION,

From Dr. E. Sweet, late president of a Physician and Bishop's College, Philadelphia.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural motion of the bowels, and when taken in small doses, are very useful in clearing the stomach and expel worms. They are so much better than any other cathartic medicine I know of, that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS,

From Dr. J. P. Pamphet, Montreal, Canada.

"I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the efficacy of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. I have tried many, but have found none so effectual as your Pills. I have also used them with the best effect in my family, and consider them the most perfect purgative with which I am acquainted, and cheerfully recommend them to the public."

INDIGESTION OR THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — PARALYSIS.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"Your Pills are the most agreeable and efficacious medicine I have used for the purpose for which they are intended, and I do not know of any thing offered to the best of my knowledge and belief, to be compared to them."

Any one of the Pills in market, equals Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a popular pill, from the dreadful consequences that follow its improper administration. Those Pills do not require or exercise salivation whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every order of it upon every eye, with invariable success and care. It is well adapted for the lung complaints, and consequently can be relied on as a safe, efficacious, and pleasant remedy. Its extraordinary power has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, such as Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Influenza, and Consumption, and consequently persons in advertising, and the disease. At time when these facts when and better known, diseases will yet greatly become the last relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. At time when these facts when and better known, diseases will yet greatly become the last relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. Its power to the public of Lowell Mass. Throughout this entire country, in every town and city, and school almost every family, it contains Cherry Pectoral, known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their physicians and physicians. It is the best of all expectorants for all lung complaints, nearly it has done its work; it we can trust our own senses when we see the glorious effections of the lungs yield to it. If we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, when business is to be known by facts. If there is any reliance to be placed in the testimony of those who have tried this remedy, and who, thinking it a duty to humanity, have published to the world the result of their experience, and declared for beyond any and all other medicines known to mankind. Nothing but to be friends testify, and the immediate relief from the distress of sufferers, could induce them to publish the results of its use. All the many testimonials which have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and have therefore, been spread broadcast by every mail, conjured hundreds on the affected they can never forget, the profound sense so numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God itself provided for all our race. Reader, although the cheek may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearl, if the head be bald, or even thinning, or the hair be snarled and shrivled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, since the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

THALBERG.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to a friend, who consented to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that very effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced turning from a yellow gray and fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restoratives in January last. A few applications fastened my hair fast. It soon commenced to grow out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. B. HOAG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least half per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2: the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the system, and restoring health to the whole machinery.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

Only one bottle is warranted to cure the most inveterate case of Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin, and makes the system the effects of medicine after a long and tedious illness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin, and makes the system the effects of medicine after a long and tedious illness.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer Complaint and Dysentery yield almost to the first dose.

We take pleasure in recommending it as a medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Intermittent and Bilious type. It operates with certainty, leaving no trace behind to testify to its wonderful virtues.

Milk water is the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of females in the United States and towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints to a male physician, he feels it necessary to state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the nature and extent of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can safely say that during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases have been sent him, which were entirely treated by express here come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described more than a hundred miles from Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing observation.

Be particular in directing Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or to persuade to any experiment, or to take any other medicine on the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some other name or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the proper medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. Their secret security consists in the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the interest in Samuel Swan & Co. is guaranteed by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all numbers being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and we invite the strictest scrutiny into the manner in which they are conducted. No combination of numbers mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to prize drawers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Isolation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the extension of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic and the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Issue—My price of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient is cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and describing the influence felt, can be well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, and be secured from the danger of exposure. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where any interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected. m5 6m

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove beyond question MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The long experience of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1858.

MAINE ELECTION.

It appears by the Portland papers of Wednesday, that Governor Morrill is re-elected by a majority of 8000, perhaps 9000.

It also appears probable that French, (Republican) is elected, in the 3d District. The Argus says, "it is doubtful who is elected." The dispatches from the district itself give French 28 majority, with two places to hear from, which will carry it up to 40.

[Rather a narrow margin, for a district that might have given him 2000.]

The republicans have carried everything: A Governor by a large majority; Six Members of Congress; Thirty Senators; More than a Hundred Representatives; Nearly all the County Officers.

Full returns in the First District, give

	Drew.	Somes.
In York County	6,281	6,146
Cumberland	3,958	4,268
	10,189	10,414

giving, says the Argus, 225 majority for Somes.

The Portland Argus of Monday, Sept. 13, said:—

The Election to-day is one of the most important that has occurred in the history of our State. We have given some indications of the signs of the times as the canvass has progressed, but we have made no boasts of what the Democracy would do. We have frequently expressed our belief of what they could do. After carefully looking over the field on the morning of the great battle, we now express our belief of what the Democracy of the State will do to-day and with nothing less than which shall we be satisfied:

1. A net gain of ten to twelve thousand on the vote for Governor! The majority against us last year was about twelve thousand.

2. The election of from ten to fourteen State Senators! Last year we had one Senator.

3. The election of from seventy-five to eighty-five State Representatives. Last year we had thirty-five Representatives.

4. The election of three Members of Congress. At the previous election no Congressional Representative.

5. A vote in this city that shall fix the doom of the present corrupt, incompetent and extravagant city dynasty, and render it perfectly certain that the democracy will take control of the city government at the next municipal election! At the late election the majority against us in the city was 320.

These will be astonishing—glorious results, but with the information in our possession, we shall be disappointed with anything less.

The County of York is now reported to have chosen mostly Republican County officers, though by a very small majority.—The reason for the superior Democratic vote in Kittery and Eliot, is to be found in Navy Yard influence,—as is well understood by those who are posted up in such affairs.

We are disposed to attribute the present political condition of Maine to two causes only.

First, President Pierce's test of the Nebraska bill, continued by Pres. Buchanan's test of the English Lecompton measure.—This was and is distasteful to thousands of democrats in Maine.

The second cause is, that in 1855, Governor Wells rose into office on the rum-plank,—having stumped the State, making promises that could not possibly be kept, about a beautiful license law that should promote temperance;—and that in a year he and those who went into power with him, satisfied the people of Maine that they had "gone further and fared worse,"—that temperance had lost and drunkenness had gained by the change.

There was to be a great effort this fall, to revive rum again—but it was not very successful. Rum is a great power, and a high law with many—but there are greater powers, and higher powers.

MAINE.—A private dispatch from Damariscotta, Me., received in Boston, says: "Johnson (the Democratic candidate) concedes that French is elected by a small majority." The Republican delegation from Maine is unbroken.

☞ The Emperor of France has recently issued a commission for the purpose of obtaining a uniform diapson or pitch. The commission is now in session, and it is probable that the prevailing concert pitch will be lowed half a tone. The present pitch, it is said, has been very destructive to the voice.

☞ That conduct often seems ridiculous, the secret reasons of which are wise and solid.

TRAGEDY AT PITTSBURG, PA.—The Pittsburg Chronicle of Saturday, gives an account of the shooting and probably mortally wounding of a respectable young lady, of that place, Ellen Henry, by a rejected lover, Thomas Smithson. The young lady is about seventeen years old, possessed of considerable beauty, and resides with her mother and sister, her father being dead. Smithson is about twenty years old. He came to the house to see her, but she being disinclined to meet him, he waited for an hour, when she went to see him and requested him to leave. Upon her turning to go out of the room, he drew a pistol and discharged its contents in to her back.

The ball struck her below the left shoulder, and passed out through the breast, injuring the lung and narrowly escaping the heart itself. The internal bleeding was very severe, and at half-past twelve o'clock had not been stopped. The physicians, therefore, deem her case hopeless, and ere this reaches our readers, she will in all probability have ceased to live.

Smithson was arrested soon afterwards, and narrowly escaped being killed by his pursuers.

☞ An episode in this year's yellow fever history, is recorded by the St. Louis Republican. A young girl at Bordeaux fell in love with an American sailor—a native of Maine—who happened to be in France, and she eloped with him to America to be married, as her parents were averse to the match. They arrived a short time since at New Orleans, were married there, but terrified at the ravages of the yellow fever, hastened to St. Louis, in hopes to escape it. The grim monster, however, had obtained a hold in the young man's vitals, and he arrived at his destination only to die. The poor French girl, many miles away from relatives and acquaintances, after all her trials and sacrifices, when scarce a wife, is made a widow, and must depend on charity for subsistence.

BEQUESTS TO CATHOLIC CHURCHES.—An interesting decision was given in the Supreme Court of New York on Monday, in relation to a will, in which the claim of St. Peter's Church, as devisee, was declared void. The deceased, James Fitzpatrick, having bequeathed certain property to the church, "for the good of his soul," the Judge decided, in effect, that the language used was too equivocal to render the bequest valid.

AFFRAY WITH AN EDITOR.—An affray took place at Sioux City (Minn.) on the 7th inst., between O. C. Treadway, an attorney of that place, and S. W. Swiggett, editor of the Sioux City Eagle. Treadway was the assailant till the editor made him show his heels, although Treadway was armed with a revolver and cane.—Swiggett wrenched the cane from his assailant, who dropped the pistol. The editor picked it up, and gave the other a shot in the rear with it.

☞ The Gloucester News, an "American" paper, says, speaking of the late convention in Massachusetts:—

The result of this convention will be to re-elect Gov. Banks by forty or fifty thousand plurality, and the return of a full delegation of union men to Congress.—There is no ground of complaint upon which Americans can stand to oppose this re-union of men.

☞ The New York Commercial Advertiser, (old Whig) says of the Republican State nominations: "We can support those nominations sincerely and cordially." In regard to a union of the opposition, the Commercial says:

"We have been 'hoping against hope' quite as long as we think duty and patriotism justify; and throwing aside a powerless and therefore useless neutrality, shall use our utmost efforts in aid of the election of the Republican State Ticket."

CHURCH MILITANT.—On Monday last, at Lexington, Mass., a difficulty occurred in the Baptist Society, between the pastor and a portion of his congregation, resulting in the closing of the church against the minister, Rev. Thomas W. Clark, who addressed those present from the church steps, stating that time will show who is in the right.

☞ Twenty-eight persons were received into the Hammond Street Church, Bangor, Sabbath before last—seventeen by public profession, and 12 by letter, making sixty three in all since the commencement of the year.

☞ The Albany Knickerbocker says if an American wishes to know how an English oyster tastes, all he has to do is to put a little pepper sauce on a cent and swallow it.

SUPPOSED COLLISION AND WRECK ON THE SOUND.—Madison Ct., Sept. 11.—Capt. Joseph A. Coe and Adolphus Fields of this place have just come in from blue fishing on Westbrook Reef, and when returning home, when off Hammondaket Point, encountered a quantity of drifting wreck, which they began gathering, when a heavy squall came on at 5 P. M. and they were obliged to leave the spot. They succeeded in getting one barrel of flour, one cabin door, one closet door, one companion way, and a number of peices of what appears to be a part of the cabin of a propeller, and one quarter key with belaying pin, in black, varnished handsomely; also a drawing table, with drawer nailed shut, which contained a large drawing book, belonging to "A. C. Tibbetts, No. 27 South street, N. Y.," with scale for calculating, a memorandum book, stamp of brass; drafts all sails up to August, 1858, of vessels, of which the following are some: "Ship Masonic; ship Bettie, Bath, Me., Capt. Morse; brig Gov. Brown; July 18, 1858, brig Geo. C. Ackerly, draft and estimated cost," &c.

The only conclusion which can be arrived at here, is that a collision took place off this place last night between a steamer and sailing vessel, by which the articles found have been knocked off by the bowsprit, and both have sunk.

N. Y. DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.—Syracuse, Sept. 14.—Many delegates to the Democratic Convention and outsiders are here. There is no attempt to disguise the struggle between the hards and softs.—The former claim a small majority and declare that Horatio Seymour shall not be elected to any office. On the other hand the softs claim a majority of two to one, exclusive of contested seats, and declare the convention must settle the New York contest finally, which makes it pretty evident they have a majority. The probability seems strong in favor of the admission of Tammany Hall delegates as a unit.

Latest.—Contestants will be admitted, but all save delegates excluded. Fairchild will be temporary chairman, and close figures count a vote of 69 to 33, exclusive of contested seats. Haskins is here as a looker on, and declares that if Lecompton is endorsed he shall not vote the ticket and it will be defeated.

POLITICAL.—Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—A grand ratification meeting of the People's party was held this evening in Jayne's Hall. The assemblage was immense. Geo. W. Bowlin presided. John W. Ryan and E. J. Morris, candidates for Congress, declared for the principles of the protective tariff and popular sovereignty.

Mr. Morris was enthusiastically received, and spoke with much eloquence. He said their defeat would be heralded thro'out the country as an endorsement of the Administration and Scotch water pipes, and wished the next message sent over the cable to announce the success of a protective tariff principles.

THE "PHILANTHROPIC" CONVENTION AT UTICA.—The convention of free lovers and reformers lately in session at Utica, at N. Y., adjourned on Sunday evening, after a stormy session of three days, but without settling either the cause or the cure of evil.

Its proceedings, says the New York Post, may be briefly summed up—Mrs. Branch deemed the origin of evil to exist in the marraige state, and its cure in divorce; S. S. Foster saw its cause in slavery, and its cure in abolition: and A. J. Davis of Poughkeepsie discerned its origin "in the mysterious essence locking the innermost to the outermost," but without furnishing an intelligible prescription for its removal. The most lucid explanation was that of preacher Walker—that the discussion of the origin of evil being one of the evils of which we complain, the obvious remedy was to drop the subject.

TROUBLE AMONG THE SPIRITUALISTS.—A good deal of feeling exists at the present time among the Spiritualists of N. Y. city and vicinity, growing out of the separation that has taken place between Mrs. Cora L. V. Hatch, the celebrated trance medium, and her husband. Domestic difficulties have been the cause of the separation, and though we are not informed of the full facts, it is alleged that the cruelty of the husband has compelled Mrs. Hatch to seek the protection of friends. The sympathy of the Spiritualists seems to be with the lady, so far as we can learn. It was announced that on Sunday Mrs. Hatch would speak at 3 o'clock, in Clinton Hall, Atlantic street, Brooklyn. At the hour appointed the Hall was crowded, when a letter was read from Mrs. Hatch, stating that her husband had made threats to prevent her from speaking, should she attempt it, and to use force, if necessary, to accomplish his purpose.

In view of these facts, Mrs. Hatch asked to be excused for not fulfilling the appointment. Mrs. Coles and Mrs. French, two trance mediums of this city, entertained the audiences with discourses.

Mrs. Hatch is the fourth wife of her husband, and there is a great disparity between their ages, he being over forty, and the lady less than twenty.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ The Chicago Press states that the friends of Mr. Douglas have appealed for material aid to the Tammany Society of New York, of which Mr. D. is an honorary "Sachem," and have received the promise of $50,000 in due time.

QUARANTINE ROIOTERS ARRESTED.—New York, Sept. 15.—Last evening Ray Tompkins and John C. Thompson, the ringleaders in the quarantine outrages, were arrested on a charge of arson, preferred against them by Dr. Bissell, the quarantine physician.

☞ A little son of Eben Sutton, of South Danvers, has six times broken his leg. One leg has been fractured four times, and the other twice. There appears to be in his case something wanting which gives strength to the bone, and it is so brittle that a very slight movement will sometimes cause a fracture.

☞ "Be careful how you drink, or you will wash the color off your cheeks," said a gentleman, as he handed a glass of water to a lady. "There is no danger of your ever taking water enough to wash the color from your face," was the retort.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Hollard Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DIMNESS OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of immitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER AS IMPORTED.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietor, at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the person in healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out that contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they are perfect models of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

THE PLYMOUTH MONUMENT.—Mr. Colburn, one of the original agents for soliciting subscriptions for completing the great "National Monument to the Forefathers," already commenced at Plymouth, Mass.,—is spending a few days among our citizens. He has been employed in this work for about two years, and is thoroughly acquainted with the whole interesting affair. This magnificent enterprise must commend itself to all real Americans—certainly to every true New Englander. The Boston Journal states that the great work is moving forward in earnest—the foundation is being laid, on the site purchased, which includes the spot where lay the Rock on which the Pilgrims landed; and the corner stone is being got out at Quincy. The Monument is to be of granite—of colossal size, and splendid and appropriate design, which Mr. Colburn exhibits; and will cost upwards of a quarter of a million dollars. The whole work is in charge of the "Pilgrim Society," at Plymouth; and Hammott Billings is the designer.

There is a beautiful bronze Statuetto of the Monument, twenty inches high,—about ready to be offered to the public. If we had a decent City Hall, we should hope to see one of these miniature monuments to ornament it; but as it is, the Athenæum or the new Mercantile rooms, seem to be the only public places fit for it. Why can't some liberal patron of one these institutions, cause himself to be remembered, do a public service, and encourage art, by bestowing a$100 on this worthy enterprise?

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD.—We understand that the Boston & Concord, in connection with the Manchester & Lawrence railroad, has entered into a contract to run this road, and to receive as compensation therefor the total income of the road, excepting $15,500, to be paid to the Portsmouth road. $2,500 is also to be expended annually in permanent repairs of the road. The contract takes effect from the 13th of this month, and is continued five years, unless terminated by vote of the stockholders of said roads.

Of course the lease is not in due form till the approval of the Railroad Commissioners, and the Governor and Council is obtained, and that is very easy. This is another stride to Railroad monopoly; a pretty long one too, from the interior of the State to its only seaport. What the Mirror predicted two years ago, is becoming history. The next proper step is for the Concord to take a lease of the Boston, Concord & Montreal road!—Manchester Mirror.

The meeting was then adjourned to the first Monday evening in October.

A DRUNKEN FATHER KILLED BY HIS SON. David Clute, a young man twenty years of age, has been arrested, charged with killing Jacob Clute, his father, aged sixty-five. The son lived with his father in a miserable wooden tenement-house, in Eleventh avenue, between Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth streets. The old gentleman was in the habit of drinking to excess, and when intoxicated was ugly and hard to manage. He came home intoxicated and commenced abusing everybody in the house, when his son, being unable to quiet him otherwise, knocked him down with his fist. The old man fell backward upon the floor, the back of his head striking the floor. He lived but two hours.—N. Y. Times

Lady, thy name I love,
Wilt thou not wonder why?
I have not heard thy laughing tones
Or seen thy love-lit eye.
Thy voice I know is very sweet,
Thine eye serene and mild;
And in thy heart the tenderness
Of a lovely, patient child.
But for thy gentle presence
A brother's life were drear;
Thou art to him both sun and flower,
Through his dark journey here.
The young and gay thou leavest—
Thy brother's lot to share,
O! it would befit an Angel!
Such constant, loving care.
I've dreamed of all the beauty
Your daily life unfolds,
And of the regal casket
Such Heavenly treasure holds.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to the requirements of the active apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the maladies that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are those which more than any other of the medicines of the day, are in demand.

The following are the testimonials from some eminent physicians, of their efficacy in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. B. H. Cornwallis, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are quite equal to your Cherry Pectoral. Their excellent qualities commend any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which is of the highest importance to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose, as a family cathartic, but I have found them invaluable upon the Liver very marked benefit. They have in my practice, often proved the most efficacious remedy for the cure of this obstinate and troublesome complaint. I cheerfully endorse those who have at length a cathartic which is worthy the confidence of the physician and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Moses A. Kent, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me some time since, I have found to be well suited to my practice, and have induced me that they are truly a valuable medicine. So positively are they adapted to the derangement of the digestive organs, that they seldom fail to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I know of no cathartic so certain in its effects as your Pills, and all the more valuable for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Prof. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in high esteem. Of the many cathartics I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious derangements of the digestive organs, and they are also a very acceptable and convenient cathartic for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. H. Emory, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Cincinnati.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, have excellent properties of the natural menses. Also when there is obstruction, they are more effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best cathartic we have that I recommend another to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Hancock, Canada.

"You much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If users of our Injurious have found them so effectual, I will have to add my testimony in their favor. I find it for the benefit of the sedentary who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolific source of many others, and I have no doubt but it is the original in the type, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease."

INDIGESTION OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — ULCERS — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enfield Bell, Philadelphia.

"You were right, quite, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and find them the best cathartic we have for use. They stimulate the secretories, and carry off the impurities that originate in the blood, engendering disease. They effectually eradicate the disease, and I find that they and Wine are the system."

Such remedies as our pills are a national benefit, and we cannot too much commend them.

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — COSTIVENESS — DIZZINESS — DISORDERED DIGESTION — PILES — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"I have found your Pills a most efficacious and agreeable cathartic, and have used them in my family and in my practice with great success in complaints mentioned. I place great dependence on them in my practice, and I have found them effectual in the best of cases, and I have never met with one that I have not found them very highly."

Dose. Some of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral, and may be taken with safety by all.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of it under his own eye, with invariable uniformity and care. It is composed of the most healing balsamic and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It surpasses the purest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, such as Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time rolls on, it proves more and more its virtues, and many are gradually learning the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palace of European kings. Throughout this entire country, and in every civilized country, and almost every house is a witness. CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many places it is authoritatively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any doubt even on what one of every ninth family it has done for them; if we can trust our eyes when we see the daily appearance of the things sold to us; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then it is definitely proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrown upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, and extended its sphere of usefulness from year to year, producing cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the frost may have blanched the locks, bright be the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be smoked and shriveled, hard and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time it my arrived in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original color, and has ever since remained so. A very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

SIGISMUND THALBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who conclude to try it on her hair, little thinking in the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDIN.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I have but confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common an complaint. Wishing you success I remain, yours truly, J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling and turning gray; I was then becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair to its original color, and it has grown on and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds a quart (2 pints) and retails in proportion; than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounding their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, for which suffer from ignorance, that they have known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express to any part of all who may desire them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full explanations and directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, over three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and have been cured, and full parts of cases are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. DIX, post paid, and inclosing a fee, will receive the medicine, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. DIX. Do not be induced to take eight dollars for a remedy to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been gotten up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. 1y2 4ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to purchase Tickets in these Lotteries, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all numbers registered being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten is a prize, on an average, amounting to $90 per quarter, $2,50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number drawing a prize, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; everyone being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of money they are entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Union, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia

All communications strictly confidential. 18ly sept7 No. 6 Exchange Buildings.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LYING IN INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and other chronic diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added to a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Vapors, Medicated Baths, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. Patent Mastic Roofing.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and thus obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its miraculous value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN TO US.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his trade me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The State Temperance Convention of Massachusetts was held in Boston on Tuesday, Sept. 14, and is well described by a letter written for the Newburyport Herald, as one of the most important gatherings of the friends of that reform ever held in the commonwealth; and it was really encouraging to see so full a representation from various sections. Tho' at the hour of opening, 10 o'clock, the attendance was small, yet as the trains came in from different points the audience increased, until the Tremont Temple was filled with a body of earnest laborers, who carried in their countenances a determination that the movement shall be pressed forward with a spirit worthy the cause.

After the organization of the meeting and the appointment of committees, the annual report of the State Committee was read. From this report we learn that a vast amount of labor has been performed during the past year, with the most beneficial results. The re organization of divisions of the Sons of Temperance in many towns and cities had worked beneficially, and the order was now a powerful auxiliary in the furtherance of the reform. The decision of Chief Justice Shaw was regarded as encouraging, aiding a sure execution of the law. The Committee most strongly recommended the organization of temperance leagues in every city, town and village, for the purpose of securing the election to municipal offices of well known and tried friends, who will pledge themselves to use their power to suppress the sale of intoxicating liquors.

A series of resolves were reported to the Convention by the Committee, which were adopted. The resolutions were mainly devoted to a development of the means whereby the statute laws might be made effectual in the suspension of the traffic, it being demonstrated that legal prohibition alone could adequately protect society from the evils of intemperance. We annex two of these resolves, which show the spirit of the whole:—

Resolved, That our laws furnish ample means to suppress the open liquor traffic; that by enforcing those laws any city or town can put a stop to the open sale of liquors at any time; that every sincere or earnest effort made by city or town authorities to enforce them has met with entire success; and that where the open traffic has not been suppressed, it is owing to no defect of the law, but to a shameful and culpable neglect of duty on the part of municipal officers.

Resolved, That the enforcement of the laws against the traffic of intoxicating drinks is not the measure of a party, nor a measure for party or political purposes, but is the demand of society, the right of citizens, amid the wide spread ravages of intemperance; and therefore, in recommending immediate attention to municipal action in reference to these laws, we call upon men of all party politics to unite in electing such men to office as will faithfully secure their enforcement in common with other laws of the Commonwealth.

After the passage of the resolutions, Rev. Dr. Haven presented a State Address, which was adopted and was ordered to be printed. It is an able paper, advocating the enforcement of the liquor law.

Gentlemen from different sections of the State then made brief statements relative to the operation of the law, in their various localities, most of which showed that its execution resulted in great benefit.

The afternoon session was made interesting by a continuance of these reports from different towns and counties. Doct. Charles Jewett occupied a portion of the time in addressing the audience upon the general features of the temperance reform, and the means necessary to secure success. A State Committee was selected, when the Convention adjourned sine die.

A meeting was held in the evening in the Tremont Temple, which was fully attended. Three hundred children occupied the orchestra, and furnished the music.—Addresses were made by Dr. Chas. Jewett and Hon. Neal Dow, and an original hymn was sung by the little girls connected with one of the Bands of Hope.

The temperance people throughout the state have much to hope from the decided and earnest action of this convention, which well represented the the popular sentiment of the commonwealth. If the spirit here manifest pervades the friends of the cause, another year will witness a triumph that has never before been known. The meeting throughout was characterized by harmony in action and union in sentiment; and was just such a gathering as will exert an influence in every community.

☞ Rev. H. D. Moore's Society, in Portland, has voted to raise $2,500, in aid of the Theological Seminary in Bangor.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW.

This great horse show began in Springfield, Mass., on Tuesday, Sept. 14, with success. The weather was propitious to the occasion, and the proceedings of the day fully realised the anticipations of those interested.

The display embraced a large number of the most celebrated horses in the country; the whole numbered almost five hundred. The general cavalcade of horses entered for the exhibition, made the circuit of the grounds in the morning several times, presenting one of the most magnificent equestrian spectacles ever witnessed. In the Park grounds the remainder of the day was mostly occupied with the exhibition of various classes of horses, whose trials of speed and display of superior qualities excited enthusiastic admiration.

In the evening a public reception took place in the City Hall, at which spirited addresses were made by Mayor Phelps, and Dr. Chaffee, of Springfield.

The entries were unusually large, except fruits and flowers. The entries of live stock number 1054, and the miscellaneous 1510.

Mr. Bain, of Zenia, exhibited specimens of the Rarey system of horse-training to an immense crowd. The exhibition of stock was particularly fine, and the entries of horses were fifty more than at any other State fair.

Wednesday, the second day, was as fair and pleasant as could be wished, and the crowd in attendance somewhat larger than the day before; everybody in good humor, and apparently determined to be satisfied. The first item in the day's doings was a display of young stallions, who appeared before the Judges' stand at 9 o'clock.

The first trial of any amount was one between the Long Island horse Jupiter, and the Providence horse Richelieu. After a pretty good trot, the first named easily won in 2.40, and Richelieu 8 seconds behind. A small trot followed, in which a horse called Natick Cobbler made 2.40, and his rival, Rattler, 2.47.

A grand one mile trot between the champion stallions, Ethan Allen and Hiram Drew, came next in order. In the trial, Hiram Drew had the pole, and at the word made a rush, which gave him three or four lengths start, which advantage he held to the last quarter, when he made a bad break, losing pole, lead race and all. Ethan came in ahead in 2.40, and Drew behind in 2.41 1-2. This was the main feature of the day, and shed a halo over the sports of the day.

Thursday, the third day, was a violent rain-storm, and all public operations at the Fair Grounds were suspended. The exhibition will therefore be carried into Saturday, and the premiums will be awarded on that day. The banquet will take place on Friday, as previously advertised.

MUSIC IN SCHOOLS.—The report of the committee on music in the Boston public schools is published, and speaks most encouragingly on the subject. It says—

"But one opinion was expressed by the teachers as to the influence of music upon school discipline. Their united testimony is to the effect that it could not be dispensed without a corresponding increase of disciplinary regulations, and that it exerts a soothing and healthful influence over every grade of scholars, from the youngest to the oldest—over the vicious as well as over those well disposed."

By correspondence with other cities throughout the country, it appears that music is taught more or less in a large majority of public schools, and with advantageous results.

AN EAR FOR MUSIC.—The objection that many young persons "have no ear for music," is worthy of a little attention. Children are great imitators, and we have yet to learn that any are so stupid, in a musical point of view, as not to catch certain airs that are frequently falling on their ears.

"There is in souls a sympathy with sounds,
And as the mind is pitched, the ear is pleased
With medium sire or acute, brisk or grave;
Some chord in unison with what we hear
Is touched within us, and the heart replies."

We are told that William Colton, who was born blind, could not distinguish the tone of a violin from that of a flute at six years of age. He was presented with a piano-forte, which interested him at first only in its curious structure. At length, however, as his ear became more familiar with its notes, he began to be moved by its sounds. An ear for music was rapidly formed, and he finally became one of the best pianists of his day. This may be a remarkable case; but it shows that the aforesaid objection is not valid. The young, who will so perfectly copy every evil example that is set before their eyes, are fully competent to imitate the musical sounds they hear.—N. Y. Musical Pioneer.

The best capital for a young man is a faith that he can do anything in reason, and the will to do it.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—We have Bahia dates of Aug. 6, and Rio Janeiro of Aug. 1st.

At Rio Janeiro on the 18th of July, there was an insurrection of slaves on a small scale, which at one time threatened to become serious. Senor Antonio Ferrari Guilaracs having determined to sell his slaves, they resisted, when he ordered them to be punished. Thereupon they took possession of the house, and barricading the doors, ascended to the roof, whence they assailed the people in the streets with tiles, bricks and pieces of furniture. The slaves resisted all overtures to surrender, until a strong military force was brought to the spot. The soldiers blew open doors of the house with gunpowder, and charged the slaves at the point of the bayonet, but the negroes resisted to the last, and were only captured after a desperate struggle.—There were several persons severely injured on both sides.

MAINE, 3D DISTRICT.—A Portland dispatch of Wednesday evening says:

Col. Johnson (Democrat), who came here to-day from Belfast, claims his election in the 3d Congressional District, and says his opponent cannot count him down below 22 majority.

The Advertiser of Thursday still claims French's election, but has no new returns.

The Argus of Thursday states that Mr. Johnson himself claims the election by about 250 majority.

☞ In the Dover Police Court, Sept. 4, as reported by the Enquirer, we notice these items.

John Lynch, intoxication, disclosed.
Lewis J. Chamberlain, selling liquor, bound over.

Wm. Hurd, enticing away a prisoner, found guilty, bound over.

A CHARLESTON VIEW OF THE NEGRO CAPTIVES.—The Charleston, S. C., Mercury contains a letter from a correspondent, who signs himself "a Charlestonian," and who describes the appearance and suffering condition of the negroes from the slaver "Echo." We give a few brief extracts from his description.

Mr. Editor:—Your very interesting account of these people, almost renders further description unnecessary. But as some of the recent contributions to your paper presented a picture altogether bright, I would be glad to show both sides.

Of those in health, or comparatively so, I found about 250—of whom some fifty were females. There were about fifty others, (I do not pretend to exactness in figures,) in the sick wards in various stages of disease. * * * *

The result of the whole visit was intense sympathy for them, and indignation towards their captors. You may read of the horrors of the "middle passage," but the half cannot be told as one view of these unfortunates will tell the tale. Dysentery, dropsy and opthalmia—all, I believe, the productions of contact, want of ventilation, and want of exercise—are the the prevailing deceases. But even where these were not visible, the spectacle was harrowing. A skeleton taken down from the nail of a doctor's closet, and presented to your view, would scarcely be more descriptive of anatomy than many of these living, walking specimens of the human frame. The effect was very startling, when you saw them squatting on their haunches, with their knees drawn up behind their elbows, in an attitude common to baboons and apes, but which no human frame clothed in flesh can attain. Some, when sitting, and told to rise, did so with great difficulty, and moved with a step as tottering as I ever saw after illness. The very head seemed nothing but a skull encased in a black covering. It is common to speak of a man being reduced to skin and bone, but one who saw these can scarcely use the expression again.

But if this is to be said of those comparatively in health, what language can describe the sick? I saw one poor creature swollen to the most wonderful size with dropsy; and as he lay on his back, he moved his hands, signifying to one of our party a request for his segar, which, when given him, he smoked with the greatest avidity. Another manifested similar wants, and replied to our beckonings to come to us, by pointing to his leg, which we construed into inability to move. Two lay near, whose troubles here had ceased in death: while another, the most affecting sight of all—a child of six or eight years, lay on its side in the sun on the stone wharf, with eyes closed, and no other evidence of life than the slight motion of the stomach indicating breathing. The poor creature, alone and unattended, had rested its head on its little hand as naturally as our own little ones do, and in this touching attitude of suffering childhood was last losing the consciousness of a life whose experience had been only that of sorrow and suffering.

One thing impressed me forcibly—the complete docility, amounting to mere mechanical submission, of all these creatures. In the sick ward the physicians were applying caustic to the eyes of their patients. When this painful remedy was applied—and poor creatures, they knew not that it was a remedy, or anything but part of the system of cruelty to which they had been subjected—they covered their faces with their hands in pain, and with their heads all bowed in meek submission; and, though many were young children, not a sound nor a murmur escaped. The scene was truly touching. To one of any sensibility, the horrors of a battle-field were less so. I left the scene, chastened and humbled, but with gratitude, too, I trust, to Almighty God for a lot cast in a Christian land.

THE GOLD IN KANSAS.—St. Louis, Sept. 15.—Prominent gentlemen from the West fully corroborates the previous statements relative to the existence of rich gold diggings in the region of Pike's Peak. A company of 100 persons left Kansas City on Monday last, and other companies are being formed in nearly all the towns in the Territory, and along the Missouri River.

PROFESSIONAL TESTIMONY.

Dr. W. H. ELLIOTT, a distinguished Dentist, gives the following voluntary testimony:

I have taken the liberty without your permission, to examine critically your Persian Balm as a Dentifrice. I find that it is incapable of injuring the finest enamel; though the specimens I employed were immersed in the Balm for twenty-four hours at a time, under different degree of heat varying from what may be termed cold to the temperature of the blood, and though it readily dissolved the tartar or incrustation upon the teeth, it left the enamel in a perfectly healthy condition. In a practice of twenty years I have not seen anything so deserving of confidence as a Dentrifice.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER, and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, confiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH,
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples and eruptions, melts them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and ceases to secrete, thus preventing out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the features of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris to attend a ball or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

LOCAL.

☞ Hon. Neal Dow, of Portland, delivered a temperance lecture at the Temple in this city, on Wednesday evening, to a good audience, who were invited by the Portsmouth Washingtonians.

Rev. Dr. Lamson opened the services with prayer.

Several of the city pastors were on the platform.

Mr. Dow spoke of old usages, contrasted with the present ones, which latter are better than the former.—and contrasted license with prohibition, condemning the former and advocating the latter.

Besides these topics he dwelt largely upon the physical effects of alcoholic liquors, whether used as drinks or medicines. He is of the opinion, as many others are, that Bourbon Whiskey, and other liquors that are very commonly prescribed by some practicing physicians, are usually and generally injurious, pernicious and destructive.

For this opinion, he gave reasons, and quoted experiments recently made in England and Scotland, strengthening his reasons for wishing a medical reform, so far as to have a more intelligent and safer prescription, than such an indiscriminate and careless use of fiery and dangerous stimulants.

He was heard with profound attention.

Mr. Editor:—The following account of a case treated by me in 1848, is at your service:

A child six years old drank from a vial partly full of Laudanum, but how much was swallowed could not be ascertained.

It not only produced complete insensibility, but there was no pulse except very slight in the carotid artery; not the least sign of respiration could be perceived, and the child was pale as death.

I immediately called for scalding water, and applied it to the child's feet with a handful of cotton cloth. In a moment or two it drew up its feet, gasped, and then relapsed into its death-like appearance.—Again I applied the scalding water with the same result, and at each relapse it seemed as though it was its last death gasp. Thus I continued sitting for three whole hours on a foot-stool at this child's feet, applying hot water to them with a cloth as often as the child would cease to draw them up from me; and saved the child's life. The friends, except the mother, begging me not to punish the child with the hot water, saying it would do no good, as the child was all but dead and must die.

Warm water will not answer; it must be hot, or it will do no good in such extreme cases. The battery will not work to arouse the brain with anything short of hot water. The child's feet were not blistered by the hot water, as it was kept on them only until they were drawn from me.

This treatment was followed by stimulating injections, beef tea, and an occasional application of the hot water for the next twelve hours, so as to prevent sleep.

☞ The Democratic State Convention assembled at Syracuse, New York, Sept. 17.—There was a double delegation from New York city, with E. F. Purdy for leader of one, and Ex-Mayor Wood of the other.—A grand struggle ensued. Finally, the Committee on Contested Seats reported at evening session in favor of the admission of the entire Tammany delegation, and the Wood men all withdrew fom the Convention under protest.

☞ At Lancaster, Pa., (Pres. Buchanan's home,) Sept. 15, in the Democratic County Convention, Jas. M. Hopkins was nominated for Congress by acclamation, amid great enthusiasm. He made a speech accepting the nomination, and took strong ground against sectional strife and Abolitionism; for the admission of Kansas with any population, and with such a tariff as would put any furnace in blast.

A young lady who wore spectacles, exclaimed in a voice of sentimental enthusiasm, to a young plowman who was walking along the road: "Do you, sir, appreciate the beauty of that landscape? Oh, see those darling sheep and lambs!" "Them's hogs, miss" was the stentorian reply.

The execution at Auburn seems to have whetted the appetite for blood, so that petitions, we understand, are in circulation, requesting Gov. Morrill to issue a warrant for the execution of Knights, who has been in the State's Prison for sometime past.—Portland Adv.

We suppose Gov. Morrill will keep the man,—make him get out stone and do other hard work,—seat him on the stool of repentance, or penance, and keep him there as long as his Maker sees fit to let him live. That's the way they have managed in Maine for many years—and during this time murders there have not increased!

THE DAY OF GREAT THINGS.—The Bangor Union gives us any thing but a "small potatoes" item. It says: "A hundred potatoes brought to this city by Mr. Parker, of Orneville, weighed eighty-five pounds. Some of the largest weighed a pound and a half each. Can any one do better?"

The Bangor Jeffersonian, to be up with it, informs us that Mr. Wing of that city, pulled a beet from his garden on Saturday, which measures six feet and one inch from top to bottom, and iweghs 8 pounds. It pleasantly adds: "It is the tallest specimen of a beet we have ever seen or heard of. The whole of it may be seen in our sanctum, and a large part of it from State street, through our sanctum window.—Moses of Skowhegan, the biggest editor in the State, can sit in the shade of its foliage."

☞ The Salmon Falls, N. H., correspondent of the Boston Herald says:

We learn that there is considerable sickness in Berwick, Me., just accross the river from us. There are nearly twenty persons sick in the south part of that village. The prevailing cause is said to be impure water. Some eminent chemists are busy in examining and analyzing the water.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The President has ordered the further postponement of the Kansas land sales till July next. The reason for this is stated to be the financial pressure on the country, and the consequent inability of settlers to prove up and pay under the proclamation ordering the sale in November. The lands comprise three millions of acres. The President has ordered the new land office about to be established in New Mexico, to be located at Santa Fe.

Gen. Harney to-day received final orders before leaving for the military district of Oregon.

There was much more fact than fancy in the cross reply of an unfortunate female culprit, when under cross examination in a petty court, by a browbeating limb of the law. "Madam," he demanded, "what sort of conduct have you pursued through life, that should subject you to the suspicion of this outrage upon the plaintiff?" She answered, "Impudence, which has been the making of you, has caused my ruin."

"You have lost year baby, I hear," said one gentleman to another. "Yes, poor little thing—it was only five months old. We did all we could for it. We had four doctors, blistered its head and feet, put mustard poultices all over it, gave it nine calomel powders, leeched its temples, had it bled, and gave it all kinds of medicines, and yet, after a week's illness, he died." Strange.

PERSONAL.—Bishop Doane of New Jersey has forbidden Rev. Richard A. Carden of Philadelphia, to again officiate in the diocese of Philadelphia, because during a recent visit to Cape May he invited a Methodist clergyman to assist him in the administration of the sacrament.

DISASTROUS FIRE.—Baltimore, Sept. 15. A fire this morning damaged the Custom House to the amount of $10,000. A number of valuable papers in the Naval office were destroyed and the building flooded with water.

DEATH OF PROF. YOUNG.—Mr. Ira Young, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy in Dartmouth College, died at his residence at Hanover, on the 13th inst., aged 57 years. His disease was the calculus. He was, we bol'eve, a native of Lebanon, and graduated at Dartmouth College in 1828. He was tutor in the same College from 1830 to 1833. Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy and Astronomy. He was eminont as a man of science, and most highly respected by his pupils and all who know him.—Cong. Jour.

are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are endorsed in every many vacilities of disease.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. R. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their alterative effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious for the cure of bilious complaints than any remedy I am acquainted with."

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

From Dr. Thomas Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their alterative effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious for the cure of bilious complaints than any remedy I am acquainted with."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in as great esteem as any other cathartic I have found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. E. Sweet, also practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in removing worms from children. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. A. P. Nevin, Baltimore.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. I, of course, of our profession have found them as effectual as I have, they should from use be proscribed. It is the benefit of this quality of your Pills, that I, and many complaint, which although not enough to kill, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness originates in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENZA OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Samuel Bell, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in your belief that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with you in all the statements of their efficacy. They eradicate the humors from the blood, and the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They eliminate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — LIVER COMPLAINT — FLUTTERING — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I prescribed with your Pills, but I can tell you all did my patients good. For myself, individual, I place great dependence on their efficacy in my daily practice, and I do not hesitate to say I do that your Pills afford us the best aperient, and course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy, is injurious to the system, and should be taken only by a physician. Not so with these Pills, which are offered to a public gift, from the decided disagreement that frequently follows its injurious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one who has used it knows the virtues of the cherry and rye. It is sealed and potent, by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the purest remedy the world has known for the cure of all ordinary coughs, colds, pleurisy, for Consumptives, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive sufferers in the advanced stages of the disease. As experience makes these facts wider and more known, the medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American pioneer to the palaces of Europe. It is now recognized throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains. CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know it is short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is the evidence conclusive that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits to the afflicted they can neither forget nor doubt, and cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brilliant in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair is thin, scattered, dry, shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently cure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poetess, Thalbery:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful preparation, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyllelydet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir,—Some time ago six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair. little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the grey hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CAROLINE CLARKE.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever used. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness and itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KIDDY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 15, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Restoratives to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 25 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $1.50; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums possess a power over almost all morbid or bad matter in the system, stopping in their place a healthy flow of the bowels, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, giving a healthy tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the distress, and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One dose taken when dizzy, relieves Colic.

One dose taken a short time before each meal, gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its severest form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its efficacy in these cases.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow the mixture deeply.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious invasion of Secret Diseases, who are daily and hourly suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician. he would state that he can be consulted on the subject by mail, or by letter, or by personal examination, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

DR. DIX and a qualified diploma will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and he has cured them. Testimonials from parties are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, Boston, Mass., will receive medicine in all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of your hopes—your manhood.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by unscrupulous pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have a sworn commissioner appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything is conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the perfect system of Medical Insulation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Insulation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Insulation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are well known to every intelligent person in this and adjacent towns; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of each prize, is well filed to. will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing tailored many year to combine combustibility with answer the above purposes, and thus obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the expense of Gravel Roofing and of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the Several trials, he would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most emphatically insert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every dose option, either steep or flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved more or less failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

HOME SEALING.—On Saturday afternoon last some of our sportsmen were on the qui vive, discovering a Seal, as large as a six weeks' calf, in the north mill pond. He had entered the gates on the flow of the tide, and was playing around the pond from the bridge to nearly opposite the alms house. After one or two shots had been made, he would venture to put his head out of water but a few moments at a time—now showing himself on one side of the pond, and three minutes after on the opposite. Before the gates closed, a company gathered around them to seize him if he should make an effort to escape. But without being perceived he passed out, and popped up in defiance on the outside, before taking his final departure.

Seals have several times been seen in the mill pond in former times. About fifty years ago two were shot there.

MARBLE SCULPTURE.—A conception of Truth is to be seen at Mr. French's studio, over Dr. Kimball's store. The design is original, and has been the labor of the past spring and summer, ever since the completion of the bust of Samuel Badger, Esq. by the same artist. Lovers of art will not fail to look at it, and will be well repaid by a visit to his studio. The various other works of the artist are also displayed. It is much to be hoped that a deserving young artist so near us will be encouraged in his profession by those who can well afford their patronage.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

MORE OF FURNITURE POLISH.—Not long since one of our apothecaries came into his shop on Monday morning and found his counter covered with eight-ounce phials. His clerk informed him that a stranger had been in with a prescription and wished to have six dozen bottles of it put up. It was equal parts of sweet oil, spirits of turpentine and alcohol. Soon after the stranger came in, and it was agreed to put them up for 8 cents per bottle. After one dozen were filled, a dollar was paid, and the fellow departed.

Noon at length arrives, and the apothecary goes home to dinner. O Mr. ——, said his lady, as he entered the house, you do not know how I have been plagued this forenoon by a man with furniture polish. It is a busy day, you know, and when the bell rang, I sent word that I was engaged. "But I have a special business," said the caller, "and I must see the lady of the house." When I came down, I found him rubbing the stair banisters, then putting a gloss upon the back of a chair, and then rubbing the piano—all the while commending his rare polish, for which he asked only a dollar a bottle. The lady, who always adopted the wise rule to buy nothing of travelling pedlers, gave him to understand that he was an impudent fellow to say that he had special business.—She did not want his stuff. "But, marm, Mrs. P. and Mrs. S. have each given me a dollar for a bottle. You see how little I have used in polishing all these things. As the bottle is not full you may have it for seventy-five cents." He was told that her husband was a chemist and could prepare such things himself. "What is his name?" Mr. ——, was the reply. The Polisher said no more, as a remembrance seemed to come into his mind—and he speedily left for some more promising field of operations. He sold that day to many families the above sixpenny mixture at twelve hundred per cent. advance.

DONATI'S COMET.—The comet seen in the northwest in the evening, and again in the morning before sunrise, in the northeast, is Donati's, having first been discovered by this astronomer on the 2d of June last. It is brighter than any which has appeared since the great comet of 1843.

The best view of the comet can be had in the morning, about 3 1-2 or 4 o'clock. The direction of its tail points towards the north polar star. The velocity of the comet, when at its perihelion, is about 150,000 miles per hour. Its distance from the Earth at this time, says the Boston Traveller, roughly estimated, is about 87,000,000 miles. The tail is at least 6,000,000 miles in length.

As this comet is now rapidly approaching the earth, it will increase in brightness for a few weeks to come, and will be seen later and later every night.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ENGLAND.—We find no other mention made of the Atlantic Cable, except notice of the grand banquet in Dublin on the 1st, at which Mr. Field was toasted. European politics stagnant.

RUSSIA.—A powder magazine, containing 200,000 lbs. exploded in Astrakan on the Caspian Sea. Half the town is destroyed, and half the inhabitants killed.

TURKEY.—Threats of death to the Christians had been made at Tripoli, and the French Consul at Beyrout had proceeded there to insist on measures of protection.

CHINA.—Among other stipulations of the American Chinese treaty, as published, are the following:

Direct correspondence between the American Ministry and the Government at Pekin. Permanent residence there is conceded to the Powers.—Suppression of piracy. Opening of new ports, including Taiwan, in Formosa. The United States never to pay higher duties than the most favored nation. Double tonnage abolished. Absolute toleration for Christianity, and the U. S. Legation to be at Shanghae instead of Canton.

The Mississippi was at Hong Kong. The Minnesota, Powhatan and Antelope were in the Gulf of Pecheli.

A rare chance for a good Horse, &c. is offered at the auction to-day. Those who have seen Dr. Fuller with his fine establishment in use, need no commendation from us. There was once a man who would have given a Kingdom for such a Horse.

☞ Letters from Mexico state that the loss and destruction of property by the present civil war, have amounted to over $100,000,000. The number of men estimated under arms in the country is 50,000.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1858.

JUDGE BREESE OF ILLINOIS.

It was reported, by telegraph, just in season to effect the Maine election, that Judge Breese, the Buchanan candidate for U. S. Senator from Illinois, had declined to oppose Douglas; and it was intended to be understood in Maine, that the two kinds of Democrats in Illinois,-were all one now. This purported to come, and it seems now did come, from a paper in the neighborhood of both Douglas and Breese,—but it was a bogus affair, put into that paper for the purpose of producing a momentary effect on elections in New England.

But we give a letter below from Judge Breese, in which he shows that he has not declined, and in which he alludes to Douglas as the Destroyer of the Democratic party. This letter shows that between the Buchanan and Douglas factions in Illinois, there is a deadly breach.

Judge Breese is a native of the State of New York, and is a brother of Commander Breese, U. S. N. Many years since he was elected a supreme judge in Illinois; and in 1843 he was elected to the U. S. Senate, where he served till '49.

Near the close of this term, when a candidate for re-nomination, he was beaten in the Democratic Caucus by a majority of one vote, by Gen. Shields, who was fresh from the battle-fields of Mexico.

He was then returned to the House of Representatives in the Illinois Legislature, and elected speaker.

And then he was elected back to the Supreme Bench, from the celebrated Egyptian Circuit or District; as the people of each circuit in Illinois choose their own judges.

The politics of the Egyptian district are such that Mr. Lincoln could not get a single vote there for the Legislature.

Now the stronghold of Douglas, as against Lincoln, is this Egyptian Circuit, where Breese also has his popularity.

These circumstances, with the desperate efforts of Douglas, the critical condition of his party, and the determination of Breese to fight it out, give a great zest to the struggle there: and the knowledge of them will make our readers peruse the following letter.

[From the St. Louis Republican.]

CARLYLE, Sept. 7, 1858.

REV. W. F. BOYAKIN, Editor of the Belleville Democrat:

Dear Sir: I demand, as a right, to know who requested you to say, as you have said in an editorial in your paper of the 4th instant, that "Judge Breese is not, nor will he be, a candidate for the United States Senate in opposition to Mr. Douglas; and all that has been said in reference to his stumping the State against the Democratic party is without any foundation whatever."

The article is artfully prepared, but it will not deceive, if such was its object.

It never has been said in any paper, or elsewhere, by any body, that I intend to stump the State against the Democratic party; hence, your disclaimer was wholly unnecessary. You might have sworn on Caspar Thiell's Bible, that I never would be found in opposition to the great Democratic party of the nation, whose hardest battles I have helped to fight and win, for more than a quarter of a century. You might take your oath of that without fear.

But I think, friend Boyakin, your ideas of Democracy and mine differ, most essentially. You will pardon me for saying that yours seem to be concentrated in one man, whilst mine embrace great principles. Yours seem to tend to the disruption and debauchery of that great party: mine to its conservation and purity. Yours, if carried out, will annihilate it; mine will restore it to its pristine vigor.

What position I may consider it my duty to assume in this contest, now so fiercely waged against the Democracy of the nation, its cherished and time-honored principles, and fiercer still against him to whom that portion of the nation has committed the power, will depend on circumstances.

Of one thing you may be assured, and my past life is the guarantee, that I will not be silent or inactive when I see, or think I see, that great party in danger from conspirators within its own bosom, or from foes without. The last are least to be dreaded, as their attacks are open in the sunlight, and manly. The conspirator deals his blows secretly; he gets up false issues for the occasion, under cover of which he makes his attack. This species of warfare is now in progress, and I am surprised you do not see it.

They may destroy the citadel, but the foundations will remain; they are everlasting; "the eternal years of God are theirs," and on them the national edifice will be re-built, attracting the masses by the beauty of its design, the solidity of its structure, and by the pure purposes to which it will be again dedicated. It will afford us shelter from selfish and intractable ambition, and around its altars will be found none but true and faithful worshippers.

Lend a helping hand to save the party from the assaults of the destroyer, to which you cannot and ought not to be insensible. Thus shall you be honored of men. Thus shall you be a bright light and a safe guide for our people. Thus only can you preserve the principles you claim to reverence.

I hope you will publish this letter, and send me the name of the person who gave the authority you have exercised in regard to me and my name.

Very truly and respectfully, your obedient servant, SYDNEY BREESE.

DEATH OF TRAVELLERS IN SWITZERLAND. On the first of August, two boat loads of travellers left the town of Nyon, on the Lake of Geneva, to go on board two steamers bound to the opposite end of the lake. By some mismanagement, one of the steamers ran into one of the boats and cut her in two. There were forty persons on board the boat, one-half of whom were drowned or crushed to death.

This might have been avoided by wharves and jetties. These are peculiar to our race. In England they abound to such an extent which astonishes foreigners, but on the coast of the United States they far exceed in number those of the mother country. In the midst of the remote islands on the coast of Maine, in our sounds, bay and inlets, and up our many rivers, jetties and wharves are everywhere to be seen: but on the continent of Europe and in many other parts of the world, the jealousy of a small number of miserable boatmen prevents their construction.

FRAZER RIVER.—The Frazer river excitement has lost much of its interest with its novelty. The emigration thitherward from California has almost entirely ceased, all the floating population having already been carried off. In the meantime, the mines are again looking up, after their sudden depression, from the flight of the miners northward; and business generally throughout California appears to be prosperous. The famers just at present are getting ready to attend the annualy Agricultural Fair, which begins at Marysville on the 23d of August, and which, it is anticipated will be very successful.—The Fair of the Mechanics' Institute comes off in San Francisco the first week in September.

☞ The Manchester Mirror says the storm of Thursday was very severe there. Three of the very large pines on the east side of Merrimack Square, were blown down—flat to the ground. Also two or three on Concord Square, and in other places, have been blown down, or greatly damaged.

The American says 50 by 30 feet of the tin covering of the new passenger depot was torn off, and blown over the old depot into the street. The old depot belonging to the New Hampshire Central Road, a two story building some sixty feet in length, is blown down. The tops of the elms near the residence of Waterman Smith, are broken off. The work of demolition is quite evident on Elm street, in the way of canvas, signs and awnings.

☞ Rev. Joseph H. Towne, late of Bridgeport, Ct., accepted a call in July last to the Fiftieth Street Presbyterian Church, in New York; and after an informal pastorate of about six weeks, he has taken leave of his N. Y. church, and accepted a call from a new church in Rochester, with a salary of $3000.

☞ The Mormons are reaping a golden harvest from the U. S. troops. Prices at Salt Lake City are about four times as great as ever before.

☞ Gov. Denver has decided at last that Kansas is to have an election for members of the Legislature, in October, on the same basis as the election of last year.

Every virtue gives a man a degree of felicity of some kind. Honesty gives a man a good report; justice, estimation; prudence, respect; courtesy and liberality, affection; temperance gives health; fortitude, a quiet mind, not to be moved by adversity.

PROFESSIONAL TESTIMONY.
Dr. W. H. ELLIOTT, a distinguished Dentist, gives the following voluntary testimony:
I have taken the liberty without your permission, to examine critically your Persian Balm as a Dentrifrice. I find that it is incapable of injuring the finest enamel; though the specimens I employed were immersed in the Balm for twenty-four hours at a time, under different degrees of heat varying from what may be termed cold to the temperature of the blood, and though it readily dissolved the tartar or incrustation upon the teeth, it left the enamel in a perfectly healthy condition. In a practice of twenty years I have not seen anything so deserving of confidence as a Dentrifice.

"TIGHTNESS OF THE CHEST,"
Commonly so called, is instantly relieved by bathing the chest with R. R. Relief.
BAD COLDS,
As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat, or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will entail more serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Radway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold; and the continued use of the R. R. R. Remedies will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It acts powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the phegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given entire relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. PRESTON, agent for Portsmouth. s15 1w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CUTANEOUS DISEASES.
Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system.

☞ Never write on a subject without having first read yourself full on it.—If you wish a splendid complexion in a few hours use Gardner's Pimple Destroyer; it removes mosquito bites instantly. Sold by all Druggists.

THE UNIVERSAL SPECIFIC.
Thousand have tried the Persian Balm for the toilette, for a dentrifice, for scalds, wounds, burns, chilblains, for the hair, for removing grease from clothing, carpets, &c., and it has never been known to fail. It is a real luxury.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ringworms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches and Nurse Rheum, Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it pen trates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever saw a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound A. Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS and the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints (thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, Butterers and Dealers in Wines and Spirits. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Morse, 116 Blacketone st; M. Dow & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is now induced by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ On Friday afternoon, while the family were absent for an hour or two, the house of Mr. N. T. Moulton, in Auburn street, was entered, by breaking a pane of glass and unfastening a window. The drawers of three or four bureaus were opened, ransacked, and with the contents left in the most admirable disorder. A little boy's board of money, four or five dollars, was emptied from his box and stolen; a lady's wallet and its contents carried off, making the theft of money about twelve dollars.—A silver fruit was stolen, and probably some other articles. The thief cut his hand with the glass, as some spots of blood were found on the premises. Look out for thieves!

THE ROCKINGHAM FAIR MUSIC.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice you have copied from the last Exeter News Letter, an article stating that "the expense of the music at the Co. Fair is not taken from the funds of the society, but raised mostly by subscription in Exeter."

I learn that the band from Boston is to be paid $200, or more; the President of the Society has recently stated that $130 was voted from the funds of the Society, to pay for the music at the Fair, consequently the citizens raise about one third, and the County pay the remaining two thirds. Quite a pretty little sum to have been disbursed among our own excellent bands, whom we deem worthy of all the public favor the County can give. There are, out of Exeter, those who know how and by whom the Boston band was engaged; and these would, if allowed, have had Dodworth's N. Y. Band. The managers of the State Fair at Dover have wisely engaged a State band, even a Rockingham County band, which for the three days are not paid the half the Germanians are to receive for two days, and will to the masses give as good satisfaction.

But my object was to correct the statement from the News-Letter, which I anticipate will be done in their next issue. Please say "Home Made" is not

ROCKINGHAM.

For the Chronicle.

FIFTEEN MINUTES AT A DEPOT.—During this brief interval, while passengers are changing cars, much transpires to amuse, to vex, to touch the sympathies of a careful observer. Could we recall those moments, could we deliver that message we then felt impressed to do, we should feel relieved of a burden that weighs heavily upon our spirits.

Six young lads, whose ages varied from 12 to 17, stood in a group aside from other passengers. There was an earnestness in their conversation, a hurried look on each countenance, except the sixth, who appeared indifferent to all that was passing among the other five, as one would naturally feel where there is no congeniality of spirit. They held a consultation whether they would all agree to call on one of those haunts of wickedness and debauchery where the young and inexperienced are taken in that net of vice whose meshes are woven with cords of iniquity.

They had resolved to go. The fifth wanted some urging. Soon the cause was ascertained—he had not the precious coin. Half a dime was passed to him by one of his companions; the sixth stood firm, immovable; one inquires if he would not join them; O no, was the reply, you cannot get him; let us go, it is of no use to ask him.

With sorrow we heard the dreadful decision—we will go. Now what will you take? One made answer, I will take wine. They hasten to that house whose steps take hold on destruction; our eyes followed them till they entered, where we know not but the first glass was taken. The downward course to ruin was pictured in all its horrible coloring. O that we could have had moral courage to have spoken to those young men while not under their parents eye. Little did they think that among the crowd a stranger's sympathies were drawn to them; that a stranger felt interested for their welfare; for their friends, from whose restraint they now felt free—who knew not the temptation they would be exposed to on their tour.

Would a word fitly spoken, a word in season, have saved these five respectable-looking young men? Were they scholars from some neighboring Academy returning after vacation? We had many conjectures—the influence of these five young persons on future generations, for good or evil, how far reaching! what an amount of good by them might be accomplished! How gratified we were that one did resist the temptation. We trust he will be kept from that demon of destruction—that he will avoid the company of those who would entice him into places of vice and immorality.

We are resolved never to let an opportunity pass unimproved again. We will give a word of counsel, whether they will receive or reject it. M——E.

GET OUT!—An intolerable nuisance, are the numberless curs,—"of unknown origin," and without visible owners,—that infest our city. An equestrian party was followed and bayed at by nine large dogs, and several small ones, the other day; and a gentleman on his way home, in the evening, was bitten by a quarrelsome cur.—He is of opinion that that dog won't bite him more than once more.

☞ One of our correspondents states that he is living high, now-a-days, on Smelts which he catches in the river. We should like to get sight at a mess.

THE OLD CELLAR.—Don't forget to call into Morse's, and get the conclusion of Shillaber's interesting story, in the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

☞ The Calithumpians of West End were exceedingly jubilant on Thursday evening, on account of the marriage of a resident of that locality. For an hour or more the neighborhood of Cabot street was resonant with the discharge of fire-arms, the flourish of fish-horns, and music of a like grade.

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, Sept. 16. We have advices from Leavenworth to 13th per U. S. Express Co. at Booneville today. The Salt Lake mail arrived at St. Joseph on the 16th inst., having made the trip in twenty days. The Mormons continued to arrive in the city from the South, and were entering upon their usual avocations.

Brigham Young still keeps himself concealed, and lives in constant danger and fear of the vengeance of his own people, who have become greatly incensed at the unveiling of his numerous frauds. This confirms the former reports.

One company of troops had left Fort Bridger for Oregon, and others would leave soon. The Indians were all quiet.

Full reports confirm the news of the South Platte gold mine. Several traders and mountaineers were met, who said that they had been to the mines and had in their possession many specimens of gold found there. They say that many miners were without tools, had no other appliances except tin pans, and were getting from three to five dollars per day. Many traders and others were met en route for the gold regions.

THE FIRST OVERLAND CALIFORNIA MAIL. St. Louis, Sept. 16.—The first overland California mail, via Jefferson City and Springfield, Mo. Fort Smith, Ark, and Preston, Texas, took its departure from St. Louis Post Office this morning. It goes by the Pacific Railway to Tipton, Mo., thence by coaches and wagons to San Francisco. Fare from St. Louis to San Francisco, $200.

JUDGE BREESE, of Illinois, publishes a letter in the Missouri Republican, on the subject of Illinois politics. He denies that he is not a candidate for the Senate, and also the assertion that he supports Judge Douglas. He likewise denounces all conspirators and disorganizers against the honor and integrity of the Democratic party, and says he will follow that party and no single person.

Put into plainer English, Judge Breese says he is a candidate for the Senate, opposed to Douglas. [See another column.]

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament that adorns the all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom even so brightly in the glowing cheek, there are few or very fading, the locks of those of roses. If the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be marled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, it will two to three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pomist, Thatcher.

NEW YORK, April 18, 1868.

DR. WOOD — Dear Sir — Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the effect restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but, on the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours, etc.

S. THATCHER.

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Spring st., Apr. 17, '68.

PROF. O. J. WOOD — Dear Sir — Some month or six weeks ago I bought a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who, conceiled to try it on her hair little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color; but she was so surprised, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend your Hair Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDON.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1867.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark, and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved my scalp of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNEY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1867.

PROF. WOOD — About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and thinning away. I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up raw out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HESS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds 1 pint, the medium holds 3 ordinary bottles and lasts 50 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 50 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that thousands of young men are yearly falling victims to the pernicious practice of towns, surrendering their lives to the fashionable inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still lurking in the vicinity, endeavor to make known their complaints, and consequently, feel a desire to state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, free from observation of the disease be sent, the letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases have been treated by him, entirely treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are from the country, and have been cured.

Patients treated by letter in addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Be particular in sending Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with the cheap and worthless remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivaled in efficacy and simplicity, being to regulate all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same name, or similar name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effect of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston, New York or Philadelphia.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is conducted in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager counts it fortunate and a position to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the Lottery Law of that State has been authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next after date of the same, and although it is according to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and it is so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $10,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to ticket holders.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. The money will be promptly sent direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivaled opportunities and advantage of pathological research, aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, great, and successful course of treatment, with a positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vaporized curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation (Air) alone, to the exclusion of general medication, and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it necessary, that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long and the honored presided, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, though always philanthropic and the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or those who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce, in conclusion, that I can now consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling-Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—For one month's treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Terms as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, in the expiration of the month. The patient will be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and the symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he solicits to treat a case only where he gives Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where any reasonable argument for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—18 6m

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purpose, and has succeeded. Difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will find fully answered all its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin at much less expense than the tin, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a seven test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

CHLOROFORM ROBBERY.—The Cheshire Republican reports that in Stoddard N. H., on the night of the third inst., the dwelling house occupied by two unmarried daughters of the late Isaac Robinson was entered through a window by a rogue, who proceeded to the room occupied by the young ladies, whom he stupefied with chloroform, and then entered on a search for the sum of $1200, which had been paid to one of the young ladies on the day previous, and which had been carefully put away in a closet. This he secured, and then disappeared without doing any further mischief. It is believed there is a clue to the burglar which will lead to his arrest.

☞ The New Hampshire Domestic Mission Society (of the orthodox congregationalists,) at their late meeting in Hampton, resolved to enlarge their operations, and to apply to the Massachusetts Home Mission Society for a grant of money.

They also

Resolved, That the State be divided into three districts; the first embracing the Counties of Coos and Grafton; the second, the Counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Belknap and Carroll; the third, the Counties of Merrimack, Hillsborough, Sullivan and Cheshire; and that to each district a District Missionary be appointed, who shall labor personally in these destitute fields, secure organizations and introduce other laborers as he is able, secure the services of the settled ministry as far as practicable to preach where no other preaching can be had;—each District Missionary to receive such portion of his salary from the people among whom he labors as they can be induced to subscribe.

We recommend that the District Missionaries be invited to sit and deliberate with the Board of Trust, but not to vote.

We recommend that in every case what is due the Missionaries be promptly paid when due.

☞ The late Eliphalet Greeley, of Portland, by his will donated to the town of Cumberland, Me., after the death of his wife, the sum of $20,000, as a fund to sustain a free High School for both sexes, besides ample and separate funds for the erection of a Seminary and the purchase of the proper apparatus, &c., for the instruction of the children of the town. One of the specifications of the will is that the Bible shall be read in the proposed Seminary daily.

☞ David L. Miller has invented a machine embracing the three principles of the wedge, lever and screw, with which a workman at Norris Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, weighing 156 pounds, lifted with facility the enormous weight of 37,332 pounds—more than eighteen tons—merely by the application of his strength through his hands to the lever.

☞ Mr. George Hills, of Boston, who died on the 8th inst., at the age of 85, left the following named legacies to public objects:—To the Fifth Universalist Society (Rev. T. B. Thayer's in Warren street), $4000. The Association for the Relief of Aged Indigent Females, $1000. The Perkins Institution and Massachusetts Asylum for the Blind, $1000. The Massachusetts General Hospital, $1000.

☞ Mr. Bird, farmer, at Burton, Eng., has sustained a heavy loss in a singular manner. He had a flock of 867 sheep, which were recently "dipped" in a chemical solution used for destroying ticks, &c., and then turned out to grass. It is supposed that this solution was washed off the sheep by a shower of rain, and fell upon the grass, which, being eaten by the sheep, poisoned them. Only 26 out of the flock of 867 remained alive.

☞ The Gardiner (Me.) Rural Intelligencer says: "Our corn-growing weather has come at last. The hottest of the season has been the last week. On Thursday at noon, the mercury stood in several of the coldest places, all the way from 84° to 96° in the shade. Corn is late, but is now about filled out, and a few days more without frost will place it beyond danger.

☞ To purify the river Thames, about two hundred and fifty tons of lime are every day thrown into it near the London sewers, at an expense of $7500 per week. Men have also been engaged during the period of low water, in covering both banks with lime.

☞ To most men, experience is like the stern lights of a ship, which illumines only the track it has passed.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1858.

MAINE ELECTION.—THIRD DISTRICT.—The Belfast Republican Journal claims the election of Johnson, the Democratic candidate in the third district. It says the Republicans have made an error of 100 against him in their returns from the Sagadahock towns; and adds—we have collated and compared the latest and most authentic returns, and they give Col. Johnston a majority of six: we confidently believe that the official returns will show that he is elected.

A dispatch from Bath, Me., Sept. 17, says complete returns from the third district renders certain the election of French (Republican) by from 35 to 50 majority. The majority for Governor Morrill in the State will reach about 11,000.

The editorial correspondent of the Portland Advertiser says, under date of Augusta, Sept. 17:—

I have seen returns from every town in the third district, with the exception of Monhegan Isle. Most of these returns are official, and the result stands thus:

French	8,944.
Johnson	8,890.
French's majority	54.

Monhegan Isle voted last year, Morrill 16, Smith 16. Should every vote now be given to Johnson he would still be defeated. The Democratic reckonings thus far have given French 133 in the town of Union, whereas his real vote, by the official returns, which I have seen, is 193—a slight difference of sixty. There cannot be a doubt of French's election, and his official majority will be larger than is above stated. Almost every town shaves Johnson's reported vote down a little.

P. S.—From the official returns which I have seen from Aroostook, there is reason to believe that the Democratic candidate for Senator, Mr. Dickey, is defeated. Shepard Carey ran P. P. Burleigh as a candidate against him, and thus divided the Democratic vote. If McCluskey is thus made a constitutional candidate, he will be elected by the Legislature, and the Democracy will not have a single representative in the senate.

We have every reason to believe that the Democratic candidate for Senator in Aroostook county is defeated, and that Mr. McCluskey, will be a constitutional candidate, and therefore his election is sure. In York county, Mr. Morton, Republican, falls short a few votes, and and the ten scattering votes in that county destroys the election; consequently the choice falls on the Legislature, which of course secures his election. The Democrats in the Senate will not have even a peg to hang upon. It is a clean sweep all round!

MR. SOMES' MAJORITY.—The Biddeford Union and Journal says that the Portland papers give Mr. Drew's vote in that city as 774. This is a mistake. Mr. Drew received 744 votes, running a little behind his ticket. Mr. Somes' actual majority in the District is 258.

THE COAL TRADE.—We abridge from the Boston Traveller the following relating to the Coal Trade. The domestic coal trade has become one of the most important character. The present season thus far has been unprofitable to the miners. The following shows the decrease in last week's shipments from last year:—1857, 159,019 tons—1858, 147,527 tons.

The White Ash trade is extremely dull at New York, and the boatmen do not desire to load for that port, owing to the great detention of the boats. Prime Red Ash coal, which is now furnished in a limited quantity, is in demand in the New York market.

The price of coal in Boston and elsewhere is very low. In Newburyport good White Ash coal is selling at $4,50 per ton, delivered, and large sales have been made at that price. It is very evident from these figures, there must be a loss somewhere.

The price at which the coal is sold at Philadelphia is $3,25; deducting the freight from this, it leaves the miner but $1,25, and from this amount is to be deducted the price of labor, which is from 40 to 50 cents per ton, the interest on expenditures, and incidental expenses. So that coal selling at present prices must result in a loss to the miner. Coal mining is not altogether a money making business. Oftentimes a company will work for months and run into a "fault," and lose time, labor and money. But the miner is not the only party that suffers from these low prices. It falls heavily upon vessels engaged in the trade, in which more are employed perhaps, than in any other article of shipment. When prices rule high, and coal is in demand, the rates are from $1,75 to $3 per ton.

One reason for the falling off in the demand is that nearly all large manufacturing corporations are supplied by surplus stock and are not ordering, and a large portion of the iron manufacturers are doing nothing. We think there can be no complaint this season of high prices for coal.

☞ According to the New York Tribune, the secret reason which prevented a fusion in New York, was the jealousy and hatred of the Americans for Thurlow Weed. It says:—

"The Americans were generally ready to fuse on one condition—this, viz: that Mr. Thurlow Weed should take a back seat in the new car. We do not mean that this was specifically demanded, but it was always implied; and it was this, and nothing else, that broke up the arrangement. They had no objection to Mr. Morgan per se—they objected to him only as Mr. Weed's friend and choice. They knew Mr. M. had been an early, and was still an earnest advocate of 'fusion'—they did not doubt that he would regard them kindly and treat them fairly—their sole objection to him was his personal relation to Mr. Weed. This they could not or would not abide."

☞ The Richmond South copies the card of Mr. Henry Abram, announcing himself a candidate for Governor of Virginia, in favor of a gradual and peaceful eradication of Slavery by the purchase of infant slaves, and says:

"It is evidently a hoax. We have never heard of any such individual as Mr. Henry Abram. If such a person exists, he is a lunatic. The Post may be assured that if Henry Abram, or Mr. Anybody else, ventures to canvass Virginia for any such purpose as is indicated in the above proclamation, he will be brought to a sudden and sharp settlement."

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—About half-past five o'clock, on Thursday, as the afternoon train on the Cheshire Railroad, was within a mile of Fitzwilliam, N. H., the engineer discovered two large stones which had been loosened from the bank, lying directly on the track—one of them estimated to weigh ten tons. Before he could stop the headway of the train, the engine struck the stones and threw one of them from the track; the other it carried along a distance of one hundred and thirty feet, when the engine was thrown from the track and badly broken in its running gear. The baggage cars and the two passenger cars were also thrown off and considerably injured in the running parts. Fortunately none of the passengers or of the operatives of the road were injured. Word was sent to Fitchburg and a cattle car was sent up, which took the passengers to Fitchburg, where they arrived about ten o'clock, and remained over night.

BURGLARY.—The dwelling houses of Rev. Wm. Clark, and David Stewart, on Amherst Plain, were broken open by burglars on the night of the 7th inst., and twenty-seven silver spoons were taken and carried off by them, of which twenty-one were tea and six table spoons. We learn also that several houses in Mason and Brookline have been recently entered by burglars, and silver ware taken to a large extent.—Cong. Journal.

Uncle Toby knows a trick worth two of that, viz.: to have no silver ware. He learnt it in the way of knowing all the silver ware to be stolen once from a household, and when they replenished, it was all of plated, tin and iron. Burglars don't want these, because they don't pay.

☞ William L. Dayton, Republican candidate for vice-president in 1856, with H. Winter Davis and French S. Evans of Baltimore, leading Americans, have just been speaking to the people of the Second Congressional District in New Jersey, in behalf of John T. Nixon, the union anti-Lecompton candidate. Mr. Dayton declared himself in favor of a registry law and requiring naturalized citizens to reside in a State one year after naturalization before voting, and upon these and the anti-slavery principles of the Republicans, urged a union of all the opposition to the Administration.

DOCTORS IN DIVINITY.—A Baptist writer, calling himself "Scrutator," in the Biblical Recorder, says he could not vote to confer the "doctorship" upon a Baptist minister, unless he felt satisfied "that he perfectly understands all the languages that were spoken at the Tower of Babel, and on the day of Pentecost; that he can tell precisely the spot where Moses' grave is; and that he knows exactly the color of the last pig that went down in the memorable hog drowning which took place when the devils being cast out of a certain man, entered into a herd of swine."

☞ Judge Douglas's declaration in favor of that kind of popular sovereignty forbidden by the Dred Scott Decision, has aroused new hostility in the Administration ranks. Even the New York Journal of Commerce, which has had several long leaders to show that Douglas was still a good Democrat worthy of the party approbation, now gives him over to his fate.—It pronounces his Freeport speech "inconsistent, passionate, and anti-Democratic."

☞ Marshal Pelissier, Duke of Malakoff, is to marry Mlle. Sophia Valeria, a friend and distant relation of the French Empress. The Duke has a name that fame has borne to every part of the world—twenty Russian flags, and as many India shawls for Mlle. She is twenty-eight years old, and expects a dowry from the Empress. While walking one day in the gardens of St. Cloud, Mlle. Valeria gathered a rose, and the Marshal asked if she intended to bestow it on him. She replied with rare apropos, "No, monsieur le duc, you only like laurels." On this plain hint, the veteran took courage and spoke.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. John W. Ripley, while seated at the breakfast table at the Ocean House, Newburyport, Friday morning, apparently in perfect health, was struck with death and immediately expired. Mr. Ripley had been spending a few days at the "Bluff," and came up with a friend on Thursday evening, to transact some business, and designed returning immediately after his breakfast to join his friends. The Herald says the deceased was a man of good habits, about thirty-nine years of age, and leaves one child.—An inquest returned a verdict of death from an organic disease of the heart.

ERRORS CORRECTED.—The Claremont Eagle of Sept. 11, found fault with some liquor prosecutions there.—But the same paper of the 18th says.

We took occasion last week to allude to the extraordinary action of a temperance committee belonging to a secret league in this town, in the prosecution of their plans, and gave in brief our views of some of its effects. We are happy to learn that we had been misled as to some of the facts alleged, which we take the earliest opportunity to correct. The Solicitor informs us that not over eighty witnesses were summoned, instead of 153, as stated to us, and that the entire cost to the county will not exceed $500, instead of $1000 or $1500, and moreover the fines accruing from convictions upon more or less of the sixteen indictments found by the Grand Jury, will be likely to more than cover that expense.

THE CROPS IN BERKSHIRE COUNTY.—The Great Barrington (Mass.) Courier says:

"We notice by the Adams Transcript that potatoes are rotting somewhat extensively in that section of the county.—Down this way we have nothing of the kind as yet, they being very plentiful and sound, and retailing for twenty-five cents per bushel.

The warm weather of last week ripened corn rapidly; also such fruit as the insects have not destroyed. Blackberries are so plentiful as to be sold at five cents per quart.

VALUATION OF WORCESTER.—The assessed valuation of Worcester for this year is $16,386,000, which is about two millions less than last year. The number of polls is 5640, or 240 less than in 1857. The rate of taxation is one dollar on the thousand less than last year. There are 448 individuals and firms who pays a tax of $50 and upwards. Stephen Salisbury pays a tax of $5012. Isaac Davis pays $1379, and Levi Lincoln $1152.

☞ A German paper says, the quickest rate of locomotion, after the electric spark, light, sound and cannon balls, is ascertained to be the flight of the swallow.—One of these birds, liberated at Ghent, made its way to its nest at Antwerp, in 12¼ minutes, going at the rate of 4¼ miles per minute.

☞ Among the forms the hilarity of the firemen at the Worcester gathering was this: Two of them seized a forty pound porker, and carried him about the square, alternately by the tail and under the arm (with a squeeze,) making music more lively than mellifluous.

On the 1st inst., during the Atlantic Telegraph jubilee at Galesburg, a rocket discharged horizontally by some unpardonable carelessness, struck an elderly lady, and killed her instantly.

Among the useless and dangerous playthings, rockets hold a very high rank.

☞ S. R. Glen, Esq., formerly editor of the Boston Times, is about to issue a Democratic campaign paper in that city, to be called the Champion, to "support the election of the Democratic State, Congressional and Legislative tickets, and advocate the principles of the party as promulgated by National Democratic Conventions, and vindicated by democratic administrations."

☞ Three ruffians recently beat a man senseless, and then laid him across the track of the Detroit and Milwaukie railway, just before a train approached. The man was seen by the engineer in time to stop the train before reaching the spot, and four men being discovered running for the woods, the conductor and several passengers gave chase, and captured three of them. They proved to be the villains who had committed the outrage, and were lodged in jail.

PROFESSIONAL TESTIMONY.
Dr. W. H. ELLIOTT, a distinguished Dentist, gives the following voluntary testimony:
I have taken the liberty without your permission, to examine critically your Persian Balm as a Dentrifrice. I find that it is incapable of injuring the finest enamel; though the specimen I employed were immersed in the Balm for twenty-four hours at a time, under different degrees of heat varying from that may be termed cold to the temperature of the blood, and though it readily dissolved the tartar or incrustation upon the teeth, it left the enamel in a perfectly healthy condition. In a practice of twenty years I have not seen anything so deserving of confidence as a Dentrifice.

"TIGHTNESS OF THE CHEST,"
Commonly so called, is instantly relieved by bathing the chest with R. R. Relief.
BAD COLDS.
As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat, or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will entail more serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Radway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold: and the continued use of the R. R. R. Remedies will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It acts powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the phlegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it gave in five minutes great relief. In the most obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. PREESTON, agent for Portsmouth.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE Dandyroux is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tried."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of weather and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

FREIGHT TO CONCORD.—The Concord Statesman says:—The Concord Railroad has effected a lease of the line between Portsmouth and Concord. By the agreement, the company last in possession of the unfortunate road, called, we believe, the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad Co., receives from the Concord Railroad, $15,000 per annum; that sum being six per cent. on the nominal capital, $250,000. Since the lease, all heavy freight has been changed from third class to second rates, or from $1,05 to $2,00.

Surgeon Kellogg has been ordered to the Nosfolk Navy Yard, vice Cormick detached and ordered to the Roanoke, as Fleet Surgeon of the Home Squadron.

OUR ROADS.—Messrs. Editors,—Will you allow me, through the columns of your paper, to call the attention of the city authorities to the state of our roads out of town.—Having occasion to go over the road towards Stratham, I thought I had never seen it in so bad condition at this time of the year, as at present, and upon naming the subject to an old resident upon the road, he confirmed my opinion by saying, that it had not been so bad for thirty years as at the present season.

JOHN H. W. HAWKINS.—We have already alluded to the death of this distinguished advocate of temperance. There have been many inquiries made relating to his history, and we understand that his son, Rev. William Geo. Hawkins, Rector of St. John's Church, Dains, Lancaster county, Pa., is now in Boston collecting materials for the biography of his father. The widow of Mr. Hawkins, and one of the children, his well-known daughter Hannah, are left in entirely dependant circumstances. It is hoped that the sale of the book when published, will, to a great extent, supply the wants of the family. Rev. Mr. Hawkins has all the papers of his father, and the work, we are informed, will be prepared in a popular style, and will be of much value to those who would preserve a correct history of the cause of temperance.—Boston Journal.

☞ At last accounts, a Brazilian war steamer was missing, and as a large number of bodies dressed in Brazilian uniform had been seen floating near the mouth of the Rio de la Plata, it was believed that she foundered during a gale. Besides her own crew, the steamer had on board between two and three hundred marines, reinforcements for the Brazilian vessels on that station.

A BURGLAR LAID OUT.—In Providence, on Wednesday morning, a burglar, in attempting to enter a house by breaking through a window, awoke the occupants by his noise, and when he had got his body about half through the window, a well directed blow on the head by the owner of the premises, laid him out so stiff that he did not recover his senses until carried to the lock-up. He gave his name as James Dewhurst.—Herald.

Morgan, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, was originally a Whig, is about fifty years of age, and since the organization of the Republican party, has served with energy upon the Republican General Committee.—He was present in Syracuse, and responded in person to the nomination. The selection is received with the utmost favor by the Republican press. He is a native of Massachusetts.

☞ The Manchester American says:—Much of the so-called "domestic" currant, cherry and blackberry wines made in that vicinity, and sold to invalids as a genuine article, is a worthless compound, manufactured of alcohol, vitriol, and some flavoring ingredients. To many these vile mixtures are positively hurtful.

Decent people would do well to let all such trash alone.

☞ An extraordinary memorial has been addressed by five hundred and seven Austrian priests to the author of the Concordat, the Cardinal Prince Archbishop of Vienna. In this document the grievances of priests are set forth in very energetic language. They demand a number of reforms, the most important of which is the abolition of celibacy.

☞ Foul walls in rooms, whether papered or plain, are often the cause of illness. The Scientific American says a N. Y. physician attended a family for a nervous affection for a long time without success. At length, noticing the yellow cast of the walls in the house, he had them whitewashed, and no more medicine was needed.

☞ A large emigration from the free States is pouring into Missouri, while no slaveholders are emigrating thither. The feeling that slavery is to be short lived is steadily gaining ground. The open discussion of the question which is going on, and the fact that Missouri is now practically bounded on three sides by free States, have alarmed the slaveholders, and many of them are removing.

☞ The Philadelphia Southern Monitor states that the James Buchanan, a slaver, fitted out on the Delaware river, has made four successful voyages since 1856, and cleared $400,000, but the owners have become apprehensive of loss since the capture of the Echo.

☞ At Lysander, Onondaga county, N. Y., on Sunday, John G. Forbes tied a jug of whiskey about his neck, and attempted to swim the river. The jug proved too heavy for him, and he was found at the bottom next morning.

☞ Rev. John L. Ashby, formerly a minister at South New Market, and afterwards at York, has resigned his pastorship at Sacarrappa, Me., and has been dismissed by a council.

IMPORTANT RAILROAD MOVEMENT.—At the meeting of the Boston and Lowell Railroad stockholders on Tuesday, votes were passed which secure for the term of twenty years the practical consolidation of the Boston and Lowell, the Salem and Lowell, and the Lowell and Lawrence Railroads—the former road leasing the two latter for that time. This measure it is supposed will protect the Lowell Road from the competition it would otherwise have been subjected to after the year 1860, when its exclusive right to the railroad travel between Boston and Lowell expires.

☞ Sergt. B W. Hopper is detached from the Marine Corps at Kittery Yard and ordered to the Paraguay Expedition. Lieut. Nichols, who has been at the Yard about two years, is to the regret of his numerous friends here, ordered to the Portsmouth—about to sail for South America. Lieut. Colocoressa, a native Greek, a protege of the late Col. Miller of Vt., has arrived to take his place.

Surgeon S. Wilson Kellogg has been ordered to Norfolk, Virginia, and will leave the first of next week.

☞ The Legislature of Minnesota passed a law exempting a homestead of eighty acres from levy for debts incurred; also of $500 worth of household furniture, $300 worth of stock and utensils, $400 worth of tools, the library of a professional man, and provisions enough to support the family a year.

LETTER FROM BRIGHAM YOUNG.—A citizen Canandaigua has received a letter from Brigham Young, in reply to one asking a solution of certain points in controversy in regard to his early life.—Brigham says that he was born in Whitingham, Windham County, Vt., June 1, 1801. In early life his father removed to Western New York, where Brigham lived until he joined the Mormon Church, in 1832. He subsequently speaks of the restoration of peace in Utah, and of the great fertility and beauty of the country. He also mentions that he has a fine family of boys and girls, some of whom are married, but without mentioning the number of his wives or his children, he adds that he has fifteen living and two dead grandchildren.

SEPARATION OF CORA V. L. HATCH AND HUSBAND.—Mrs. Cora V. L. Hatch, who has gained a wide celebrity as a trance speaking medium, and her husband, Dr. Hatch, have separated. The cause of the separation is differently stated by the friends of the parties. The New York Evening Post gives an interesting account of the matter, and makes at the same time some startling statements. We quote:

"Dr. Hatch states that up to July last they lived happily together; that during that month he went West, and while absent received, as he expresses it, 'a beautiful and affectionate letter.' But upon his return, or soon after, she took a decided dislike to him, would have nothing to do with him, nor scarcely speak to him. Since that time they have lived separately. At the Doctor's request she placed herself under the direction of some friends of both parties, and one of them—a prominent chemist—obtained from Mrs. Hatch a promise not to come before the public until the difficulties were adjusted.

A week ago last Sunday, however, she was requested to lecture at Clinton Hall, Brooklyn, in a week from that time. She at first refused, but subsequently sent word that she would comply. The lecture was to be free, and a collection taken for the benefit of the society.

At the time appointed for the meeting, an audience was present, but Mrs. Hatch did not appear. Mr. McFarlan, who has the chief management of the meetings, received and read publicly a letter from her, in which she expressed regrets at not being able to fulfil her appointment; and said that Dr. Hatch had expressed the determination to prevent her holding a meeting by forcible measures, and, under the circumstances, she did not wish to appear. In the original the words forcible measures are underscored.

Dr. Hatch affirms that he never used threats, but upon hearing of her appointment, went to the chemist referred to, and told him he did not wish her to speak; but if she insisted, not to prevent her; and that he subsequently called upon his wife, and told her the same thing, and offered to go with her or not, as she chose, if she was determined to speak.

The Doctor's theory of the matter is, that his wife is possessed of demoniac influence, and he further believes, if we understand him correctly, that this is the inevitable result of such mediumship as hers; that under this influence she has become reckless of moral principle, as have nearly all others of her class. The writer of this has been shown a list of twenty trance speaking mediums, of both sexes, which will soon be made public, who have either separated from their husbands and wives, or are living in extreme unhappiness. The list includes most of the prominent speaking mediums of the country. Some women have abandoned their husbands for their 'affinities.' One who has figured in the recent Free Love Conventions is set down as having abandoned two husbands, both of whom are living—and one woman traded husbands with a sister spiritualist. The male mediums are represented as of the same sort.

A friend of Mrs. Hatch, in whose house she has been visiting a good deal since the separation, represents her as extremely afraid of the doctor, and says that upon one occasion, when he was seen coming from the house, 'she turned as pale as death, and trembled like an aspen leaf, and begging the privilege of concealing herself, hid in a bed-room.'

Some of the friends of Mrs. Hatch, do not hesitate to express their conviction, very freely, that all the devil there is in the matter belongs on the other side of the house.

Dr. Hatch was married to his present wife—his fourth one, we believe—about two years ago. He was upwards of forty, and she about sixteen. The marriage at the time, we believe, was understood by them to be a spiritual affinity, as well as a legal union. The friends of Mrs. Hatch claim that it was unnatural, and produced by psychological influences, and not by spiritual affinities; that since the marriage Mrs. Hatch has been compelled to lecture too much—often when physically unfit to do so—the doctor reaping therefrom a large pecuniary benefit."

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all of our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the form ever so graceful, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, so very much more than half of the time, Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you the surprise I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Restorative it resumed its original hue, its original has. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dreh a'r Gwyllwydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr. 19, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to a friend of mine, who tried it to fit on her hair little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDIN.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: While I have pleasure in recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark, and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and surplus humor, a too common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. RAYMOND.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD:—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last, and the effections soon stopped my hair fright. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 50 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2: the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in this great city, who would be benefited by the use of the incidents brought of certain dangerous maladies who will suffer from the reluctance to make known their situation to the regular practitioners, he would state that one of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the time descriptive of the disease be stated in a letter and directed thereto.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invaluable recovery prevent.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease have been cured by the use of his medicines, in preference to some under his care, and more than three-fourths of the number are therefrom more his books as perfect cures.

Patients who had been partly undertreated by Dr. Dix, past paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing observers.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superiority to regulate the all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

Dr. Dix cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. There are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of my medicines.

All that are in unison of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is sold.

The genuine pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery Office of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the laws of the State of Georgia are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received before the drawing of the next lottery, and even after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $8; quarters, $5. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are simple and easy. All prizes are paid on demand in full. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to the prize holders.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Dial. The tickets are signed by the Managers, and sent to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—By connection for the past eight years, with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantages of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalations—has established me in a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, but for a very next general treatment; and although I consider it usually adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often final diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. I, therefore, solicit the aid of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use, including Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment—Fifteen dollars to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicines and Vapor, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, can receive medicine in full, and be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon the strictest confidence and secrecy, AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines, and, AND WHEREAS, supporting to effect, the objects already detailed, THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS are to be used in all cases where the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this proclamation to be spread among them, to their own everlasting benefit—always premising that said Proclamation in our case must be considered BUT AND NOT; that the PILLS are not to be used in the whites when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing introduced many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the difficulties and dangers of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would inform the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most unequivocally assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

A STRANGE BUT TRUE STORY.—For a long time we have heard nothing stranger than the story we are about to relate.—When Thomas Galloway was twenty-four years of age, he married a lady of about the same age in Vermont. This lady had a daughter, Mary, by her first husband, who at the time of her second marriage was two years of age. Just one year after Galloway's marriage his wife died. Little Mary was sent to live with a family by the name of Plunkett, in a neighboring village, and Galloway left upon a whaling expedition. He cruised and wandered from place to place, and finally settled in Dearborn county, Indiana, twenty years having elapsed since the death of his wife. He afterwards thought of visiting his old Vermont home, but he had heard from good report that his only brother John had left the place soon after he had taken his departure, and that little Mary had grown up to womanhood, married and emigrated, he could not ascertain where. Having no other ties of affection to draw him to the place, he scarcely ever gave it a passing thought.

Shortly after settling in his new Indiana home, he became acquainted with a young widow, and notwithstanding the disparity in their ages, married her. Some three weeks after his marriage, he discovered by his wife's account of her early life, that she was no other than his own step-child Mary. She had married five years before, and her husband, James Lucklan, met with a violent death in clearing, two years afterwards.

About three years after Galloway's second marriage, he happened one day to be in Lawrenceburg, on the Ohio river, six miles from his residence, when a man by the name of Galloway was drowned off a steamer at the wharf. The body was recovered in Galloway's presence, and from the appearance of the features and the corresponding name, he began to entertain a vague idea that it might be his only brother John. Information gained from the captain of the boat strengthened the suspicion he had formed, and ascertaining that the unfortunate man had a family in that vicinity, and at the time of his death was on his way West to enter land, Galloway resolved to return with the captain and find out the truth. He did so, and found his suspicion correct. His brother had left a tract of land, a large family of children, for the most part girls, and a wife in ill health. After consulting with his deceased brother's wife, he concluded to take charge of the farm. Accordingly, he went to Indiana, sold his effects there, and in company with his young wife returned, and has been living within six miles of this city for a length of time now going on ten years. This story is literally true, with the exception of the names. Verily truth is stranger than fiction.—Wheeling (Va.) Intelligencer.

THE RIGHT OF TEACHERS TO PUNISH.—In Philadelphia a few days since the mother of a child that had been punished, visited one of the public schools and assaulted the teacher. When brought into court she plead guilty, and Judge Ludlow in passing the sentence of the court, said:

"This case comes before the Court under peculiar circumstances, as it is intimately connected with the good discipline of our public schools. The rule is no doubt correct, as the law is that when a parent places a child within the walls of a school, it is to be under the care and control of the teachers. This must be the case in any and every school. When the child is thus placed, the first thing to be inculcated in its mind is obedience to the rules and regulation of the schools, and if it disobeys them, it must receive the punishment due to the offence. If it should once become understood that a mother can go into a school room and interfere with the teachers, imperilling the lives of the scholars by creating a panic, there would be an end to all order among the pupils. If there is any wrong done by the teacher, the parent has a remedy: first by an application to the Directors of the school, and second, by a resort to the law.

The evidence in this case is that the punishment was not unnecessarily severe, but under no circumstances could the assault on the teacher be justified. I have, therefore, nothing to do but to maintain the authority of the teachers of the schools in the exercise of their duties. I regret exceedingly being compelled to do so in this case, on account of the mother, who appears to have been very much excited at the time of the assault. The sentence of the court is that the defendant pay a fine of one cent, and undergo an imprisonment in the County Prison for the term of twenty-four hours.

The Fredricksburg (Va.) News tells a story of G. P. R. James going into a bank in Union, and drawing a check, which the teller declined cashing, because he did not know him. "Don't I look like a gentleman?" said Mr. James. "Oh yes," said the teller, "but that is not enough." "I am G. P. R. James, the novelist." "Never heard of you," replied the teller.

LAY PREACHING.—At the Christian Society in Newburyport, the morning of each Sabbath is now occupied by a lay brother, and this experiment is said to be working very successfully.

GOING TO THE FAIR?

"What good comes of the Fair?" croaked a croaker, reading over the programme of the Agricultural Fair to be held at Exeter; "I should like to know if anybody was ever benefitted by them."

Yes; we are, unmistakably so. Last year, when the Fair was held in Portsmouth, we visited the halls, filled with home products, from paintings to potatoes; trophies of skill, industry, taste and talent from the farm, workshop, parlor and kitchen, met us on every side. The exhibition was most interesting. It was pleasant to see what the people had been doing. But we fought our way through worsted-work, lace-work, leather-work, quilts, flowers, pictures; over squashes, turnips and apples of every unmentionable variety, to the bread-show. I wanted to see what bread our housekeepers made; for good bread is the rarest manufacture we have. We were sorry to find the specimens few in number, and poor at that. There were, however, honorable exceptions; and we are happy to state that we date a new and important era in our bread-making establishment from that exhibition.

Yeast—yeast—where to get good yeast, was too often the question, the unanswered question, I am sorry to say. There were baker's yeast, brewer's yeast, yeast-cakes, and as a final resort, soda and cream tartar, which make a most excellent looking sham bread, provided the soda is dissolved and does not look like spotted fever. In spite of this array of yeasts, all from highly respectable sources, our bread was—only middling; everything else on the table bore a better character than it, which, since nothing else could profess to be the staff of life, was extremely derogatory. It might have been our fault; it might have been the yeast's; we will not stop to ask. But we there found a recipe for making our own yeast, which has nobly stood a year's trial; and we pronounce that never was more vigorous, lively, reliable, aspiring, thorough-going yeast ever made than it makes—our recipe from the Fair last year.

This is the main thing towards good bread; care, judgment, and skill are, of course, necessary; the bread-baker cannot hurry her work, or wink it over, or neglect it. She must give it both her time and attention. And so, all those duly mixed and skillfully moulded together, our yeast, judgment, care, to say nothing of the indispensible ingredients, flour, water and salt, do bring loaves that are loaves, bread that is bread; light, sweet, homogeneous—pardon the word—not full of great holes and little ones, such as come from imperfect leaven, but every part alike beautifully raised.

Perhaps I ought to add that it was the recipe for yeast and bread which took the first prize in bread-making last year.

Therefore we speak advisedly, when we say the Fair does good, and we hope to get another batch of ideas at the next meeting at Exeter. INCOG.

THAT MUSIC.

EXETER, Sept. 17.

Messrs. Editors:—Having my attention called to an article from your correspondent "Home Made," I notice quite an erroneous impression in regard to the employment of music upon the days on which the County Fair is to be holden. I understand "Home Made" is not a member of the association, and never attends the fairs. The writer of this article is not a member, but is interested, with numerous long-eared citizens, in having and getting a private subscription for the purpose of paying the best band to discourse music upon that occasion. Are we, as private citizens, obliged to consult "Home Made" at Epping, as to what music we can have, because his ears are too short to let the community know what sort of an animal he is? The Association does not employ the band, but the control is given to them, as far as the services of the band are required. Therefore the funds of the association are not affected by having the Germania band. If "Home Made" is interested, and wishes the Epping band, which no doubt is a very good one, to be employed on that occasion, let him put his hand in his pocket, as we have done, and they will be most welcome guests. "Home Made" no doubt can, with the help of his "city cousins," raise funds to employ the Epping band to tickle the ears of those who do not wish to hear the Germanians. PRIVATE SUBSCRIPTION.

We give place to the above, in answer to a communication which reflected needlessly if not unjustly upon some of the citizens of Exeter. A considerable portion of this letter, of even less public interest than some of the above, we omit. We will only say, that while the bandying of hard words does nobody any good, yet we must in the main agree with "Rockingham" and "Home Made"—the latter of whom is interested in music, indeed, and we doubt not has labored as hard and done as much for the cause as any other man in the county. We could have wished to see all the bands in the county at the fair, instead of an imported band of foreigners, not a whit better for the purpose than some single bands of our own; but "Private Subscription" has certainly a right to have what band he chooses—even though by so doing he may work to the direct disadvantage of home interests, which the Fair was designed solely to develop and encourage.—Eds. Chron.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

That "Fifteen Minutes at a Depot," in Saturday's Chronicle, remined me of an event, that occurred a few years ago at a junction of two railroads in Ohio. Hon. Horace Mann was detained with a few others awaiting a train. In one end of Station House was a "refreshment room" where, among other things, liquor was sold. As the uneasy travellers were sauntering about, whiling away a tedious hour, a young man of respectable appearance was observed to pass and repass the door of the room, gazing intently at something within. At length he entered timidly, looking about him to see if he was observed, walked up to the counter, called for a glass of liquor and drank it. Mr. M., ever anxious for the welfare of the young, had witnessed with a sad heart the base and debasing act. Determined to save the young man if possible from the ruin on whose verge he was treading, he soon found an opportunity to speak to him.—The youth hung his head with shame and confusion, while Mr. M. kindly but faithfully and earnestly set before him the inveritable and dreadful consequences of such a course of conduct. He said he had just left for the first time in his life a respectable and happy home, where the maddening bowl had never been introduced, to make his first experiments with life's realities. This was his first one. He thought he would gratify his curiosity this once by trying the effects of the poison of which he had heard so much. Ah, fatal, satanic suggestion! What a fearful first-step in the assumption of life's responsibilities! How often has curiosity led the young into the direct way to ruin! The sequel we know not. The kind and timely warning was kindly and thankfully received. The youth promised solemnly never to tamper again with so dangerous and insidious a foe. We hope that promise was kept, and that all who love the young men of our country will imitate the worthy example of Mr. Mann. REFRENDER.

"I am convinced that the happiest condition in human life,—the condition in which supreme felicity may be found and enjoyed,—constant without change, permanent beyond the reach of accident, affected by no fluctuations in stocks, vicissitudes of trade, or mutations in politics, liable to no depredations of the cunning; or spoliations by the artful and designing, is that of abject poverty.

"I mean real, substantial, unadulterated legal pauperism."

We are glad we do not know this Mr. Buckingham; for we wish to say that he writes like a fool. If he were in earnest, he could easily destroy his property, and be a pauper. This item above quoted, reminds us of some people who eulogize slavery, as he eulogizes poverty. We always think, when we read their trash, that a slight experience of real slavery, would take this romance all out of them.

Now if any persons, by misfortune or misconduct, happen to be legal paupers in the alms-house, or out of it, God forbid that any other persons should insult or sneer at them,—or that they themselves should be discontented with a lot so far removed from want or suffering.

But the idea of representing this as an enviable lot, is specially absurd;—and would be pronounced so at once, by every sensible man among the legal paupers—the man who best know where the shoe pinches.

☞ A young man named George Shackly was hurt slightly at Melrose, Mass., last Friday, by falling 40 feet with a new church steeple, which slipped down inside the tower.

SPRINGFIELD HORSE SHOW.

Saturday, the concluding day of the Springfield Horse Show, was as fine as could be wished, and the attendance was large. The parade of the horses by States for the prize banner was a fine display, and went off well. Rhode Island, Vermont, New York and Connecticut made a good show, and the Committee, in making the award, were at a tie between New York and Vermont. To settle the question, Mr. George M. Atwater of Springfield offered to duplicate the banner, and present New York and Vermont both with one. This liberal offer was accepted, and thus the matter was arranged. The premiums were then read from the Judges' stand.—Among them were the following:

Stallions, 8 years and over—1st prize, $200, to Charles Warner & Co., for Hiram Drew; 2d prize, $100, to J. B. Rich, of New York, for Jupiter; 3d prize, $50, to L. Maynard, of Bradford, Mass., for Trotting Childers.

An agreement was made between the owners of Ethan Allen, Hiram Drew, Young Columbus and Jupiter to trot at the Boston Fair Ground on October 14, for a premium of $1000, divided into three classes—one of $700, one of $200, and the lowest of $100. The trial is to be open to all trotting stallions, and will be a genuine trial for superiority if carried out as at present contemplated.

BREEZE, DOUGLAS, &c.—Mr. Burke's paper, the Democratic Standard, says:

"Judge Breese has not withdrawn."—The sympathizers with Senator Douglas in this State are circulating the story that Judge Breese, the Administration candidate for U. S. Senator, against Judge Douglas, has withdrawn his name from the canvas. The Illinois State Democrat, alluding to the story, contradicts it as follows:—

"We are authorized to pronounce the above false. Judge Breese will allow his name to come before the State Legislature as a candidate or U. S. Senator in opposition to both Douglas and Lincoln, and we have the highest authority for saying so."

The same Democratic Standard says:

It is funny to see the support which Butterfield gives to the Administration in its death-struggle with Senator Douglas. In consideration of the huge sum of $393, he sold out Douglas and pretended to go for the President. But, he took none of his troops with him. By some secret understanding they remain with Douglas.—His echoes of the press are all for Douglas. Of the Pierce press in this State, there is only really which stands by Mr. Buchanan against Douglas, and that is the Manchester Union Democrat. Butterfield vacillates between them. If it were not for the Democratic Standard, Mr. Buchanan would have no hearty support in this State.

The same paper also says, in another article,—

The estrangements, hostilities, and proscriptions, which have existed, and do now exist, in the ranks of the Democratic Party in this State, are beginning to open the eyes of some of the organs of that party, to its real condition, and to impress them with the belief, that, in the present state of things, there is but little, if any prospect, that it will ever recover its ascendancy.

RAILROAD DISASTER.—St. Louis, Sept. 18.—A train of the Hannibal and St. Joseph's Railway met with a serious accident at Platte River bridge, 10 miles east of St. Joseph's, on the morning of the 13th, by which two laborers were drowned, Geo. Thomson, the engineer, and two firemen badly injured, and two or three of the passengers slightly hurt. The bridge is supposed to have been fired by an incendiary, and was so much burned below, that when the locomotive reach it, the entire structure fell, precipitating the train into the river.

The Mormon Rebellion.—Leavenworth advices of the 15th inst. are received. A number of officers from Utah arrived there on that day, among them Col. Alexander and Lieuts. Grover and Maxwell of the 10th Infantry, and Capt. Marcy of the 5th Infantry. The general impression was that further trouble was to be expected from the Mormons, that the difficultics had only been postponed, not settled. A train of 20 wagons leaves here to-morrow for Pike's Peak, and Wm. H. Russell will start a train of 40 wagons in a few days. Gentlemen are also here from Leavenworth and Wyandotte, outfitting for the companies in those places.

MAINE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.—Bangor, Sept. 19.—The vote for Congress in the Sixth District is running very close.—The latest accounts give Foster (Republican) 865 majority in Hancock, and 200 in Washington; while Bradbury (Democrat) has 48 majority in the Waldo towns, and prominent democrats claim for him 1000 majority in Aroostook, which is undoubtedly correct. This gives the election to Foster by 42 votes.

The friends of Mr. Bradbury assert that an error in the footing up of the Hancock and Washington votes gives the election to him. The vote is so close that an official count will probably be necessary to determine it.

There are few plantations in Aroostook not yet heard from.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been introduced from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased and prevents them from coming out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from all other Gins, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

NEW CITY BUILDING.

Messrs. Editors:—We noticed, a few days since, in the Chronicle, a short article giving a few ideas in regard to a City Hall in this city, As to the plan stated as being drawn, or the cost of a City Hall in Portland, we have nothing to say—there is time for all these minor considerations. But as to a public city building, it is well known that it has been a subject of much consideration for a number of years past; and in our humble opinion, as one of the merchant princes of this good old fashioned city, and a representative of of Young America, with a small share of the go-ahead spirit of this age, we say now is the time to build it, if we are ever to have one decent public building in the wealthiest city of its size in New England.

There a number of good and sufficient reasons why Portsmouth should have a City Hall. The first is, that in three months there will not be a hall of any kind suitable for any decent gathering of the people, for ever so simple a purpose, from the fact that Congress Hall has been leased for a term of years to the Masonic Order of this city—they to commence the necessary repairs in three months from present date.

As to an old barrack of a place over the Jefferson Market, sometimes used for a Ward Room, and occasionally for the storage of lumber for a floral procession,—it long since retired from the list as a modern public hall, and never was worth two straws for any purpose except for a caucus.

It will therefore be seen by any one, that at this time, if never before, there must soon be, for a thousand and one purposes, a good substantial, well-ventilated, commodious public hall, suited to the wants of our citizens, in process of construction. Our City Rooms, since we became a city, have ever been a nuisance—inconvenient, small, scattered about promiscuously in an old-fashioned building; for which we have been paying a good round rent, and shall ever continue to, unless a start is made in the right direction toward the furtherance of this object.

Some, and of course not a small number, will raise a great hue and cry: oh! we are not able to do anything of this kind; pay up what you now owe before you put the city further in debt, &c. &c. Now this is all stuff and nonsense. Are we not a prosperous, thriving community? Are we not every year slowly but surely increasing in numbers and wealth? and why is it that we cannot keep up with the times, as we should, instead of being forever kept at a stand-still by the croakings of old fogyism?

To hear some citizens talk on this subject, one would suppose that they expected to live a thousand years, and were fearful that their tax-bills in the 2858, would be 92 3-4 cents on a thousand dollars, on account of the erection of a public building next year in this city.

There is not a community within three hundred miles of this place, so poorly off for public buildings as this; and still the cry is, can't afford it now. We say we can afford it as well as any other city or town; and as we are growing old, and shall not enjoy its benefits a great many years, unless it is soon in progress, therefore we go in for it at once, and do most sincerely hope it will be made the issue in our election this fall; and if it is, then the men nominated in favor of this needed public improvement, will surely go into office with a majority unprecedented in the annals of our city election. MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 20, 1858.

Dr. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych n'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Norman st., Aug. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I purchased your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as myself, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of the dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNIT.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January, and a few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOM.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the whole system.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better prevented by giving your system an occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose every evening is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents sick headache.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all morbid matter in the system and makes the skin clear.

One dose taken a short time before retiring gives good appetite and makes the food digest well.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, leaving no debility to settle in its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony to its virtues.

Mix water in the mouth with the Liver Invigorator, and swallow both together.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of our fellow citizens, in our own towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make their secret wants known, and that a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, properly packed, with directions of the disease be described by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invisible secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of secret diseases have been successfully treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number have been cured in a few days by a few doses.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing observation.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments on your health, or trifle with a disease of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same name, or similar name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place where the genuine can be found.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 4ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery law of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $10; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and the simple scheme can be understood by reading them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70, in every one drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.

My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decided, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above disease, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who enter the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine enough for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients by writing a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may be sure of the immediate and prompt relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—d7 6m

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction of Roofs by Fire and Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every class upon either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over shingles or 1 ply at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most or them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—There is a custom at Harvard, "whereof the memory of man runneth not back to the contrary," of giving out "Mock Parts," in which more or less of the class are made butts of the all ridiculo that a brilliant committee of three can manufacture. This is done by the Juniors immediately after the public annunciation of parts for the Junior exhibition. The various parts for the exhibition, which will take place probably on the 19th of October, were given out on Saturday.—The volley of squibs of humor, wit and ridicule that followed for an half-hour was what Dominie Sampson would emphatically pronounce "prodigious!"

After reading the programme of procession and tableaux, came the list of performances at the Chapel. We can recall but one or two, which may serve as specimens. The following may be supposed to be by one who did not think it vain to a-spire:

The fattest man in his class, who incurred a temporary "dowsing of his larboard blinker" in the foot-ball match, was honored by a Latin oration:—"Monstrum horrendum, informe, ingens, cui lumen ademptum"—horrid monster, inform us where you got that great black eye!"—He was no lean and hungry Cassius to whom was given a "Disquisition, 'Very like a whale.'"

Every part was received by the class with cheers, and after a general cheering for all but the Freshmen, "who were requested to abstain from their usually boisterous cheers on this occasion," the audience dispersed. X*

CHARADE.

My first the lovely maiden's cheeks
With natures tints adorns;
The cherry tree in season decks,
Where gay birds sing at morn.
The swan, the pelican, the dove,
My next do own as given
From the great Architect of Love;
It was revealed from Heaven.
In Spring my whole, a tiny form,
Its best note does put forth;
To cheer the mind that is forlorn,
In climate South or North.
BOILING ROCK.

AN UNLUCKY MAN.—A Mr. H. Monagan, of Charleston, S. C., recently arrived in New York City, from the South, and put up at the New York Hotel. On Wednesday night he was robbed in the street, but on Thursday forenoon was too much intoxicated to appear in Court against a person who had been arrested.—At night he fell from the window of his room to a roof below, where he remained several hours asleep. Finally he rolled to the pavement below, and died soon after. He is said to be respectably connected in South Carolina.

☞ The Providence Steam Cotton Mill was sold by auction last week for $52,000, and the taxes assessed upon it the present year, amounting to about $1000 more. Messrs. A. D. & J. Y. Smith were the purchasers. There are 15,000 spindles and 368 looms. The assessed value last year was $160,000.

CHURCH MILITANT.—At Lexington, Me., the recent difficulties between some members of the Baptist Society and their pastor, Rev. Thomas W. Clark, against whom the doors of the church were closed last Sabbath, have resulted in a suit for slander, of the pastor against Mr. William D. Phelps, a member of the society. Damages $10,000, if he can get them.

VERMONT.—Full returns of the Vermont election give a Republican majority of 16,000, by which the entire Republican State ticket is chosen. The Republican vote is nearly three to one of the opposition. The legislature—Senate: 30 Republicans, no opposition: House: 199 Republicans, 30 Democrats. Vermont isn't a betting State.

☞ Every family should have Doctor Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup in their house.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1858.

MAINE ELECTION.

According to the Saco Democrat of Sept. 21, in York County, the democrats have elected the County Attorney and Sheriff, and the Republican candidates for Congress, Clerk of Courts, Commissioner and Treasurer are elected.

The Portland Advertiser of Tuesday says, on the Governor's vote, the returns embrace the whole State, except thirty-two small plantations, which last year gave in the aggregate 658 votes for Morrill, and 892 for Smith. The general footings thus far stand as follows:

Morrill, - - - - - - - -	60,156
Smith, - - - - - - - -	51,103
Morrill's majority, - - -	9,053

The returns yet to be received will change these figures a trifle, and may increase the aggregate vote to 114,000.

Gov. Morrill's majority must stand at 9000.

The Senate will consist of thirty Republicans and one Democrat, viz. Mr., Dickey of Aristook. The House will contain one hundred and three Republicans, and forty-eight Democrats, possibly 49.

☞ The Free Will Baptists of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, held their annual meeting in Boston, last Tuesday and Wednesday. The business committee reported three resolutions on the slavery question. The first declared slavery to be a crime against God and man; the second, that all its supporters in churches and state, are unworthy of support; the third, that we labor for the immediate abolition of slavery.

POISONED BY MISTAKE.—A married woman, of only twenty-six years of age, named Maria Byrns, a week or two since, at Roxbury, by mistake took poison, and it was found necessary to take her to the Massachusetts General Hospital. Though young in years she had become a confirmed drunkard, and her husband was also of intemperate habits. After suffering in the Hospital for several days, she finally died, and was buried by the city.

☞ The "Fraternity" of the Twenty Eighth Congregational Society of Boston, of which Rev. Theodore Parker is pastor, announce a course of twelve lectures for the coming season, Mr. Parker himself delivering four of them, on Franklin, Washington, Adams and Jefferson; Mr. Curtis and Mrs. E. C. Stantion, each a lecture on the Claims of Women; Mr. Higginson, of Worcester, his new one on Physical Training; Bayard Taylor, on the wonders of his travels in Europe; and the remainder by other gentlemen of renown.

☞ A sheriff's officer made the following return, lately:—"Then and there by virtue, &c., I arrested the body of the within named Quinlan, forty feet high on a white oak tree, in said Norwich;" and one of the items of fees, as followed by the court, we find reads:—"Paid assistance to climb tree and bring prisoner down, &c."

A DIABOLICAL ACT.—We learn from the Ottawa Republic that some unknown villains, for some unknown reason, placed a large quantity of gunpowder under the Seminary of Earlville, in that county, and blew the building into fragments, on the night of the 4th inst. The report of the explosion shook every building in the town. The Seminary was of brick, and was completed about a year ago, at a cost of $6000.

FRESHET AT THE NORTH.—A Wentworth (N. H.) correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says that a great rain-storm occurred in that vicinity on the 16th inst., four inches of water falling in twelve hours.—This caused the streams to rise and overflow their banks, carrying away bridges, roads, whole fields of corn, &c. The Montreal Railroad was damaged, and at Warren families were obliged to remove from the buildings in the night time.

☞ A Pamphlet is issued by Mansfield & Co., No. 1 Commerce Street, Boston, entitled "Ultimate Objects of Napoleon III." The author is M. Henry St. Bernarde. The Post, having read it, says, "It is racy, philosophic and prophetic—will excite attention." The fickleness of the French renders Napoleon fearful of losing his hold upon them, unless he does or attempts to do some great thing.

☞ The Provincetown Banner says there have been more new dwelling houses erected in Provincetown the past summer, than for some years previous.

SIMULTANEOUS DEATH AT SEA.

The following account of the death, by yellow fever, of a Capt. Simmons and his wife, almost at the same moment, on shipboard, will affect every reader. It is an extract of a letter dated London, Sept. 3, from Christopher Crowell, first officer of ship Bay State, of Boston:

I have the very sad and melancholy duty to inform you of the death of Capt. Chas. Simmons and his wife Eliza Simmons, who died at sea, of yellow fever, Aug. 1, in the lat. of 31°44 N., lon. 73 15 W. We left the bar on the 14th July, all well; on the 15th one of the men was taken sick; 18th, his disease showed itself to be the yellow fever; 21st he died; the next day three more men were taken, but finally recovered; 23d, Capt. Simmons was taken very suddenly, and everything was done to the best of Mrs. S.'s and my judgment to relieve him; 26th, as Mrs. S. was taken, and on the same day the second mate, feeling my sickness coming on, I put the ship under short sail, and told the men they must do the best they could, and gave them a course to steer. The ship was 60 miles west from Tortugas, just clear of the coast. Imagine our situation alt; not an individual able to go on deck, and not one with sense sufficient to have the assurance that we knew anything. I was very sick for twenty hours, but succeeded in breaking my fever up; on the 30th I was able to crawl to the lower cabin; found the captain a little better, but his wife very low. He told me, however, he did not think he could live; had his senses, and gave me some directions about his little boy, who was with him.

On the 1st of August he grew worse, and stopped talking, and lay looking at at his wife, who lay dying before him. At 10 minutes of 1 P. M. he expired, and 30 minutes past 1 Mrs. Simmons. This was our situation. I was so weak I could not walk across the cabin without assistance The second mate was confined to his room, and not a man knew enough to take the sun. After waiting a reasonable time I buried them both together at sea with the usual ceremony—a sad and solemn duty for me to perform. Sept. 5, I arrived here after a passage of 47 days from New Orleans, and shall write you fully by next steamer. Capt. Simmons was a native of Hyannis, a young man of fine talents as a shipmaster, and universally beloved and respected by all who knew him.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL.—The following extract, says the Washington National Intelligencer, is from a letter written by a lady upwards of eighty years old, residing in Philadelphia, to her grandson, in Washington, District of Columbia:

When George Washington delivered his 'Farewell Adress,' in the room at the south-east corner of Chestnut and Sixth streets, I sat immediately in front of him. It was in the room Congress occupied.—The table of the Speaker was between the two windows on Sixth street. The daughter of Dr. C., of Alexandria, the physician and intimate friend of Washington, Mrs. H., whose husband was the Auditor, was a very dear friend of mine. Her brother Washington was one of the secretaries of Gen. Washington. Young Dandridge, a nephew of Mrs. Washington, was the other.

I was included in Mrs. H.'s party, to witness the august, the solemn scene.—Mr. H. declined going with Mrs. H., as she had determined to go early, so as to secure the front bench. It was fortunate for Miss C., afterwards Mrs. L., that she could not trust herself to be so near her honored grandfather. My dear father stood very near her. She was terribly agitated. There was a narrow passage from the door of entrance to the room, which was on the east, dividing the rows of benches.

General Washington stopped at the end, to let Mr. Adams pass to the chair. The latter always wore a full suit of bright drab, with lash, or loose cuffs to his coat. He always wore strut ruffles. He had not changed his fashions. He was a short man with a good head. With his family he attended our church twice a day. General Washington's dress was a full suit of black. His military hat had the black cockade.

There stood the "Father of his Country," acknowledged by the nation—the first in war, first in peace, and the first in the hearts of his countrymen. No marshal, with gold-colored scarfs, attended him—no noise. Mr. Adams covered his face with both his hands; the sleeves of his coat and his hands were covered with tears. Every now and then there was a suppressed sob.

I cannot describe Washington's appearance as I felt it—perfectly composed and self-possessed till the close of his address, then, when strong nervous sobs broke loose—when tears covered our faces—then the great man was shaken. I never took my eyes from his face. Large drops came from his eyes. He looked to the youthful children, who were parting with their father, their friend, as if his heart was with them, and would be to the end.

FIFTY BUSHELS OF BARLEY TO THE ACRE. Mr. Jacob Green of Chester, harvested and measured up 48 bushels and 12 quarts of clean barley, free from charlick, oats or any other seed; and it is estimated that his fowls ate up two or three bushels before threshing. This was the produce of a measured acre of land. The seed was of the two-rowed variety, and was obtained of Thomas Brown, Esq., of Hampton Falls.—News-Letter.

☞ Another murder has been committed in New York city. The victim was William Darling, a negro about forty years of age, and the murderer was Joseph Nicholas, also a negro, about thirty-two years old. The parties drank, then they quarrelled, then they came to blows, and then Nicholas drew a sailor's sheath-knife, and stabbed Darling in the breast, inflicting a mortal wound.

☞ The freight train of the Housatonic Railroad, in its passage to West Stockbridge, on Monday evening, run over a man named Patrick Dempsey, terribly mangling his body. He was about thirty years of age, and left the station at West Stockbridge but a short time previous, very much intoxicated.

☞ The Union Bank at Kinderhook, N. Y., was entered on the night of the 15th inst., by burglars, who blew open the safe with powder and robbed it of $6000 to $8000. A portion of the bills taken were mutilated, having been withdrawn from circulation.

☞ At Concord, on Sunday, a company of four Irish persons visited "Long Pond," for a boat ride, which they had enjoyed but a short time when the boat either sunk, or was upset, and two females were drowned, the two men clinging to the boat until they were rescued.

GOOD SENSE.—A friend showed a gentleman filling a high place of trust, some slanders that had been written against him. "These rascals," said the official, "make me talk and act as they would if they were in my place."

☞ The New York Police Gazette says the four persons who robbed the Hatters' Bank, Bethel, Ct., of $86,000, and compromised the matter by retaining $26,000, were Jack Wright, John Davis, Charley Radcliff and G. King, all of them notorious characters.

☞ Patrick Hackett of Woonsocket, R. I., fell from a building in Blackstone, Mass., on Saturday, striking upon the back of his neck in such a manner as to paralyze his whole body, and cause his death. He leaves a wife and several children.

☞ The Woonsocket Patriot states that Mrs. Studley, of Valley Falls, Rhode Island, the woman who is charged with poisoning her husband, has been admitted to bail in $10,000, and is now at liberty.

☞ The Eloils Belge states that not long since, as the clergyman was reciting the usual prayers over the coffin of a child, feeble cries were heard, and the coffin was opened, when the child was found alive and life-like. It was taken to the hospital and finally recovered.

☞ Rev. L. C. Stevens has closed his labors as pastor of the Baptist Church in Deerfield. It is expected that Rev. James Barnaby will be his successor. Mr. B. was pastor of that Church for three years, ending in 1828.

☞ The storm of Thursday, the 16th, raised so high a tide on the marshes at Hampton and other places, that a large portion of the hay that had been cut, was washed away—some say 500 tons.

☞ A house and barn belonging to Mr. Winch, in East Jaffrey, N. H., were destroyed by fire on Sunday last, together with their contents. The buildings were well insured.

☞ In a large city the clock never strikes twice in the hearing of the same population, for within the hour a child has been born and some soul has been taken.

☞ The N. H. Baptist State Convention will meet this year in Exeter. It will commence the third Wednesday of October and continue two days.

☞ The military stationed at Staten Island had a sorry time of it on Wednesday night and Thursday morning, during the easterly storm, being drenched to the skin, while their tents were inundated.

☞ A boy named Jotham Francis Morse, residing in Bath, Me., fell from a tree which he was climbing, on Friday last, and was killed.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT THE SOUTH.—Savannah, Sept. 20.—The Board of Health reports that there have been no new cases of yellow fever during the past week, and that there are no apprehensions of an epidemic.

The News says the sickness is abating, and that there is no fever in the hospitals. The weather is favorable to health.

Mobile, Sept. 18.—The yellow fever was declared epidemic on Wednesday last.

New Orleans, Sept. 20.—The deaths from yellow fever in this city on Saturday were 74, and for the week ending on that day 460.

In New York, a boarder in the Merchant's Hotel, was recently robbed of $15,000; a negro named Darling was stabbed by another negro in a grog shop in the five points, on Friday, and died in a short time after the blow; Mary La Costa was robbed of jewelry to the amount of $200 in Laurens street; and, most melancholy of all, an elderly married man lost his watch, money and reputation while trifling with two young ladies whom he took to ride while he was very much intoxicated.

☞ The Mayor of Charleston has appointed Thursday of this week as a day of humiliation and prayer, in view of the ravages of the prevailing epidemic.

A dispatch from Charleston says the Niagara would sail with the captured negroes from that port on Tuesday.

For Erysipelas, and especially for the periodic forms which are so difficult to prevent and cure, the PERVIAN SYRUP is a sure remedy. It not only dissipates the angry inflammation on the surface, but, by its purifying properties, renovates the whole system and protects it against further attacks.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.

The inventor of the PERSIAN BALM has provided for so many of the wants of the human family by his single discovery, that he may well be placed on the list of public benefactors. BAD COLDS.

As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat, or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will entail more serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Radway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold; and the continued use of the R. R. R. Remedies will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It acts powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the phegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given them relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE GENUINE IMPORTED.

LOCAL.

☞ The Railroads leading from this city, and those tending to our business consequence, are undergoing some changes. It is said by John Halifax, who seems posted up in railroad matters here, the repairs on the Great Falls and South Berwick Branch Railroad are nearly completed, and the the only obstacle that delays the re-opening of the road is the arrangement as to the use of the track of the Boston and Maine Railroad, near the depot at Great Falls. The location of the Branch Road is partly over the Canal of the Great Falls Company, and if built there, would require the removal of the track of the Maine Road, all at great expense. It is proposed to save this expenditure by an exchange of track between the roads.—The directors of the Maine Road now have the matter under advertisement, and should they deem it for the interest of their road to save a round sum, will doubtless agree to the proposal, and the road will soon be re-opened, to the great gratification of our merchants, and indeed every one. If the proposal of the Branch Road is declined, a delay of a' few weeks will be caused while the new track is being constructed.

As to the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad, while the new stockholders, or bondholders, may rejoice at the lease of the road to the Concord & Boston,—some of our merchants seem to think that the facilities for doing business over the road with Portsmouth will be lessened by the new arrangement,—and there may be some truth in it; but their own interests may prevent them from carrying the process of raising prices to an extreme.

The repair shop will doubtless be united with the Concord shop, which will deprive several mechanics of situations here.

Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore is Superintendent of the road, and we hope soon to see it extended to the wharves, and doing the business for which it was originally projected.

"THAT MUSIC."— Messrs. Editors,— I should not have asked the privilege of answering "Private Subscription," had you not reported "Home Made" so very incorrectly. I doubt not you intended to have said, "the former of whom ('Rockingham') is interested in music," &c.

"Private Subscription" says, he "understands that 'Home Made' never attends the fairs." Let me say his understanding needs enlightening. He evidently has missed his man," and by a reference to last Saturday's Chronicle, he will learn that "Home Made" is not "Rockingham."

☞ We learn from a postscript of the Boston Traveller of Tuesday evening, that the steamer North Britain has arrived at Quebec. The following in relation to the Atlantic telegraph is the most interesting item of news in the dispatch:

MORMON WOMEN LEAVING UTAH.—A young man named Herbert Brandon, recently from Utah, informs the Jefferson City, Missouri, Examiner, that several Mormon trains had left Fort Scott on their way to the States. Two of the trains, numbering three hundred, were chiefly women, English and Scotch; and the principal topic of their conversation throughout, was the absurdity of Mormonism and its principles. They were all unanimous in their denunciation of Brigham Young and his apostles, and talked of his assassination by the Mormons as a sure event. They have all, without exception, become disgusted with Mormonism and renounced it, and expressed their determination from henceforth to use all their efforts for the total annihilation of Mormonism. They express their desire to return to their native countries, and would, if they had means to do so, in order that they might be instrumental in saving others from the baneful influence of Mormonism. Mr. Brandon predicts a speedy dissolution of the Utah community.

THE UNITED STATES FRIGATE WABASH AT MARSEILLES.—At last Her Majesty's ship Curacoa arrived here last evening; she left Spithead on 14th August, and consequently had a very long passage.—She is at anchor very near the American steam frigate Wabash, of forty guns, which arrived here on Saturday last, on her way to Constantinople. The Wabash is a very fine craft, one of the heaviest of the American frigates, with a crew of 600 men, among whom may be discovered some very smart British tars. Their loyalty is no proof against, as they say, "better grog and better pay" on board the Yankee than on board the British men-of war. If I am not misinformed, the Wabash goes to Constantinople purposely to be exhibited to the Sultan as a model steamer, as his Majesty proposes to favor America with an order for building him a few ships of war, and is desirous to judge personally of this matter, rather than to trust to the report of the commissioner whom he had recently despatched for the purpose to the United States. Besides I am told the Wabash is commissioned to settle some little account with the Turkish government, but altogether of an "amicable nature."—Marseilles, (Sept. 1) correspondent of the London Post.

☞ Daniel Crowin of Washington, Clerk in the office of the Coast Survey, went to New York to witness the cable celebration, and some days afterwards visited a house in Leonard street, where he was plied with liquor by the inmates of the house, and then placed in bed in an upper room. During the the night he fell out of the window, and striking a picket fence was killed.

☞ Eben'r. Francis, aged 83, died in Boston on Tuesday morning. His property, left behind, is worth three or four millions. $2,800,000 is on deposit in the Boston banks.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our races. Reader, although the roses may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be pearls, if the head be bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, burnt and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will have more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following testimonials, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poaster, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the effective restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Office, 13 Nassau st., Apr. 13, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative for my father, who had been confined to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, the wonderful trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With astonishment I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white, have regained their dark and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and supplies the brain, as common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KNEE.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling out and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair freely. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, length, thickness and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment hundreds of young men in these United States, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance which keeps them from consulting, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, with full directions and advice, if the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invisible secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred young men, in whom he had been instrumental in treating by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are ready to testify to the benefit received.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments on your health, or suffer your money to be the cause of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superiority in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article, purporting to be genuine, under the same. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where they are for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 diy

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the Lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that no one can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize is drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

All communications strictly confidential. m18jy

TRUTHFUL as it KNOWS, that SOMEWHAT the said PILLS do CONTAIN MERCURY, yet, nevertheless, the desired object, when PROPORTIONALLY has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will remember that Professor Cresswell amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered FULL AND TRUE; that is to say that PILLS may not be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, of THE NEW YORK LUNG SEPTIMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and the kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added to a life long and perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reached all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I am now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Mixtures, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for one patient, which will usually be medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $5 paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients giving a full history of their disease and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients willing to avail themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment, may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—6m

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Tar and Dead-Oil, which all must see, in and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now offers it to the public, as the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical use, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tar, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by transmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted by the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and energy on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

A POLITICAL "JEU D'ESPRIT."

President Buchanan to the Queen:

White House, Washington, Aug. 6.

MY DEAR MADAM,—I have to transmit to you the mournful intelligence of the death of my dearly beloved first born, christened, out of regard to your people, "English Bill." His funeral obsequies were attended on the 2d inst. by a concourse of 9000 Sovereigns in Kansas. Poor boy! He was always weakly, a hereditary trait of the family.

In affliction, yours, JAMES BUCHANAN.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1858.

THE PEDLAR LAW AND BIBLE COLPORTEURS.—The N. H. Democrat, of Laconia, tells a story which would be a good one for its purpose, were it true, but, as it happens to be the work of imagination, or at least a gross exaggeration of facts, it occupies a space in its columns, which might have been better filled. The substance of it is as follows: A colporteur was recently employed in distributing Bibles for the American Bible Society, and put up for the night in Meredith, in the vicinity of the Bay meeting-house, when he learned from conversation with his host that he was violating the Pedler Law.—Says the Democrat:

"He was shocked, and declared his purpose to proceed immediately to Union Bridge, where he hired his horse and wagon, give them up, and then leave this State as rapidly as possible, which he did."

To this the editor of the Congregational Journal, who is also Treasurer of the New Hampshire Bible Society, thus makes reply:—

We inform the Democrat that the American Bible Society has employed no colporteur to distribute Bibles in that region, nor in any other in this State, but the New Hampshire Bible Society employed a student of the Methodist Theological school in this city, during his recent vacation, to canvass the town of Sanbornton.—He obtained his Bibles at our office, hired a horse and wagon, went over the town and quietly completed his work, and then returned to his studies in this city. He might, for aught we know, have met with individuals with whom he had conversation about the pedler law, but the representation that he was frightened, gave up his team and left the State for fear of prosecution, is very poor gammon.

The pedler press of the State, having little or no capital besides, are making "superhuman efforts" to get up a stream of sympathy over this terrible law, and, as in the above instance, don't seem to be very scrupulous about making stories as well as efforts.

That bible colporteurs came within the letter of the old pedlar law, as well as of the new, there is no doubt. But they were in no danger before, and are in no danger now.

In the N. H. Patriot of the 22d, the pedler advocate finds fault with the "invidious distinction" made between citizens of this State and of other States, particularly with a two years' residence being required!

The writer must either presume on the ignorance of his readers, or be himself very ignorant. For the late law, signed by Gov. Martin, required a similar residence of three years.

The Patriot will please to say, that the old law was just as invidious as the new.

☞ China, as we learn by an abstract of the British Treaty with the Central Flowery Kingdom, is to be opened to the Christian Religion, so that missions may now be carried on there legally.

It is also to be opened to travellers of all nations, with proper passports. In this respect, it is more liberal than our own country, where, in some districts, people of certain complexion and hair cannot travel, and "have no rights," &c.

CHURCH MEMBERS.—We see this item floating in the papers:

It is stated that actual statistics show that during the last fifty years, "the number of members of the evangelical churches in the United States, has increased from four hundred thousand to three millions and a half, being an increase of eightfold; while our population has increased four-fold."

Very likely the statistics may read so; but if any person should infer from this, a corresponding increase of evangelical strength, he would deceive himself greatly.

THE EFFECTS OF TOBACCO.—The Dublin Medical Press asserts that the pupils of the Polytechnic School in Paris have recently furnished some curious statistics bearing on tobacco. Dividing the young men of that college into two groups—the smoker and the non-smoker—it shows that the smokers in the various competitive examinations, are far inferior to the others. Not only in the examination on entering the school are the smokers in a lower rank, but in the various ordeals that they have to pass through in a year, the average rank of the smokers had constantly fallen and not inconsiderably, while the men who did not smoke, enjoyed a cerebral atmosphere of the clearest kind.

DISTRUST.—Trust him little who praises all; him less who censures all, and him least who is indifferent about all.—Lacater.

NEWBURYPORT POLICE.—On Thursday afternoon, Marshall Westcott, assisted by constables and police, entered the store of Pillsbury & Perley, on Merrimac street, and seized twenty casks of spirituous liquors, containing some 6000 gallons.

The Herald says the cause of this seizure was the drunkenness of a man named Barton, just returned from Labrador, who one day this week, becoming intoxicated at the store of Pillsbury & Perley, went to his home in Ward 6th, and abused and whipped his wife, for which he was convicted and fined. The facts of the case coming to the police committee of the city government, they ordered the seizure, which is the largest ever made in the city. And the decent people say they are glad of it, and wish they would root out the evil.

LOW-NECKED DRESSES.—In the early days of Pennsylvania, there was a law which stated as follows:—"That if any white female, of ten years or upwards, should appear in any public street, lane, highway, church, court house, tavern, ball-room, theatre, or any other place of public resort, with naked shoulders, (i. e., low-necked dresses,) being able to purchase necessary clothing, shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one or more than two hundred dollars." The closing paragraph of the law, however, permitted women of questionable character to bare their shoulders, as a badge of distinction between the chaste and the unchaste.

A GROCER'S REVENGE.—The Charlestown Advertiser says, a grocer in Epping, N. H., by a cunning contrivance, which we shall not describe, detected a loafer in picking his money-draw, and accused him of it instanter. The thief stoutly denied it for about fifteen minutes, but when told that the bank bill he had stolen was marked by having a piece cut off and otherwise, and that he would be arrested immediately, if he did not give it up and pay for what he had stolen before, gave it up, and promised to settle next day. In the mean time, however, he absconded, when the grocer wrote upon the back of the bill: "This bill was stolen from my money drawer, Sept. 10, 1858, by Francis Wentworth, of Lebanon, N. H.—George Sawyer."

☞ Mary Willis, a slave, belonging to a man in Lexington, Ky., lately escaped with her husband to Detroit, her master, who was in financial difficulty, conniving at the escape. Since the woman arrived at Detroit, it is said that a plot has been discovered between her husband and two scoundrels named Brawdy and Reynolds, to deliver her up for $300 to the creditors of the estate of her former master.

☞ During a recent visit to Frankfort-on-the-Main, Prince Metternich, calling aside the host of the "Roman Emperor" hotel, at which he was stopping, stated that on that day (23d of August) it was just eighty years since he, then a lad of five years, had first set foot in that house, in the retinue of the Emperor Joseph of Austria.

☞ Recently, in Chicago, the babtistry of one of the Baptist churches was courteously opened to the Universalist clergymen of that city, for the baptism of several candidates. The pastor of the church was present to witness the scene, and offered prayer at the close.

☞ A journeyman sausage maker, of Philadelphia, "who parts his hair in the middle," recently eloped with the daughter of a large operator in kindling-wood. They did the first eight miles in a charcoal wagon. At last accounts, the young lady's father was in pursuit of them.

Three convicts have escaped from Sing Sing Prison within a few days. Two of them were at work in a potato field, under the care of a keeper. It is said that the discipline of the prison is so poor that the lives of the keepers are hardly safe.

BABIES IN A BALLOON.

At the Illinois Fair, in Centralia, on Friday P. M., Mr. Brooks, a balloonist, did not go up himself, but suffered a young man to do so, who was learning of him how to manage balloons. The young man in the balloon rose high, and sailed off out of sight.

He came back on Saturday morning, at daybreak, having lost the balloon, but having a story to tell. He sailed 20 miles to the south, and landed near a farm house. The balloon was made fast to a fence, and after a short conversation with the farmer and his wife, they made an ascension of a few hundred feet, one at a time. The balloon rose readily, and was easily pulled down again by means of the anchor rope.

The farmer and his wife were highly pleased with their trips, and while expressing their gratification, two of their small children, one five and the other three years of age, who had been looking on with astonishment, scrambled into the car and cried out, "Let me go up, let me go up." The aeronaut proceeded at once to gratify them, but from some carelessness or accident, as he was letting them up, the rope slipped from his hands, and the balloon mounted upwards with the velocity of a rocket. The frantic agony of the parents and the consternation of the aeronaut may be imagined.

In a minute or two the balloon had passed entirely out of sight, and was lost in the blue depths of the sky. Nothing could be done but to hasten back to Mr. Brooks at Centralia, and ask his advice. Mr. Brooks expressed his opinion that the balloon would remain in the air about an hour before commencing to descend, and, while at its greatest altitude, the children would probably freeze to death, unless, in their fright, they had precipitated themselves from the car.

Saturday morning, at daybreak, a farmer near New Carthage, 43 miles distant from Mr. Harvey's place, discovered the balloon suspended in the air, attached by the grappling rope to a tree in his yard. He immediately hauled the balloon down, and found the youngest child asleep in the bottom of the basket, and the eldest carefully watching over her little brother.—They had been wafted about by different currents of air throughout the night, and had come to a halt but a little while before they were relieved.

The story the girl told was that as the balloon ascended she cried pitcously to her father to pull her down. She said she passed over a town where she saw a great many people, to whom she likewise appealed at the top of her voice. This place was Centralia. The balloon was seen to pass over there, but the people little imagined it carried two persons in such danger. Her little brother cried with cold, and the heroic girl took off her apron, covered him and got him to sleep. In handling the ropes she happened to pull one which had the effect of bringing the balloon down, and although not understanding the philosophy of the movement, she was quite content to keep the valve open, so long as by so doing she found she approached the earth.

The youthful aerial voyagers were in the balloon thirteen and a quarter hours. It may easily be imagined that among the neighbors where they landed they were the objects of much curiosity and interest.—The girl's presence of mind and loving consideration for her brother may well entitle her to remembrance, while the incident itself was of such a remarkable character that we opine it will not soon be forgotten in that section.

The boy and girl were conveyed home as soon as practicable, and, it is needless to say, were received with outstretched arms.

☞ The Police of Portland, on Wednesday, seized the liquors in Thos. McDonough's groggery, four barels and some decanters. They are beginning with the worst places.

☞ A despatch from St. Johns, Newfoundland, says that twenty-five houses were destroyed by fire in that city, on the night of the 17th inst. One man perished in the flames.

Sir Thomas Coxe finds nothing to abuse except his wife's crinoline and Mrs. Longbow Mille's hoop. "If they have no other advantage," sneered Lady Coxe, "they keep the men at a proper distance; and that's a great blessing." "To the men," growled Sir Thomas.

☞ At New Haven, Conn., a Portuguese sailor was found murdered on Friday morning. He had been paid off from a whaler the day before; left his boarding house at 4 in the morning! and was found dead in the street soon after.

In the same city on Thursday night, George Mercer, an Englishman, was killed in an amateur prise fight, by William Houston, another Englishman. There was but one witness present. They fought five rounds; on the first two Houston fell; on the other three Mercer fell, and did not rise from his last. His brain was congested. Houston was committed for examination.

A VENERABLE HAT LOST.—An incident occurred this afternoon on Main street bridge, which caused some excitement.—Our venerable townsman, General H., of line boat memory, had his hat taken by the wind from his head to the river, while crossing the bridge, and the hat went over the Falls. This hat was the same he wore when he called upon Gen. Lafayette and Gov. Clinton, on their first passage over the Grand Eric Canal. It's gone forever!—Rochester Union.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Proprietors is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the nec plus ultra of cosmetics—it pen'trates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the features of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from second Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians among their cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing sensations which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, and for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

LOCAL.

OUR CITY NEWSPAPERS.

We copy below a notice each from our neighbors of the Ballot and Gazette—which certainly do not present the service of parties in a very favorable light. Both these papers are more than good, of their respective kinds; and worthy of the support of those for whom they do such good service. We don't believe we want a partner, or are desirous of espousing the cause of any party. We prefer to be "independent" from parties,—and especially from such fate as our neighbors here refer to with such good humor:

From the N. H. Gazette.

☞ We are always willing to aid our brethren of the press by circulating their personal advertisements, and we cheerfully transfer to our columns the following from this week's Ballot. If any gentleman who might respond to the proposal does not fancy the politics of the Ballot, (and we don't see how anybody can fancy them,) let him call at the Gazette office; we can give him pecuniarily as good a chance as he can get out of the Ballot, and we know he'll like us better for a partner, for we'll let him do all the work and have all the profits and responsibilities, while we enjoy the sublime satisfaction of serving our party and our country without even an empty promise of reward in this world:

From the Ballot.

PARTNER WANTED—RARE CHANCE.—A young man of talent and enterprise, having a cash capital of five or ten thousand dollars which he would like to invest in the newspaper business, can find an opening at this office. He should be one who can live on promises to pay, any quantity of which he will find on the books of the establishment. Having labored some four years for our party without pecuniary reward, and sacrificed what little capital we had at the start, we are willing at the present time, for a consideration, to divide the honors and responsibilities of our editorial position. Don't all speak at once.

☞ For two or three months the weather will be of the best order for grading streets, cutting down ledges, making culverts, &c. A hard winter is before us, when hundreds will find no employment.—Large numbers would esteem it a very great privilege to work at even low wages. Why would it not be good economy for the city to hire a liberal supply of money, when it can be done for a low rate of interest, and expend it in works of needed improvement? The money might be spent for the benefit of the city, which, without the labor being furnished to the workmen, will have to be paid in poor expenses before spring.

☞ Atlantic Engine Company, No. 6, Albert Foye foreman, are to make an excursion to Lake Village, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 29th and 30th. They go to Dover in a packet, (a handy conveyance, truly, to the interior,) and thence to Alton Bay and Lake Village, where they will be guests of Niagara Company, No. 1. They will be accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band; and as both have neat uniforms, they will make a creditable appearance.

ROWDYISM.—A resident at the western portion of the city complains of the unparalleled rowdyism that prevails there, to the great annoyance of the neighborhood. On Sunday last, he says, a lot of fellows were gunning in the immediate neighborhood of the Creek, and the frequent discharges of their pieces pained the ears of those who regard reverently the Sabbath; and the same night some rowdies tore down the railing on the bridge. A police officer is never seen in the vicinity, and the citizens there have no protection from the government they are taxed to support.

How farcial it seems, among politicians, when sustaining defeat or barely escaping it, to have them whine about their adversaries using corrupt means or money to carry their end, just as if they themselves had not used all the means in their power to effect their purpose. They do not have the manliness to confess that they have been out-generaled, which is really the fact.—Boston Gazette.

The landlady looked suspicious at Jenny, but the innocent girl went on scrubbing, and humming "Katy Darling."

BROWN BREAD LEGISLATION.—In the quiet city of Lynn there is some commotion at present in regard to the profanity of a few bakers, who distribute brown bread and baked beans on the morning of Sunday. Some holy men are horrified at this pagan custom, and fearful of the fate of Sodom, are endeavoring to put a stop to it. Such sins are certainly very horrid.—We wonder if any of these nice Christians, in calculating interest, ever throw out the Sundays, and call twenty-seven days a month? The people never will stand it. They will abide legislation about vital things, but beware of meddling with their victuals. They have no appetite for that.—Boston Sat. Eve. Gaz.

POLITICAL.—The Hartford Courant says:

If Douglas is successful in Illinois this year, it gives him the best chance for the nomination in 1860. The Northern Democratic papers see this, and are silently awaiting the result. If he is defeated, it is the end of his political life. Hence the energy he throws into the contest.

If the Republicans are successful by themselves in New York this year, it will give William H. Seward the best chance for the Republican nomination of 1860.—It was to ascertain this point that led the Seward leaders in the Convention to refuse any fusion with the Americans. Hence they had rather go this game alone. It would show them their strength or their weakness. If they are defeated, a union upon some other candidate will be needed for 1860.

THE INEBRIATE'S ASYLUM.—Binghampton, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Everything bids fair for a large attendance at the laying of the corner stone of the Inebriate's Asylum, to-morrow. Hon. Edward Everett is here; also, Hon. Ben. F. Butler, Hon. Geo. Folsom, Dr. John W. Francis, Dr. Bellows, and a large number of the Trustees. The Trustees, together with prominent citizens of this place visited the site this afternoon.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.—Columbus, O., Sept. 23.—Yesterday at Groveport, in this county, a woman named Schelling threw her four children into a well 35 feet deep, then jumped in herself. The children were three girls and a boy, the oldest 12 and the youngest 2 years. They were all taken out dead. The woman is supposed to have been insane.

POLICEMAN STARTLED.—Last night three of the police repaired with due precaution to a cellar on Lowell street, to arrest the occupant, Alice Kelly, for drunkenness. She was seized while in bed with her two children, who were found asleep by her side, but she made no movement and on examination proved to be dead. This morning Coroner Jewett was called, but deemed an inquest unnecessary as death had evidently been caused by apoplexy resulting from intemperance. The deceased was thirty years old; she had been a widow for several years, during which time she had received much aid from the city and had led a very intemperate life. During the summer the proceeds of her children's begging had supported the family, which occupied a filthy cellar. The children were not aware of their mother's death till awakened by the police.—Lowell News.

RELIGION IN DAILY LIFE.—Religion is not a perpetual moping over good books. Religion is not even prayer, praise, holy ordinances. These are necessary to religion—no man can be religious without them. But religion is mainly and chiefly the glorifying of God amid the duties and trials of the world: the guiding of our course amid the adverse winds and currents of temptation, by the starlight of duty and the compass of divine truth; the bearing us manfully, wisely, courageously, for the honor of Christ, our great Leader, in the conflict of life.—Cary.

PUN.—The Courier expresses the opinion that Mr. Erasmus D. Beach's speech at Charleston "will be of great service in furthering his election." That cannot be, since Mr. Beach's election cannot be further off than it is.—Atlas.

Wing's Farina Crackers.

These articles are acknowledged to be one of the most healthful articles of food ever produced, and they are now used by numerous families with great advantage.

One pound of WING'S CRACKERS is estimated to contain as much nourishment as two pounds of bread.

Those who use WING'S CRACKERS regularly find them unequalled for their invigorating power, not only in aiding the action of the stomach, but in restoring those forces of the system which have become reduced by disease or mental and physical action.

Eminent physicians recommend their use as a valuable food in sickness as well as in health, and especially for children.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all one race. Reader, although the removal of your locks may have left you a glowing chart, that may be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or nothing but scattered and shriveled, hairs and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, all care will lose much than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore to the head, perhaps only one to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very valuable invention, quite effectious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dutch ay Gwellydyd."

Welsh Newspaper Off. 33 Ann-st, Apr. 19, '58.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—About some six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thicken the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

J. G. KNEE.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and useless scattering, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KNEE.

CINCINNATI, O., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD:—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill on, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large size, (which is more than half a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, and retails for 50 cents; the large 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $2.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums exert a powerful yet mild influence on the bowels, removing all morbid matter from the system, regulating their action, and healthy secretions, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving a healthy tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the most of persons from the feeling of fullness and coming sickness.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhoea in two weeks. Also, Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents. We have no hesitancy in recommending this medicine as a preventive against Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates like a charm, and thousands are willing to testify to its distinguished wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

Children love to take it, as it cures worms.

Dr. SANFORD Proprietor 242 Broadway, N. Y.

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious treacherous and dangerous maladies which they suffer from the relentless quacks, I make these complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, free of charge, to any part of the country, when accompanied by the true description of the disease he seeks to be cured, and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last twenty years, he has cured more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics, have come under his care, and in less than three-fourths of this number he prescribed upon his books for one month.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent in all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Particular attention to finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from your object, and be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious medicines at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REMEDIATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by introducing a spurious article under the same spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by mercenary pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the nature of female complaints.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure to find it. The genuine article is only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 ly

THE Lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to purchase tickets in Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all tickets being filled in the drawing, and best to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten is a prize. Tickets are: Whole, $5; halves, $2 50; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $75, according to the scheme drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.

My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of study devotion to the Cause of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantages of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuntant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. I, of the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month in advance, which includes the medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the first box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Medicine will be delivered at their door, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may expect immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—ea8 1m

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the Cracking and Decay of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of those who are in search of a Roof, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most truthfully assert that IT IS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

From the Boston Daily Bee, Sept. 14.

THE CHICKERING PIANOS AGAIN.—A correspondent of the Journal does not seem pleased with a compliment to the Chickering pianos, which recently appeared in our columns. As our object was to offer a merited word for what, in our opinion, are among the very best, if they do not stand at the head of instruments manufactured at home or abroad, perhaps it is not at all strange that a rival establishment, which takes to itself an identical name, should not receive such a compliment with coolness and complacency. Nevertheless, we see no reason to change our good opinion. It is, we feel quite sure, well founded.—The establishment has now enjoyed a distinguished reputation for full thirty years; its instruments are to be found in every part of the American continent, no less than in several foreign countries; they are in requisition on great and particular occasions; and the proprietors, as business men, are so proverbial for their honorable dealing, that we feel no hesitation in reiterating our former testimony in every respect. We have no doubt that the public will fully sustain us in this, for who does not know of the Chickering & Sons, and of the products of their celebrated and unrivalled manufactory? They have a name, and it is one in which the Bostonians feel a just pride.

In this connection and which is corroborative of what we have above suggested, we take pleasure in stating that the Chickering pianos (we use the word "the" for we know of no other establishment of reputation) were never in such demand as now. It is difficult, even with the large force of workmen employed, to fill orders that press upon the establishment. Some idea of this may be gathered from the fact that upwards of fifty per week are finished, and the supply is altogether inadequate to the demand. We also take pleasure in stating, what we know to be true, that the Chickerings are practical mechanics, each having served a regular term of apprenticeship at the bench, and each being, to-day, a first class workman, capable of constructing a piano in every department from first to last.

Having this actual practical knowledge and skill, and availing themselves of whatever will add a new virtue to an instrument, it is clear to understand how they maintain their high reputation, and why their pianos have so wide a preference. These circumstances are alluded to with the more emphasis from the fact that certain parties, whose motives are unworthy and unmanly, to say the least, at various times and in sundry places, have attempted to pervert well known facts with a discreditable view to injure the firm. The position of the establishment and the character and extent of its works, are a triumphant refutation of all this petty malice and jealous rivalry.

From the Ballot.

DEMOCRATIC GASCONADE.—The democrats of Charlestown, Mass., with delegations from other cities and towns, had a mass meeting at Bunker Hill last Monday evening, over which Edward Riddle presided. In the course of his opening speech the president said—

"And here permit me to say—in no spirit of vain boasting—that if our brethren in other parts of our state will labor as assiduously, firmly and effectively, as the democrats of Bunker Hill, the house of Banks & Co. will be declared bankrupt in less than sixty days, Erastus D. Beach will be your next Governor, and in place of that corrupt, false-hearted politician, Henry Wilson, being returned for another term to the U. S. Senate, Caleb Cushing or Reverdy Johnson could fill the seat Wilson has so long disgraced."

Now Mr. Riddle knows, as every sensible man does, that Beach cannot come within fifty thousand votes of an election, as well as he knows that Massachusetts will never again consent to the disgrace of being misrepresented in the Senate of the United States by such doughfaced democrats as Choate and Cushing. But we presume the Irishmen, who comprised a large portion of Mr. Riddle's audience, received all he said as gospel truth.

At the same meeting the right of Mr. Toombs to call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill was fully endorsed, it being resolved, among other things,

"That the rights of citizens of territories, coming from North or South, involving their property of all descriptions, whether of fabrics of New England manufacture or the property in negroes, are sacred. And that any suggestion, emanating from any source, affirming that the constitutional rights of the people of a state or territory can be by 'lawful means' obliterated, or withheld by non-action on the part of the law-making power, is based upon a looseness of political morals, and a faithlessness to constitutional obligations repulsive to the sense of the democracy of the Union."

"Isn't that a pretty dish to set before the people of Massachusetts?

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agents of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continue to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, prepared on Reasonable Terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of any Patent or Patent Claim,—and further advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that SUCCESS is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he feels sold that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and foreign countries, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1853.
MR. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all kinds of subjects, patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on the part of this gentleman to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on their rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1858.

LETTER FROM AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE, July 12th.

Dear Chronicle:— We arrived at this place, thanks to fair winds, and not to the old butter-box we were in, on the 6th inst., after a prosperous passage of eighty-seven days. A few slight incidents occurred to break the monotony of the trip, such as: when about a week out, two of the ship's boys got into a quarrel, and one of them received a dangerous wound from a sheath-knife; the next day, a man fell from the fore-yard, overboard, but was saved; on the 4th inst., when we were running in between Melbourne Heads, a Spanish sailor jumped into the water to swim ashore—but on seeing the ship leaving him, changed his mind, and, calling lustily for help, was, after a while, picked up by the ship's boat.

A man overboard is a somewhat serious affair, in most cases; but this time, I rather enjoyed the noise and confusion created by the alarm, as I knew the man to be a good swimmer, in no danger from sharks, and close to the life-buoy. A whaler would have had her main-top-sail aback and a boat down in three minutes from the first outcry; but our boat was lashed-up and seized-off in such a manner that a good half-hour elapsed before her keel touched the water—so that poor Joe began to feel quite cool by the time he got on board the ship. I don't think he will undertake to swim ashore again.

Occasionally, also, a man or two would get knocked down by a capstan-bar or belaying pin—and the unreasonable sailors, as I am informed by one of the harbor-police, this morning refused: firstly, to do any more work; secondly, to be put in irons by the captain; and lastly, to be beaten. The aid of the police was invoked, and the rebels are now, I believe, on board one of the hulks in the harbor.

Port Philip, the harbor of Melbourne, looks more like a civilized port than some places I have seen in the Navigator's or Ladrone Islands; but still a man could tell that he was not in New York or Boston, within a very short time after waking up. In the first place, all the tow-boats are painted red, and look as if built of brick. Secondly, all discharging of ships is done by lighters, most of which resemble the specimens of naval architecture used for transporting mud and stones on the Piscataqua; while the remainder are supernaturated old schooners and brigs, compared with which the model of the ark was decidedly modern.

Then the everlasting "crown" is in every place and everything, and the police ride on horses and wear gold lace on their caps. The yellow convict-hulks, too, and the convict-boat, with their crews in striped cotton shirts well marked with letters and numbers, don't look much like Yankee-land.

Besides all this, the total absence of snow in mid-winter, is not according to New Hampshire custom, at any rate.

Melbourne is a large place, containing all the way from 20,000 to 100,000 inhabitants, and appears to be doing a heavy business, although the business season is but just commencing. As to the people, their rule is, "you push and I'll push, and the one who crowds hardest is best fellow."

A gentleman whose acquaintance I have made, informs me that people are sometimes murdered and robbed, and advises me to look out for breakers. I told him that I hadn't enough personal property to tempt any of the rascals, but he said that made no difference at all, as they killed their victims first, and then examined into the state of their finances.

Upon this, I have furnished myself with a large sized "Colt's," and am of the opinion that the villain who may attack me now, if he gets hit with four or five balls from the big pistol aforesaid, and hasn't powers of locomotion superior to those possessed by "Joe," will stand but a very small chance of being able to retire from the profession on the wealth he may amass in that enterprise.

I am now writing under difficulties.—Two of the ship's crew who were not engaged in the refusal to work, have come up to pay me a visit, and finding me engaged in writing, have commenced discussing religious matters. "Sam" is a Spiritualist; but "Harry" scoffed at the idea of disembodied spirits being able to communicate with those yet in the flesh, although he firmly believes in "ghosts," and considers any one who doubts the existence of the "Flying Dutchman," (which he affirms he has seen) as being about the worst kind of a skeptic.

I can hardly tell whether I am a Spiritualist or Atheist, or indeed anything at all. By the way, if you could send me out a little of the revival that was going on when I left, and a large quantity of Maine law, it might be the means of doing a great deal of good, for the air is almost blue with oaths, and rum, whiskey, gin, and brandy, can be procured at the barber's or the dry goods merchant's.

Tobacco is one of the necessaries of life here, or at least it seems to be, for nearly every one chews or smokes, and some do both. The weed is valued at 4s.6d. sterling per pound, which makes chewing not only a filthy but a costly habit,—as to smoking I shall say nothing, lest the meerschaum which I see lying on the other end of the table should be indignant and refuse duty.

This is a very musical country. While I write, (11 o'clock, P. M.,) I hear a grand chorus of dogs—big dogs and little dogs, and medium sized dogs,—a feline serenade,—lots of donkeys,—and a "laughing Jackass." This last performer is a bird, somewhere about the size of a crow, but his voice wants the soft tone which distinguishes that of the Yankee Farmer's pet. It is jerked out incessantly, and sounds very much like a "sewing circle," or a young ladies school at recess.

Americans are not so plentiful here as I had supposed they were, or at least I have seen but few. Even the American ships, coming directly from the States, are manned principally by foreign sailors, and those now in port do not average more than two or three Americans apiece, some of them having not one. But I am tired of writing; and the compositor, before he gets through, will be tired of reading this letter: so I think 'tis about long enough. If I remain here, the readers of the Chronicle may expect to be favored occasionally with a communication from me; for which, doubtless, they will be duly grateful. My next will possibly be from the mines, and may contain a general growl at the whole concern. Yours, ever, ICE.

☞ The Washington Star, which claims to be a sort of backdoor organ of the Administration, says in a late issue:

"Mr. Stephens, of Ga., saw on reaching Illinois that it is the deliberate purpose of Douglas to continue in his position of hostility to the majority of the Democratic party of Congress on the Kansas question—that he designs playing next winter the part of the leader of the combined opposition against consummation of the pledges of the English Bill that Kansas shall not be admitted into the Union until she had the requisite ratio of population'" &c.

"Why," says the Portland Advertiser, "isn't that Kansas question settled yet? We thought the authoritative exponents of Democracy had declared it finally wound up, dead, and decently interred.—Will not the 'Ghost down at the bidding' even of Presidents?"

☞ We copy on another page, an article from the New Hampshire Gazette, finding fault with the Charlestown Democratic resolutions. The resolutions refered to, are said by the Newburyport Herald, to be "of the strongest hunker stamp—all that Mr. Buchanan could ask, and all that the South could desire." They are no meaner than the Dred Scott decision, the Lecompton swindle, or the English bill.

Any person who feels an interest in New England politics, and wishes to know what is National, according to modern notions, will please to look at our fourth page to-day, and read the column from the Gazette print. Then let him look at our first page, and read a little piece from the Ballot, which includes the very resolution which the Gazette finds fault with.

The reader will bear in mind that this was the Democratic Meeting of Bunker Hill, and that this resolution is the great plank of their platform, who claim to be the National Democracy of Massachusetts, and whose headquarters are the Boston Custom House.

HONORS TO EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE.—The Philadelphia Press, speaking of Ex-President Pierce's tour in Europe, says: "All along the route, from Lisbon to Marseilles, he has been the recipient of distinguished consideration from public officers and private citizens. At Gibraltar the senior officer in command of the British naval forces at that point, extended marked courtesies, and urged the ex-President and Mrs. Pierce to take passage for Tangier in one of her majesty's public armed vessels. At Marseilles the French authorities, headed by the prefect and military commander, were especially attentive and zealous in acts of hospitality."

A "LITTLE LADY."—There is a married lady in Salem, in good health, whose weight when in full dress is only seventy-three pounds. She has been married ten years, and is a model housewife, performing all her household duties, from choice, without assistance.

☞ It is reported that very rich mines of gold exist in Guiana, where it is obtainable by simply pulling up the grass and shrubs, the precious ore being found adhering to the roots! It should be added, however, that the climate is very deadly, and that a New York company has secured a monopoly for working the mines.

☞ The London Athenæum states that the Haytien students in the Paris colleges have this year carried off their full share of honors, and the occasion has been celebrated by the men of color by a banquet. It is hoped by these gentlemen, who consider themselves of the same hue as Hannibal, Terrence and perhaps some of the African Bishops, that similar banquets may yearly celebrate similar triumphs.

☞ Dred Scott, who recently died, was a very old negro, and enjoyed perfect freedom even after the famous decision. At the great railroad celebration in St. Louis, in June, 1857, he was upon the Fair ground, and an object of greater curiosity to most people than any of the white lions in the city. He was quite proud of the "fuss" he had created in the United States, and enjoyed his notoriety mightily.

A SINECURE.—The Washington Republic is informed that a near relative of a distinguished Southern politician, has held a twelve hundred dollar clekship in one of the Government Bureaus, for three years, during which time he has never done a day's work in his office, although he has regularly drawn his one hundred dollars at the end of every month. For about three months past he has hired a substitute for about sixty dollars a month; but during the residue of the time, he has received his salary regularly, without in any way rendering the slightest equivalent therefor.

A SMALL BEGINNING.—In the year 1700, ten clergymen met at Branford, each one bringing a few books under his arm.—Placing these on the table in Parson Russell's study, each said solemnly, "I give these books for the founding of a College in this Colony." A century and a half have gone by, and Yale College counts its graduates by thousands—and this was its foundation.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A sad accident, says a despatch to the Boston Journal, occurred at Charlestown, N. H., on Wednesday afternoon last. Gen. Carlos J. Hamilton, of White River Village, Vermont, in attempting to get into a carriage for a visit to the Fair Grounds, was precipitated beneath the wheels by the breaking of the step; and the carriage, containing twenty-five persons, passed over his body, probably injuring him fatally.

LIGHTNING AT SEA.—The Salem Register states that the schooner Sarah Burton, of Plymouth, Capt. Haskins, which arrived at Salem on Tuesday, from Para, reports that on the 8th of September, at 3 P. M., latitude 36 49, longitude 60, she experienced a severe tempest, and was four times struck by lightning—twice on the foremast, once on the mainmast, and once on the jib-boom—all in the space of half an hour. The masts and rigging were greatly damaged, being split and burned by the electric fluid. The deck was literally covered with charred pieces of wood and chips. The last shock was the heaviest; the vessel appeared to be wrapped in flames, and she rebounded and shook as though she had struck a rock. The pumps were immediately tried, but it was found she had made no water. All hands were more or less affected, but no one seriously hurt.

NEGRO CATCHERS.—The Cleveland, (O.) Herald, says they cannot catch runaway negroes in Lorrain County, in that State. "The fact was demonstrated the other day at Wellington, in that county, when white men and black men went up to the very muzzles of the revolvers of the slave catchers." The Herald further says:—"We mention the fact for what it is worth, that the rescue of a slave must prove the death of somebody."

☞ The Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, (South) at their recent session at Millersburg, ratified by a vote of thirty-six against twenty-four, the action of the General Conference in Nashville, in expunging the rule against the buying and selling of men and women.

☞ A man was found, a few days since, lying within ten rods of the Joliet and Chicago railroad, near Chicago, where he had lain ten days, suffering from typhoid fever! He had gnawed the flesh off from both his hands!

☞ David Logro Rollins, a prominent citizen of Great Falls, died very suddenly on Sunday morning of last week.

☞ A writer who is now travelling in Maine, and has gone nearly across the State from west to east, writes to the Manchester American as follows:

"When at home, in Manchester, I have heard the 'Maine Law' pronounced a failure. From observation, from conversations with different men of all classes, from the fact that no liquor seller dares show his poison in decanters; from the fact that I have seen no person under the influence of liquor—I infer that the Maine Law has worked well, if not by prohibition, by strengthening the sentiment against rum and its attendant evils."

☞ The General Convention of the Universalist Churches in the United States, held in Providence, closed its sittings on Friday last. There were 134 clergymen present, and eight hundred strangers in attendance. Their action was harmonious, and the meetings indicated a growing interest in their views throughout the country. A resolution advising the admission of females to the ministry was laid over to the next session, to be held at Rochester, N. Y., by a vote of fifteen to ten.

☞ The big telegraphic cable across the Atlantic seems to be not dead, but almost speechless. Mr. Field has put some questions to Mons. De Sauty, at Trinity Bay, and the latter, under date of Sept. 24, says:

Have received nothing nothing intelligible since the 1st, excepting feeling a few signals yesterday. I cannot send anything to Valentia. Very little variation in electrical manipulations since Sept. 1.

☞ The lad Knights, who was supposed to be lost in the woods of Pittsfield, Vt., and in search of whom the people of three or four towns turned out, was found in Chittenden, whither he had fled to escape from the people he lived with, on account of ill usage.

☞ The bowie-knife of the captain of the slaver Echo has been sent to Washington. Inscribed upon it are these words: "America, the land of the free and the home of the brave."

☞ The steam frigate building at New York by Wm. H. Webb, for the Russian goverment, is 6000 tons, and it is estimated will cost $1,200,000. She is a 72 gun frigate, extreme length 320 feet, breadth of beam 55 feet, and depth of hold 34 feet.

☞ The Portland Advertiser says that Maine will send six Republicans to the next Congress; but seems to be somewhat afraid that Johnson and Bradbury will contest the election in their districts.

RAISING OF BLOOD.

This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from impoverishment of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is an excellent remedy for all such conditions, as it equalizes the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, and, by its tonic and alterative powers, arrests the disease in the lungs when not beyond the reach of medicine.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it pen-trates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes closed, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

In five minutes it will loosen the phegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given entire relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R, R. R. medies must be used. WM. R. PRESTON, agent for Portsmouth. s15 2w

To the Citizens of New Hampshire.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound L. Barley, under the surveillance of British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal herbs of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the medical profession, men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, PALIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces 'Charles' London Cordial Gin, "vastly superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, Traiteers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Peaker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

EXETER, Sept. 23.

A very pleasant little town is your neighboring town of Exeter, with its pretty and well-painted houses,—and by the way, it is a sure sign of thrift and refinement, in any town, (to say nothing of the advantage of it,) the keeping its buildings well covered with paint.

Yesterday and to-day have been fete days in Exeter, as most of your readers are aware, in consequence of the County Fair now holden here, with which fact pedestrians on Front street have become familiar, by the trotting of fast horses up and down the street. It is hardly allowable that this Fair presents so good an appearance as that holden in your city the last year; but the propinquity of the State Fair about to be holden at Dover, may be some explanation for this lack.

At the close of the Fair, Prof. J. G. Hoyt delivered an address. The discourse being designed to show the advantages of education combined with labor, was written somewhat after the style of the schoolmaster, and sarcastic in its tone; abounded with passages which might be construed politically; commencing with a rehash of old "wives' fables" and newspaper-stories, pretty well commented upon; and containing some flattery toward the farmers;—whereupon it was supposed by some that the Professor might be talking for "buncombe," as it is believed among the knowing ones that his nomination for Representative to Congress would not be at all distasteful to him.

Hon. John P. Hale followed with remarks upon the social relation of Fairs of this nature. His remarks were made in his characteristic style, and were well received by the people. Mr. Hale spoke of the necessity of holidays to the farmer, who leads mostly a solitary life, when at work in the fields; and of the austerity of the Puritan being the cause of turning the Thanksgiving and Fast days into mere play days. True to his instincts, he commenced his address with a joke.

The display of fruits and vegetables in the hall was very meagre. However, we noticed some very fine specimens of apples, contributed by some of the prominent citizens of this place, and by some of the best horticulturalists in this County. Much regret is here expressed, that more fruit has not been forwarded from the many excellent gardens in Portsmouth.

In the evening there was a large collection of people at the hall, among whom were many Portsmouth citizens.

INQUISITOR.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—The receipts at the late Fair at Exeter were fully equal to those of any previous year there—being about $600. In this city, last year, about $800 was taken. In neither case above is the subscription-money counted in, which has usually amounted to about $200—for music. We hear many a good word spoken for our friend Conner, the efficient and gentlemanly Secretary of the Fair, who, besides being Clerk for the Courts, and attending to all the lawyers and scoundrels in the County, found time to acquit himself handsomely of the not-light duties of his new office.

☞ Does advertising pay? Ask Allen & Paine, if you can get into their store for the rush. Ask E. A. Stevens, after you read one of his columns. Ask Thacher—or anybody who has tried it liberally, systematically and persistently. A great deal depends upon knowing how to advertise.

By the way, we are glad to see our good friend Albert Laighton at the old Laighton stand again for a while. It is a pleasure to be served by one so affable and reliable. If he could but gather the lucre as successfully as he can coin golden thoughts, the firm with which he is associated would occupy the whole block in a brief time.

☞ The City Council Committee on Truancy are doing a double good service in bringing before Police Court sundry juvenile candidates for the State Prison or the gallows. There is a host of grown-up loafers who ought to have the benefit of the Vagrant Act, and go to work on the City Farm.

☞ See auction column, for sale to-day of an excellent little Farm. Also for a chance to buy a capital Horse, two good Cows, and a lot of Carriages, &c., all in good order.

☞ Wm. H. Hughes, an Englishman, well known as a pedestrian and pugilist, and who has lived in Charlestown, Mass., for several years, died in that city of typhus fever, on Sunday evening last. It was he who performed the terribly severe task of walking one hundred miles in twenty-eight hours, round the Cameneum in this city, last summer.

MARRIED,

In Whitehall, N. Y., Samuel Floyd, of Newmarket, to Hattie E. Tierney.
In Newfield, Me., Charles L. Wentworth, Esq., of Wakefield, to Abby C. Hurd.
In Unity, John Sleeper, Esq., to Clarinda E. Marshall.
In Amesbury, John S Kelley to Harriet Sanborn, both of Sandown.

DIED,

In this city, September 25, suddenly, Mr. Thomas W. Philbrook, aged 34 years.
Funeral this Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence, No. 2 Salter street.—Friends and relatives are respectfully invited to attend.
In this city, Sept. 25th, Mr. Thomas W. Philbrook, aged 33 years.
In Auburn, Jesse Bean, aged, 71.
In Concord, Washington Moses, aged 69, formerly of Exeter.
In Manhattan, K. T., Miss Lucy N. Collins, aged 41, formerly of Exeter.
In Reading, Mass., John A. Robinson, aged 44, son of Eben'r C. Robinson, formerly of Stratham.

☞ In the United States Convention of Universalists, at Providence, R. I., the Rev. J. P. Atkinson of Massachusetts introduced the following anti-slavery resolves, which were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That this Convention views with alarm the continued claims of the American slave power to the right of holding in perpetual bondage the children of Africa; that all such claims are contrary to the spirit of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and that we deplore the public demoralization which could originate such demands.

Resolved, That in the present attitude of the conflict between American Fredom and American Despotism, we feel called upon to reiterate our unqualified condemnation of Slavery, and to re-assert our determination to labor for the maintenance of free institutions.

Rev. Eli Ballou of Vermont, reported the bill introduced by him on Wednesday, in relation to the citation and trial by State Conventions of Ministers charged with crime. After debate it was passed, with only one negative.

FIRE AT RYE.—On Saturday last, about eleven o'clock, a fire broke out in the two-story dwelling house owned and occupied by Mr. Wm. Odiorne, on the road to Wallis's Sands, Rye, entirely consuming it. The cause was by accidentally placing brush too near the fire, and in the absence of the family to other parts of the house the accident occurred.

THE NIAGARA.—In a letter from Capt. Chauncey, of the steamer Niagara, received by the Secretary of the Navy, he speaks of the captured Africans as being in an unhealthy condition. Nearly two-thirds of them were suffering from diarrhœa, and nearly one-third with opthalmia. Two died within a day after being received on board his vessel.

IMPORTANT LEGAL DECISION.—Hartford, Sept. 24.—A very important law case was decided by Judge Ellsworth to-day.—Geo. A. Hill, a Boston broker, was decoyed to this city by means of unanimous letters, and on his arrival the parties who used fraud to get him here, caused him to be arrested and committed on a charge of debt and concealment of property. A habeas corpus was sued and a release claimed, on the ground that the arrest was illegal. Judge Ellsworth ordered Hill to be discharged on the ground that fraud was employed in his arrest, and intimated that Hill could recover heavy damages for false imprisonment.

THE NEW YORK QUARANTINE.—Albany, Sept. 24.—The Commissioners for the removal of Quarantine propose to construct a series of basins in the lower bay of New York, in which floating hospitals can lie at anchor as still as in the Liverpool docks. The report was laid before the Governor and State officers to-day, with an argument by Mr. Bourne, one of the Commissioners, in its favor. Governor King and the State officers signified an intention of examining the proposed site and plans of the floating hospital on Wednesday next, and to decide at once on the propositions.

Democratic Mass Meeting in Charlestown, Mass.

The Democracy of Charlestown and vicinity had a very large and enthusiastic gathering in Charlestown Square last Monday evening. The number present is set down by the Post at 10,000, and by the Republican papers at from 6 to 8,000. Fireworks, flags and decorations were exhibited in great profusion, and the famous Brigade Band enlivened the masses with its music. Speeches were delivered by Edward Kidder, Esq., President of the meeting, Hon. E. D. Beach, Democratic candidate for Governor, Dr. Loring of Salem, Hon. James Gardner of Georgia, Dr. T. S. Lambert of N. Y., Geo. W. Warren, Esq., a new recruit to the Democratic ranks, and Dr. Alfred Hall of Roxbury.—The speeches were all very good, that of Mr. Beach we give in another column, as reported in the Post.

During the proceedings, a long string of ridiculous resolutions were read by a Capt. Pierce of Charlestown. A few of them are quite clever, but there are others which are inimical to the Democracy of the country. They were introduced and read, but what became of them, whether they were voted down or up, or used to light the cigars of the crowd, nothing in any of the reports indicates. If such trash as these resolutions constitute the platform of the Democracy in Massachusetts, and it don't get mightily thrashed, it will not be because it does not deserve it. Such treasonical and proscriptive doctrine will drive thousands of the young Democracy in despair from the standard they would gladly follow, and keep the party as "conveniently small" as its worst enemies, or its most pap-fattened leaders can desire.

But we trust the sentiments of all of these resolutions will not be repeated again in a public political meeting, or if they are, we hope among the speakers may be found, at least, one Democrat who will have the courage, the honesty, and devotion to Democratic faith, to denounce the hand hatched to tempt to spit upon and trample in the dust, the platform and principles every Democrat is bound to support. It is, perhaps, lucky for the introducer of the resolutions in question, that they were not divided and put to vote, so that the honest Democracy might thunder an indignant no to the infamous project of establishing the doctrine of popular sovereignty, because forsooth, Horace Greeley, Henry Winter Davis, or others of our opponents chose at times a disposition to acknowledge its sublime and simple truth; and we would like to have heard their response to the still more odious and abominable doctrine, that the people in the territories must be forced to enact laws, during their territorial condition, for the special encouragement, support and protection of the "peculiar institution," however obnoxious it may be to their interests and desires! When that infamous proposition gets to be a test of Democracy, and hoys the broad seal of Administrative endorsement, a separation of men and things will be inevitable, a separation which in its result, may even endanger the peace and quietness of the wooden images that occupy the high places of honor and profit in the old Commonwealth. But there is little danger of such a consummation. The great heart of Democracy beats right, its pulsations are strong, firm and equal, and the daunt hands which would rent or pollute its proud banner, will be stricken down and palsied by the irresistible will of the people.

Letters were received from Hon. Daniel E. Sickles and other gentlemen who were unable to be present. The meeting adjourned at a late hour, and listing some of the resolutions, was a most glorious demonstration.

NOT SATISFIED.—The New York News and a portion of the Democratic press of New York, are dreadfully dissatisfied with the action of the recent State Democratic Convention in admitting the Tammany Hall delegates, and seating the Wood men. The News says "the State Convention was controlled in the interests and for the benefit of Stephen A. Douglas and his fellow conspirators."—Not nevertheless, it will support the nominations, and labor for the overthrow of black republicanism, even it must train under the leadership of men who do not sweat by the Washington Union—That's sensible.

UNION AND VICTORY.—It is so plainly the duty of every member of the Democratic party to pursue the course marked out in the following sensible article from the Wayneburg Messenger, that it will be difficult to find a Democrat willing to advocate any other policy. It is essential not only to the present success of the Democratic party, but to its very existence, to forget the unfortunate differences which have lately existed. Every sentiment of the article following meets with a hearty endorsement from us:

"THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.—The Democratic party of the present day has a great duty to perform, one that must tell upon the future peace and prosperity of our great country. It is a high and imperative duty, and the Democratic party to secure and perpetuate the ever again and harmony—because it is alone through this means that the Union and the Constitution of our common country can be preserved, and all their inestimable advantages and blessings transmitted to those who come after us. We do not believe our Union which is the wonder and admiration of the world, could survive a single year were it not for the influence, the guidance and the principle of the National Democracy. Take away—say—remove entirely their conciliatory and harmonizing influences, and give loose reign to the dead spirit of sectional fanaticism for a single year, and our proud confederacy would be at an end forever. Is this true? Is there a single intelligent Democrat in the country that does not believe it? Or at least, is there one that would not greatly fear to risk the experiment? What then, under such circumstances, under such a fearful weight of responsibility—is the duty of the Democratic party? Wait—wait—wait to unite? It is to harmonize! It is to forget and forgive all past differences upon such questions of judgement and expediency, and to rally to the maintenance of those great fundamental principles, those ancient landmarks of the party, which have been so long and so successfully maintained and carried into practice by the National Democracy.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the crowning glory and pride of all our race. Reader, although the sun shines every so brightly in the glowing chest, there are ever so sparkling, the teeth be whose pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering—the Hair. Yes, Reader, if you are bald, or are so, or were afflicted spotted with gray, there will lose many a charm. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the editor of Poesia, Thalia:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligations I feel under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, about two months ago, my hair commenced to turn gray, and was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon recovered its original color, and has ever since remained in a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. DEVERAUX,
Editor of Poesia Thalia.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15, 1857.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and used it in my wife, who could not, from her hair, use the whole at the time, that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few days trial it has performed that wonderful effect by restoring the gray hair to its original brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above preparation to all persons who desire and need a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARPER.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

DEAR DR. WOOD—Although years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray I was now beginning to be quite bald, and was reluctantly compelled to use a wig. I commenced using your Hair Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly, it has not fallen since, and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, thickness, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to my friends.

Yours, D. BOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, three medium, and small; the small holds 1 pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 1½ pints, and retails for $1.50; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $2.

THE NEW ISSUE.

The slave power can never be satisfied with anything. Every new vantage ground only opens the way to new demands. Formerly slavery claimed to be a State institution, and merely asked to be let alone.—Next it was a Constitutional institution and went wherever the Constitution went. The claim after being resisted for years, was, at length adjudged to be law, and all the territories were adjudged to be slave territories. This, it was thought, might satisfy the horse-leech of tyranny. But no. The Southern papers and politicians now came up and demanded positive Congressional legislation to project slavery in the territories against the people. The Richmond Enquirer, since the rejection of the English Lecompton fraud by the people of Kansas, broaches the following:

"It is not sufficient that the decision of the Supreme Court prevents Congress and all its delegates from the prohibition of slavery in a territory. There must be positive legislative enactment; a civil and criminal code for the protection of slave property in the Territories ought to be provided."

To this demand of the organ of the Virginia slave Democracy' backed by the Charleston S. C. News, the New York Day Book, an organ of the Northern wing of the party, responds as follows:

"While the people are a territory, if they fail to protect property invested in the person or industrial capacity of the negro, they grossly violate equal rights, and therefore are not authorized to consider themselves as Democrats. The whole question is resolved into this simple right or no right to protection to slave property in the Federal Territories; and as the Charleston News suggests, it must constitute the issue in 1860."

This doctrine we have no doubt, will be incorporated into the "National Democratic" platform in 1860, and be made out of the battle-cries of the next Presidential campaign. The National Convention of that party is to be held at Charleston, South Carolina, which is a sufficient guaranty that not only its candidates, but its doctrines will be all that the most ultra slave holder can desire. Let those Democrats who now talk of "popular sovereignty" prepare for the next scene in the drama of "progressive democracy."—Independent Democrat.

AFFINITIES.—The Newburyport Herald says:—

Mrs. Cora L. V. Hatch, the distinguished trance speaker, has separated from her husband on account of domestic difficulties. Mrs. Hatch is the fourth wife of her husband, who at forty is about twice her age. They have discovered that they have no spiritual affinities that should bind them together. People this way who are acquainted with the parties sympathize with the lady. He is an overgrown body with a little soul, that may be big enough to entertain angels in, but has little space for human affections. He seems to have worked his wife at trance speaking, like a slave, and quietly to have pocketed the nine-pence a head for the spectators, demanding of the ticket seller at the ball door to account for even the half cents. It was the impression hereabouts, that a woman with such a husband must see her happiest moments when entranced and dead to the facts of her human surroundings and human connections.

YALE COLLEGE.—The College term commences to-day, the first recitation being this noon. We learn that about 130 applicants have been admitted to the Freshman Class. The number applying this year was unusually large, of whom a much larger proportion than usual were rejected, the Faculty being obliged from year to year, to raise the standard of preparation required for admission. If all were admitted now who possessed the preparation required five years ago, the classes would be larger than the College could accommodate.—N. H. Palladium, 15th.

LADIES GETTING THEIR HAIR CROPPED.—The Milwaukie Wisconsin of the 18th inst., says: "To give some idea as to how the croppy style of hair cutting is spreading amongst the ladies in the city, one of our barbers says he has cropped three hundred and thirty ladies within the past three months. There seems to be a perfect rage on the subject with our young ladies."

☞ A decided improvement to Vaughan street, is the large and brilliant light put up on the back office of Dennett & Sides—as will be more fully appreciated in the long dark evenings coming.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to obtain Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
E. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1858.

☞ Elder Hezekiah D. Buzzell, of the Christian connexion, died at Alton, Sept. 6, aged 81. He has been in former years a member of the Senate, in this State, and quite a politician. Elder Boodey, who sketches his character, says:

"Bro. Buzzell was a firm democrat of the old Jefferson school."

Rev. Messrs. Buzzell, Boodey, Brodhead, Smith, Morrill, Ballou, and Plummer, were all active politicians, forty-five years ago, to our knowledge, in New Hampshire, and all Republicans of that day. How false then the great howl of Douglas over the protest of the 3000 clergy, and how silly the yelping of that pack of puppies, who echoed his cry at that time, and who bark at intervals when any minister dares to raise his voice against corruption and wickedness in high places or low.

Hon. Thomas Cogswell, of Gilmanton, in a letter to the Democrats of Councillor Distict No. 2, declines being a candidate for re-election.—N. H. Statesman.

No, no, Mr. Statesman; not a candidate for re-election, but for a re-defeat.—He did not come within 500 votes of Mr. Whiton, who was chosen last year; he was defeated the year before, and does not wish to go over the ground again.

☞ The reader may be already aware, that Mr. Thurston has been lost out of a balloon belonging to Mr. Bannister, near Baptiste Creek. In 1855, Timothy Winchester made an ascent from Norfolk, Ohio, in August of that year, starting in good spirits, amid the cheers of a large concourse of people; since which time he has not been heard from! When last seen, he was near and going in the direction of Lake Erie. No tidings have ever been received of him or his balloon. This balloon, too, belonged to Mr. Banister.

Baltimore.—Less than a week ago a citizen of Baltimore was murdered by a mob led on by a policeman. Now we have a report of the murder of a policeman by a mob. The affair occurred late on Wednesday night last, when several officers had in custody one of a gang of rowdies who had been disturbing a household, and were set upon by his friends. One of the policemen, named Benjamin Benton, was shot dead. It was believed, but not known certainly, that Henry Gamble was the man who fired the fatal shot; at any rate he has been arrested.

More Slavers to be Caught.—From a letter received in Norfolk, the Day Book learns that the U. S. Steamer Dispatch is ordered by the Navy Department from her present place of rendezvous, Pensacola, to cruise on the north side of Cuba, for the purpose of intercepting two more slavers, daily expected to land their cargoes on that island. This action was the result of information gathered from some of the officers connected with the late capture of the brig Putnam by the Dolphin.

A Mayor thinks Fifty Dollars a year small Pay.—Mayor Fish, of Waterbury, Conn., thought $50 a year not a remarkable salary to support a family on, and wanted it raised. The Common Council raised it to $100, but the Mayor thought that sum no improvement, so the Common Council reduced it to the original $50, whereupon the Mayor resigns, and has called the good people to meet on the 4th of October, accept his resignation, and elect a $50 mayor in his place.

☞ A young woman, 16 years of age, named Esther M. House, committed suicide in Hooksett, N. H., on Saturday, by swallowing arsenic. She was carried off a short time since by Nathaniel Whittier, who is now in Amherst jail. She worked in one of the Manchester Mills, and was carried to a house of ill-fame by Whittier and another person, under false pretences, drugged and abused. Grief, shame and terror, drove her to suicide. The affair startles the community in Manchester and vicinity, as well it may. It is to be hoped it may now lead the good people there, to break up the drinking and gambling dens, in which rascals find shelter and companions to aid them in their evil deeds.

☞ Gen. William Walker went out Monday in the Star of the West, accompanied by Colonel Von Natzmer, a distinguished fillibuster. They are bound to Nicaragua, but will remain at Panama for the present, to mature their plans for another foray on that country.

☞ See advertisement of "Life among the Doctors."

☞ The Boston papers mention a brilliant and pleasing affair which took place at the Sagamore House, Lynn, one evening last week. On the occasion of the closing dance of the season at the Sagamore House, when about sixty couples "tripped it," to the excellent music of Gilmore's Salem Band.

The festivities of the evening were greatly enchanced by a surprise presentation of a splendid service of silver plate to the senior proprietor and his estimable lady, by stockholders of the hotel and other friends. The presentation speech in behalf of the donors was made by G. H. Chase, Esq., was impressively rendered. Hon. D. C. Baker responded for Mr. Rand and lady in a very happy and felicitious manner.

The plate was was manufactured by Messrs. Jones, Shreve, Brown & Co., at a cost of $300, and bears the following inscription.

"These testimonials, presented by stockholders of the Sagamore Hotel Co. and friends to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rand, as a token of personal esteem and friendship and satisfactory discharge of duties as Host and Hostess. Lynn, Mass., Sept. 22, 1858."

Bad Time Keepers.—The Northampton Courier says that on Sunday morning, one of the most regular church-going men in Southampton, rose early, ate his breakfast, took his corn knife and went to his corn field and commenced slashing away. After working vigorously for two hours, he was informed by a neighbor that it was the Sabbath day. He would not believe it at first, declaring it was Saturday, but he was soon convinced, when he dropped his knife and went home, got ready for church, and when meeting commenced was in his seat, as devout a worshipper as any of those around him. His wife as much supposed it was Saturday as he did.

☞ In the Boston Union Street abortion case, on Friday, in the Municipal Court, David R. Brown, Sarah E. Stokes and Lydia Emerson, were placed at the bar, and informed by the Clerk that the Grand Jury had indicted Brown for the willful murder of Sarah A. Webster, by abortion, on the 16th day of August last, and that Stokes and Emerson were indicted as accessories.

Died from Shouting.—At a meeting which was held by the colored people, at a meeting house called Little Wesley, three miles from Lewes, Del., on Saturday last, a negro woman, from fatigue and excess of shouting, fell dead during the exercises.

☞ A Quaker wedding is rather a unique affair, the bride and bridegroom going through the marriage formula themselves, without the aid of any person bearing the broad seal of the State. The Elders of the Church witness the ceremony, and subscribe to it, as do all present who choose to do so, when the proceedings are entered on the church records.

☞ Shun a man who doesn't pay his compliments to the ladies. He who is wanting in honor towards curls, will invariably attempt to dodge the grocer, tailor, and butcher. Faithlessness to the dimity institution, is a sure sign of a want of principle, piety, and a good bringing up.

☞ The Freshmen of Dartmouth have had the good sense and moral courage to decline the challenge of the Sophomores to the annual game of football. These contests, in which bruised shins, black eyes and bloody noses are the order of the day, are far from creditable.

☞ "Hungarian March," a Gallop arranged for the piano by Carl Zerrahn; and "Bright Dreams of the Past," brilliant variations on "Ever of Thee," by Charles Grobe—are two fine pieces just received at the Music Establishment of Charles C. Harvey.

☞ A wealthy Mississippi planter named Griffin, arrived at Cincinnati last week, with a slave mother and three children, to whom he was much attached, and set them free. While there he was taken sick and died. The poor slave mistress was the only friend near to close his eyes in death. The deceased was possessed of much property.

☞ At South Berwick, 18th inst., Elizabeth Hodgdon, 18 years of age, highly respectable, committed suicide by drowning in the Salmon Falls river.

STEAMSHIP AUSTRIA BURNT.

By a Halifax dispatch of Sept. 27th, the news is confirmed that the steamer Austria is burnt, at sea; and 533 persons perished.

Twelve of her passengers have arrived at Halifax. Only SIXTY-SEVEN lives, out of SIX HUNDRED on board, are saved.

Most of the six hundred passengers were probably German emigrants.

We see but one New England name on the list of passengers, viz. Samuel R. Massury, Salem, Mass.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Halifax, Sept. 27.—Steamship Prince Albert, from Galway at midnight on the 14th inst., arrived off Halifax harbor at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, and reached her dock at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.—She encountered heavy gales the first few days out. On the 17th she broke two flanges of her screw, and proceeded under canvass the remainder of the voyage. On the 22d she met a terrific hurricane, but sustained no damage except loss of sails and a life boat.

Great Britain.—The shipment of the shore end of the Atlantic cable was in progress on board the steamer Bilboa at Plymouth. It was not expected to be all on board before the night of the 16th, when the Bilboa would proceed to the Thames. Shares in the stock were steadily maintained at about £500.

Cotton advanced 1 farthing; breadstuffs unchanged.

Turkey.—Letters from Constantinople state that a conspiracy was existing there to get rid of the present Sultan and replace him by his brother, Abdul Aziz. It is further stated that the conspiracy has gone so far that a majority of the Foreign Ambassadors at Constantinople had thought proper to inform certain leading persons in the plot, that if Abdul Aziz came to the throne by violent means he would not be recognized by the European powers.

☞ The mighty Suffolk Bank of Boston, is jealous of the new Bank of Mutual Redemption, and tries to break all the country banks which have changed their deposits to the Mutual. A messenger from the Suffolk presented $46,000 of the bills of the Wamesit at its counter, in Lowell, last week, which were promptly cashed; and $16,000 of the Appleton were similarly received. At Milford, N. H., the Souhegan paid $10,000, and then refused to receive the other $13,000, save one bill at a time,—and the messenger had to leave for Boston before he had a quarter of it; leving the cars, and employing horse-flesh to meet another railroad, to get to Boston that night, as it was. Mr. Suffolk, you can't come it.

Sullivan County Court.—On the criminal docket the following cases were disposed of. Henry Willard was put upon trial for burning the barns of Calvin Smith, in Langdon, together with fourteen head of cattle, two horses, hay, grain and farming tools. Verdict, guilty. Sentence:—solitary confinement ten days, and hard labor in the State Prison ten years.

Eben Dinsmore, of Charlestown, was tried on two indictments for selling liquor, on one of which the jury could not agree, and in the other a verdict of guilty was returned, to which exceptions were taken; the two cases were afterwards settled by the payment of the fine in one case, and the costs in the other.

Nancy Connel of Claremont was tried and found guilty on two indictments for selling liquor contrary to law. Exceptions were taken, and the case goes up.

William P. Weld, of Cornish, was found guilty on two indictments for the same offence.

D. F. Maynard, of Claremont, was tried on an indictment for keeping liquor with intent to sell the same. The jury could not agree. So says the Claremont Eagle.

☞ A burglar broke into a house in New Haven, at three o'clock on the morning of Tuesday. A lady who was sleeping in a front chamber, was suddenly awakened by a hand touching her face, and on reaching out, placed her hand on the shoulder of an individual who was apparently groping about in search of plunder. She at once alarmed her husband, who was sleeping in an adjoining apartment, by her cries, and who came upon the burglar in the hall, as he was making off. They immediately "closed in," and a pretty active scrimmage was the result. The burglar was a large and powerful man, and it was with difficulty that, after getting him down, the husband could hold him until assistance could be called in by his wife; but he was finally secure.

☞ The failure of White, Smith & Co., of Northampton, Mass., manufacturers of enamelled cloth, was brought about by the embezzlements of their selling agent in New York, Mr. David S. Damon, whose depredations upon the company are estimated at $30,000 to $75,000. Mr. Damon is in jail at Northampton under a charge of debt.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

RAISING OF BLOOD.

This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from impoverishment of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is an excellent remedy for all such conditions, as it equalizes the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, and, by its tonic and alterative powers, arrests the disease in the lungs when not beyond the reach of medicine.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

The Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it pen trates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? Sold everywhere.

"TIGHTNESS OF THE CHEST,"

Commonly so called, is instantly relieved by bathing the chest with R. R. Relief.

BAD COLDS,

As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat, or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will entail more serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Hadway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold; and the continued use of the R. R. Resolvent will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It acts powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the plegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given entire relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound A. Rye Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it the choicest and most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GALLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from the distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and confectionery purchasers. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None Genuine Imported.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 71 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Dale & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also mail the Pills to the ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

NUISANCES.

Dear Messrs. Editors,—Will you permit me through the medium of your columns, to call attention to a subject which has been frequently alluded to before, but as yet without any obvious effect. I refer to that most grievous nuisance, the slaughter-houses that stand upon South and Auburn streets, and which certainly are annoyances of the worst description, since they not only ruin our pleasant walks out of town, but even make the route to our beautiful Cemetery positively disagreeable.

It is said that the city of Cologne is celebrated for its seventy and one bad odors, and though perhaps we may not emulate that ancient place in the number of its perfumes, we most truly can in the concentrated strength and power of those we have. If it be possible that the law protects these houses, could there not be a City Ordinance that might authorize their removal, or at least enforce the use of more of that excellent virtue cleanliness, and so somewhat alleviate the difficulty?

In large cities where these places must of necessity be within the limits, there is doubtless some way of preventing such a trouble; and I ask modestly, are we too far behind the times, or too indifferent to improvement, to discover what the remedy may be.

A LADY.

LECTURES.—Messrs. Editors:— Are we to have no lectures in this city this winter? Has the Lyceum dried up? Has the Mechanic Association stopped to rest? And the Mercantile Library suspended its operations in this field?

So it seems;—and as an old man, I can stay at home and enjoy my evenings as well as any where, and better than any where else as a general thing.

But young people wish to go out, and will go somewhere. Now, where shall they go? Cannot some course of lectures, pleasant, improving, useful, be got up, in the Temple, or Chapels, or Churches, with suitable music, and at a small expense, which might afford an agreeable assemblage of people once a week, for three months from the middle of October or the first of November.

Lectures are not about to be in such demand this winter, as they were three years ago;—so that we might get some from abroad, for a moderate sum,—and we have men at home who could fill up the course. Cannot something be done? SENEN.

☞ The Ferry Boat at Dover Point will commence running on Tuesday next, and continue running through the week, to accommodate attendants on the State Fair. We are also informed that the steamboat which usually plies between Saco and the "Pool" will convey passengers between this city and Dover, during the continuance of the Fair.

☞ Concerning our late County Fair, the Manchester American says:

"No county of our State has so well conducted Fairs as Rockingham. * * The address, by Prof. Joseph G. Hoyt, was a production which ought to be read by every farmer and mechanic in the State. We are glad to learn that it was given at the Hillsborough County Fair on Thursday."

☞ A new Post Office has been established at Kittery Depot, Me.; and Joseph Langton, Esq., appointed Postmaster.

There are now three post offices in Kittery—Kittery, (Foreside,) Kittery Point, and Kittery Depot.

☞ Mr. Carter having resigned his situation as Assistant in the Boys' High School, on account of ill health, Mr. B. F. Moses has been appointed to fill the vacancy thus occasioned.

☞ Mr. Fassett, who kept the half-way house on Monadnock Mountain, came down from his rendezvous one day last week, and retired for the night in his usual good health; the next morning he was found dead in his bed. It is supposed he died in a fit.

☞ The Wolfboro' Pioneer has been removed to Rochester, and now appears as the Rochester Review, published by D. Warren Furber, who says in his address, "the Review will be a Family Newspaper neutral in politics."

☞ Three large barns, containing one hundred tons of hay, and a large supply of grain, owned by Mr. Simeon Skinner, in Irasburg, Vt., were struck by lightning and entirely consumed on Tuesday last.

☞ From 1810 to 1850, the white population of Maryland has increased over 71 per cent., while the slave population has decreased over 20 per cent.

☞ The health accounts from New Orleans are very gloomy.

To kill bed-bugs, take corrosive sublimate and rub it over your bedstead. Then burn your bedstead and bed clothing, and move into another house.

Just before you go to bed, eat two pig's feet and a fried pie. In less than an hour you will see a snake, larger than a hawser, devouring light-blue-haired children, who have just escaped from a monster with sorrel eyes and a red-hot overcoat.

The mind has more room in it than most people think, if they would furnish the apartments.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

SAWYER'S TRANSLATION OF THE BIBLE.—Messrs. J. P. Jewett & Co. of Boston, have issued proposals for a new Translation by Rev. L. A. Sawyer, who has the strongest testimonials from distinguished clergymen of all denominations. One of the principles to be adopted is, to avoid all needless indelicacy in the translations. This principle is certainly a very important one for the present translation contains many passages which are not suitable to be read in any family or in any pulpit. But some ministers, seeming to think that if their mode of expression is only as chaste as that which translators have attributed to the apostles and prophets of old, they were warranted to make the most indecent allusions, and rather shame a whole audience than suppress a corrupt current of thought which comes across their minds. Perhaps there is not so much of this at the present day as in former times. We trust when this new translation is issued, that the language of the pulpit will be as chaste as that expected to be read in the family circle.

THRIVING.—It will be seen by a paragraph in another column, from the Ballot, that the house of Mr. N. T. Moulton was entered one day last week. There is but little doubt who the three boys are, and the eyes of the police are upon them.

The parents of the boys who entered the house of Mr. Hiram Spinney in Eliot recently, have restored the money in full. The boys' names will be made public as connected with this offence, should they be found guilty of any further of the kind.

On Monday afternoon last, a stranger knocked at the door of E. F. Sise, Esq. at Haymarket square, and said, "Mr. Sise wants his best coat." The house girl replied, "Mrs. S. is absent, and I don't know anything about it. Mr. S. must come himself if he wants it." It was in vain that the fellow told of Mr. S.'s immediate want, and retired quite disappointed at the wise refusal. The fellow wore a white hat and thin coat.

These cases should put housekeepers on guard against the numerous rogues who are now infesting our city.

THE EFFECT OF EMANCIPATION IN THE BRITISH WEST INDIES.—Francis Hinks, Governor of the Windward Islands, has written from Barbadoes a very full reply to certain inquiries of Charles Tappan, Esq. now resident in this city, respecting the influence of emancipation on the condition of the British West Indies, and especially of their colored inhabitants. He affirms that this influence has been decidedly favorable, and gives facts and figures in support of his conclusions. He says sugar can be and is made now in these islands cheaper than it was or ever could be under slavery, one evidence of which is the fact that cane growing plantations now command higher prices than ever before. He instances one of 500 acres, which was worth during slavery $200 per acre, or $60,000 in all, but which has been sold since emancipation for just double that price, or $400 per acre,—and could readily be resold for that sum. (Good cane lands sell even as high as $600 per acre.) This estate required a force of 230 slaves(big and little) to work it, and then produced 140 hogsheads of sugar (1700 lbs. each) per annum. It is now worked by 90 free blacks, 30 of them under 16 years of age, and has averaged for the last seven years 194 hogshead of sugar per annum. The cost of labor under slavery on this estate, was $40 per hogshead produced; under freedom it is $16 per hogshead. Of course, this is a favorable example for freedom; but every estate might do as well if as well managed. And the fact that the arable land of the island commands from $400 to $600 per acre, proves that agriculture is decidedly prosperous.

Of course, there are still great social evils prevailing in these islands. The land is nearly all owned in large tracts, much of it by non-residents. Wages are very low—20 to 30 cents per day; but the day's work is fixed, and can be completed by a good hand at noon.

"FOUND DEAD."—This poetic effusion of ALBERT LAIGHTON, notwithstanding its title, has in it truly the ingredients of immortality, if we may judge from the extent and frequency of its publication. For three or four years it has been travelling in every State of the Union, copied into almost every paper, and in some more than once. We see in our exchanges of this week that "Found Dead" is still alive—we are also pleased to find that the talented author is also, and that he has associated himself with Messrs. Allen & Paine in Market street, where his old customers are assured that among the dry goods he will be "Found Alive."

AN AUTHENTIC HISTORY OF THE CABLE.—Messrs. D. Appleton & Co. of New York have just published a very full and cheap volume of 330 pages entitled "The Laying of the Telegraphic Cable; with all its Incidents and Anecdotes, impressive or diverting: as well as fresh and reliable biographical sketches of Messrs. Field and Everett, and Capt. Hudson. By John Mullaly, Official Historian of the memorable Expeditions. Abundantly illustrated with, portraits, maps, views, groups, and representations of the machinery employed. For sale by J. F. Shores, Jr. Price 50 c.

WHAT A FALL!—On Tuesday noon we were sweltering under a temperature of 84 degrees—on Thursday morning we were chilled by a temperature of 38,—a fall of forty-six degrees in thirty-six hours.

"RAMBLES ABOUT PORTSMOUTH."—All who wish for copies of this work, are requested to have their names entered on the subscription list at the Portsmouth Journal office, or at the book stores, that the edition may be proportioned to the want.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God designed you for and for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, to the world be wanting and unloved. Look and see, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently take care to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time I arrived in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue, and continues your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwyllyddyd."

Welsh Newspaper Office, No. 22 Ann-st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—About one month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning a few more gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARBOU.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most meritorious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIDD.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was much troubled with the dandruff, and used pomades to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications finished the dandruff, and I continue to fill my hair out and turned back to its original color. (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. BIRD.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have been commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same has been done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present in person. Schemes are now all sent, and tion to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the interest of Samuel Swan is now guaranteed by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order in which to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets can be sent unless money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70, as every ten are drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Louisville Courier, and New York Herald Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounding their lives to the insidious inroads of that most relentless of all diseases, and suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that he will send his Private Circular free of charge or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Twenty-five cents in stamps will accompany every package, and the most invisible secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than fourteen of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, could produce testimonials from all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be wholesaler in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless. These have got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivaled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—sided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to offer a most decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the throat, lungs, and bronchoes. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation in any line, for a cure of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjunct in the proper management of those cases of lung affection which will yet, I do not it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. As the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who enter the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c. will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned, BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, that I have prepared for Express Agent's use, CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain remedy for the the trouble incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful irregularities, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more effectual than any other remedy ever yet offered to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineralS, therefore active harmless in their operation, and unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore, to prevent imposition, I have put the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced in other hands

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1853.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1858.

LETTER FROM "VERITAS."

KENSINGTON, Sept. 18th.

Messrs. Editors:—We exclaimed on opening the last Chronicle, Well done, Uncle Toby. If we were to send all Kensington, you would put it into your little paper. What was intended for two letters made into three, and all in one week's issue! Well, there is nothing in the letters to hurt anybody, if they are not in homœpathic doses; and that 'dream' may do some good. How much the realization of it is needed.

The storm caused the fruit to drop from the trees, and beat down the corn here, as in the neighboring towns; but we have not learned that any serious damage has been done.

Cool mornings and evenings, and shorter days, tell us the summer is past, and Fall has come: but the weather is warm, the grass and trees are as green as in May, and if one could forget that winter is coming, it would be the most delightful season of the year. Winter, in our climate, generally brings so much suffering to the aged and infirm, to the little ones, and especially the poor; that one must be in a measure selfish or thoughtless, to contemplate it without feelings of sadness.

What a good, honest soul, that lady was, to* pay the conductor for three seats, instead of expanding her crinoline, and thinking herself of more consequence than a dozen men, as some of the dear creatures do. I should think church property would go up. Where six could sit comfortably, not more than three can now, or four at the most. Is it not interesting to see the sweet creatures wriggle themselves up to the head of the pews when they have to pass others? I should think those of the "straitest sect" would have them indicted for dancing in church, for it is more like dancing than walking. By the way, what a similarity of form and gait the ladies all have! Once, you could tell a lady by her form or carriage; but now they all walk with a sort of sideling gait, as if half of them advanced a little, and then the other half, as people move a heavy barrel, or as our grandmother used to her churn when it was full of cream.—And as to their forms, no one can tell nastron from maid, for all look pretty much like Irish women, just ready for a lying-in hospital. Well, if the dear creatures enjoy it, they have a right to; only it looks a little queer to old-fashioned folks, at least.

It seems Mr. Kallock has really commenced preaching again. There is but little talent in Boston, it is true, to what there was when Channing, Beecher, Jenks, Winser and Ware filled pulpits there.—Still, I should not think he would be settled over a Church claiming to be Christian. The people wished to be amused and the trustees want the Temple to pay its way, and so it will be done, probably.

What a perfect Bishop they have got in New Jersey; one would almost go on a pilgrimage to see him, if such things had not gone out of fashion. I would recommend him to read the answer of Jesus, when John told him that they had forbidden one whom they saw "casting out devils in his name, because he followed not with them." If the life and teachings of Jesus were more studied, and creeds and councils less, we should see more of the spirit and practice of Christianity.

If Burleigh is to be believed, they are to have a pattern minister in Rochester, N. Y. Is he the Mr. Towne that was once settled in Portsmouth? [Yes.]

Glorious old John Milton thought that the minister should "serve the church gratuitously, and live by the labor of his own hands, if possible." What would he think of "three thousand a year," and marriage fees, with a vacation of one or two months? Well, every body knows John Milton was blind; and if he did write "Paradise Lost," it is not likely it is half as interesting, certainly not as intelligible to the majority, as the sermons of fashionable ministers now are.

I thought when I read about that "wall," I knew its history, but I presume it to be more modern. The history of one is, that two rich men, neighbors, agreed to keep their front fences on a line, but one of the parties setting his out into the street farther than agreed upon, the other party built a high brick wall, at a cost of three thousand dollars, to cut off the fine of his neighbor. Benevolent, was it not? It may be standing now; and for aught I know, is. The one spoken of by your correspondent must be an invention of some essence pedler, slop-shop merchant or rum-seller, who has made a fortune by his calling, been to Europe, changed his name, and built a Chateau, I should think. I guess we must take a trip to Boston on purpose to see it.

I should not want to take such people as specimens of human nature, though; neither do I believe they are. If ministers thought less of caste and more of human nature, their people would; and it would soon show a brighter side, I'm thinking. It is the Juggernaut of America, with all her democratic cant; and as much a hindrance to the spread of pure Christianity as it is in Burmah.

VERITAS.

☞ Lecompton Congressional nominees in Ohio, Pennsylvania and elsewhere, pretend to be willing to vote to admit Kansas as soon as she presents a Constitution, whatever her population. But who will trust them; they have proved false once, they would prove false again. It will only be safe, as the Philadelphia Press suggests, to "judge them by their record."—They voted for the English bill, which exacts a population of 93,000, if a free Constitution is presented; and the people will hold them to that record.

☞ Ex-Mayor Wood, of New York, imagined himself, a few years ago, a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency; now he is kicked out of the New York democratic convention, and retires with his dozen followers, amid a storm of hisses. He went to the Syracuse convention of his party last week, a hard, representing Daniel S. Dickinson, but found no favor, and was allowed no place as a delegate. How are the mighty fallen.!

FALL ELECTIONS.—Oct. 4th.—Iowa, for State officers and Congressmen. 11th.—South Carolina and Florida; in the former for members of the legislature, in the latter for Congressmen. 12th.—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana; in the two former for State officers and Congressmen. Nov. 2.—Massachusetts, New York, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Delaware; in the first four for State officers and Congressmen, in the last three for Congressmen.

FALLING OFF IN EMIGRATION.—The arrivals at New York in 1858, up to Sept. 22, were 60,165. In the corresponding period of 1857, they were 138,965. The dull times on this side of the ocean, and the improved condition of Ireland and some parts of the continent, partly account for this. Then the emigration to Australia has rapidly increased, and there has been a great demand for men in India and China.

☞ A Minnesota farmer, writing to a friend in Boston, says:—"We still suffer much from the hard times which came upon us last fall, though their gripe is beginning to relax a little. For myself, I have not received ten dollars in return for all the labor, produce and materials which I have been able to barter off within the last nine months. We can exchange corn for labor, and labor for corn; but it is impossible to raise money with which to pay our debts."

☞ One evening, it is said, after a weary march through the desert, Mahomet was camping with his followers, and overheard one of them saying, "I will loose my camel and commit it to God," on which Mahomet told him: "Friend, tie thy camel, and commit it to God;" that is, to do whatever is thine, and leave the issue to God.

OPTICAL PHENOMENON.—It will be recollected that an assertion made by young Wise, the aeronaut, that on one of his ascensions from Boston, he could see the bottoms of rivers, and discern the fishes sporting in the water, was received with much incredulity. The same fact, however, has been noted by other aeronauts.—Mr. H. M. Spencer, who recently ascended from Pittsfield, Mass., in his account of the excursion, remarks as a curious fact, that while passing over the lakes, the lilies and other water plants were distinctly visible, even to their stems, in the water, when objects very much larger on land could not be distinguished.

At Gardiner, Me., on Monday, a Mr. Richardson, while driving his oxen, carelessly stepped before them, was knocked down, and one of the oxen trod upon his head, just behind his ear, inflicting an injury from which he died on Tuesday morning.

A Republican editor, with no special fitness of language, calls the U. S. Treasury "an Augean stable." If it is an Augean stable, Mr. Buchanan must be a Hercules, for he has cleaned it out.

A NOVEL LUXURY.—The latest novelty from Germany is a musical bed, which receives the weary body, and immediately "laps it into Elysium." It it the invention of a mechanic in Bohemia, and is so constructed, that by means of a hidden mechanism, a pressure upon the bed causes a soft and gentle air of Auber to be played, which continues long enough to lull the most wakeful to sleep. At the head is a clock, the hand of which being placed at the hour the sleeper wishes to rise, when the time arrives, the bed plays a march of Spontoni, with drums and cymbals, and, in short, with noise enough to arouse the seven sleepers.

FRIGHTFUL SCENE AT A FAIR.—At the Ohio State Fair, in Sandusky, last week, a trial of speed occurred between four horses, in the presence of several thousand persons. Accidentally, two of the vehicles to which the horses were attached came in contact, and one of the horses dashed away from the restraint of his driver, and rushed with fearful speed into a crowd of people near the judges' stand, and in his course knocked down and trampled upon several persons. An old gentleman named Wallack, and a young girl about seven years of age, were injured so that they died in a few hours.

DR. LEES.—At a public meeting called by his friends in Liverpool, Dr. Lees reiterated his charges against Mr. Gough.—He said that a proposition had been made to the friends of Mr. Gough; that he (Dr. Lees) was willing to go into court on the morrow, if it was agreed to take the simple plea of drunk or not drunk. The meeting was divided in sentiment, and the proceedings were quite stormy.

FIRE IN EXETER.—On Wednesday evening of last week, a barn attached to the house owned by Benjamin Ellison, and occupied by Mr. Thomas Wainwright, situated on Portsmouth Avenue, in Exeter, was discovered to be on fire at a quarter before nine o'clock. An alarm was given and the destruction was confined to the barn.

Mr. Wainwright and his wife were absent at the time the fire broke out, having left their two children, one eight and the other five years of age, in bed, and the house locked. The furniture of the house was all removed. The children were taken from their beds while asleep, and carried across the road before they awoke. It is not known how the fire originated. Mr. W. does not smoke, and is ignorant of any person having entered the barn.

☞ James Moore, who had been arrested at Pittsburg, for a robbery of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, jumped from the cars on Friday evening, while being conveyed to Philadelphia. He sprang out of a window, and was afterwards picked up almost insensible by the officer who had charge of him, and who returned to search for him. He subsequently revived, and probably will not repeat his foolhardy at tempt to escape.

RELIGIOUS HALLUCINATION AND SUICIDE.—Mrs. Albert Lyman, of Lebanon, Conn., committed suicide on Wednesday by cutting her throat with a razor. She was under religious excitement, and anxious lest she had not been really converted, as she had previously supposed, having been in June last baptised by a Methodist clergyman in that vicinity. She leaves a husband and children.

☞ In Boston, in response to an advertisement, a few days ago, giving notice of an examination for four female school teachers in one district, there were over one hundred applications, and over ninety young ladies appeared before the committee, and were examined. Of course eighty six of them were disappointed.

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—By an accident on the Augusta and Waynesboro, Ga., Railroad, a few days since, the engineer, Mr. L. M. Northey, of Manchester, N. H., and two firemen, Patrick Flury and James Coggins, were instantly killed, and James Farrah, a track shifter, mortally wounded. The accident was caused by heavy rains, which had undermined the track.

IDEAS OF NONSENSE.—The Boston Traveller says:—"One of our exchanges mentions that Ticknor & Fields have in press a new book by Tom Brown, of Rugby, entitled, 'The Scouring of the White House.' It should be White Horse. The scouring of the White House will not take place until about 1861."

☞ Matteson, of the Utica, N. Y. District, has had the good sense as well as prudence to take himself out of the Congressional lists this year. Ex-Governor Reeder declines a proffered nomination for Congress in the Easton, Pa., district, by the united opposition.

RAISING OF BLOOD.

This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from impoverishment of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is an excellent remedy for all such conditions, as it equalizes the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, and, by its tonic and alterative powers, arrests the disease in the lungs when not beyond the reach of medicine.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches, Blue and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—It penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the person in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 2,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

"TIGHTNESS OF THE CHEST,"
Commonly so called, is instantly relieved by bathing the chest with R. R. Relief.
BAD COLDS.

As soon as you have a Cough, or Sore Throat, or experience any difficulty in breathing, check the symptoms immediately. If allowed to run on, they will cause serious difficulties upon you. A dose of Radway's Renovating Resolvent, followed with three or four Regulators, will immediately check and cure a recent cold; and the continued use of the R. R. R. Remedies will speedily cure the most obstinate Coughs. In many cases of confirmed Consumption, it has proved highly efficacious. It works powerfully upon the lungs, and is a most excellent expectorant. In five minutes it will loosen the phegm, and give relief to the distressed. In many cases of Asthma, where the patients were almost suffocated, it has in five minutes given entire relief. In all obstinate cases, each of the R. R. R. Remedies must be used. WM. R. Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound I. Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "most only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, and to our travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; E. BURNING OF THE AUSTRIA.

The Austria sailed from Hamburg on the 2d of September and touched at Southampton on the 4th. While preparing to depart from the later port a fatal accident occurred. Still the voyage was unattended by further misfortune until the afternoon of the 13th, when the Captain and Surgeon considered it expedient to fumigate the steerage with burning tar, which operation was to be performed by the Boatswain, under the superintendence of the fourth officer. The boatswain heated the end of a chain to dip in tar to produce smoke. The end became too hot to hold, and he let it drop upon the deck, to which it set fire. The tar also upset, and immediately all about was in flames. A feeble attempt was made to extinguish the fire, but it was without effect. There was nothing at hand to meet such an emergency.

Charles Brew, an English passenger, says, a little after 2 P. M. on the quarter deck, I saw a dense volume of smoke burst from the after entrance of the steearge, and just then some women ran aft, exclaiming—"The Ship is on fire—what will become of us?"

The ship was instantly put at half speed, at which she continued until the magazine exploded.

I only walked to the waist of the ship, when I saw flames breaking through the lights amidships. As the ship was head to the wind, the fire travelled aft with fearful rapidity.

At this time some person let down the boat from the port side of the quater deck; think she was crushed under the screw.

I went with some others to get the boat from the starboard side of the quarter deck. The moment we laid hands on the ropes, so many crowded into it we could not lift it off the blocks. I left it for a few moments until the people got out; then returned and put it over the side of the ship: they all rushed in again—it descended with violence into the water and was instantly swamped, and all the people were washed out but three, who held on. We let down a rope, and pulled up one, who proved to be the steward; another in the act of being hauled up was strangled by the rope. The fire came on too fiercely to attempt to get up the third person.

A missionary and wife leaped into the sea together, and the stewardess and the assistant steward, arm-in-arm, followed.

One Hungarian gentleman, with seven fine children, (four girls,) made his wife jump in, then blessed the six oldest children, made them jump in one after the other, and followed them with an infant in his own arms.

About this time I was standing outside the bulwarks, holding on by the davits, leaning out to avoid the flames, which were leaping towards me. I saw a swamped boat under me, spinning by a rope still attached to the ship. As the oars were tied in her, I thought that if I got to her I would be enabled to save myself and some others. I let myself down by the rope, passing over a man who was clinging to it, but who refused to come with me. I took out my penknife to cut the tackle, when the large blade broke; then severed it with the small blade. The ship passed ahead. As I approached the screw, I found the boat drawn towards it; I tried to keep the boat off, but the screw caught and capsized her over me. I dived away from the ship and came to the surface near the boat, which was keel uppermost. I got on her, and by pressing on one side, with the assistance of a wave, she righted, but was still full of water. The oars had been knocked out by the screw. The only thing I could find in her to paddle with, was some laths nailed together as sheathing for her sides. When I looked around, the ship was a quarter of a mile from me. I could see ladies and gentlemen jumping off the poop into the water, in twos and threes,—some ladies in flames. Several hesitated to leap from the burning ship until the last moment, as the height was 22 feet, and only at length when compelled to throw themselves off to avoid a more fearful death.

In half an hour not a soul was to be seen on the poop. I pulled after the ship—picked up a seaman who was swiming strongly and got him beside me on the boat and paddled after the ship with laths.

These two men, with about forty others, were picked up by the French bark Maurice.

Mr. Brew says: There were but six women saved, three of whom were burnt, one of them in a shocking manner.

I did not see an officer of the ship during the fire, and am certain there was not one of them or the crew on the poop, except the man at the wheel for a short time.

I understood that when the Captain heard of the fire, he rushed on deck without any cap, and when he saw the flames, exclaimed—"We are all lost!" He tried to get out a boat, which when let down, was swamped, and he, whether accidentally or not I do not know, fell into the sea, and was soon left far behind. The fourth officer was in this boat; he cut her loose from the davits. She was carried under the screw and smashed. Several in her were drowned, but three or four men escaped on a fragment of the boat and were picked up by the Maurice as before stated.

About the same time one metallic life boat was let down from the port bow and swamped, but got cleared away with about thirty-three persons in her, including the first and third officers and several women. The men in this boat capsized her two or three times, trying to clear her of water. Ten person were thus drowned, including some women. They afteward bailed her out with life preservers cut in two, and pulled to the Maurice, having picked up two or the passengers before reaching the bark.

Altogether there were sixty-seven souls taken into the Maurice during the night.

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens AND Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS PERFECT IN ITSELF, and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of DOUBLE THICKNESS, will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One, AND SAVE Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.

IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

COMBINING ALL THE GOOD QUALITIES —OF A— RANGE AND STOVE, —IT IS— WITHOUT A RIVAL, —AND— WILL RECOMMEND ITSELF AT FIRST SIGHT.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and diseases arising from the impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in the stomach, and consequently these Pills are found to cure thousands of diseases.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. K. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and efficacious in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dwight, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual in the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Shurtz J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me were just enough to send me here and all need in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary preparation, peculiarly adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they need to wait upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be efficient in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Good, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their influence is felt upon the liver mildly, thus an excellent remedy, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. R. Beard, who practises as a Physician and Sleight-of-hand Performer.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in expelling from the stomach and bowels, worms. They are much the best physic we have that I recommend to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaught, Montreal, Canada.

"Your PILLS cannot be too highly praised for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming in the ear of the world, that we have at last a cathartic pill, which, although it is not enough in itself, is the sine qua non of others that are worse. I believe universal as regards to the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and serve the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rankin Dale, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, when you said your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They eradicate from the system every of the impurities that stagnate in the blood, unpredisposed to disease, stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"So far as remedies go, you prepare now a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — POUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you sooner than to say that your PILLS better than to say all that are claimed, and with a party for whom I plead great deprivation in an afflicted condition, I have tried them, and have had reason to believe, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best of a bad class, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although it is a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. Those contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every year proves it to render better and more reliable service every year. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It stands at the head of all the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INFLUENZA CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American pioneer to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet, it contains GREATEST PROVEN is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained strength by its use, and conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

"Dryeh a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr. 19, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative, which I used in my family, and directed to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial, it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I cordially recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CZERNY.

NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: "With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have become grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KEIT.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling out and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of those dangerous quacks, who, if they suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, be would state that a few days or weeks, at most, would expose or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy prevail.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by letter by advertising quacks to cure, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Treatises by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of your health. That is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They act in a specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are worthless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

A lady who is in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia and have seven commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being well protected if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the interior of Samuel Swan's Office is guarded by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand, according to the scheme one ticket in every ten being a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets are sent out unless money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that one can fill to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Dye your Hair and Whiskers.

BY using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her gray hair.

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My experience for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, has rendered me familiar with peculiarities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalations—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor of the curative properties of medicine are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, in the treatment of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution upon which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public. I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their cases, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients living at a distance, can have Medical treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to visit the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to come across the world to find answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and to supply a Roof that will Proof of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, he will invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects it do hereby boldly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb. 22, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1858.

LETTER FROM "VERITAS."

(Concluded.)

KENSINGTON, Sept. 19.

What a humane man Capt. Townsend must be! How his benevolent heart must have been gratified all the voyage, to think he was carrying those negroes so comfortably from heathenism to the blessings of perpetual servitude in a Christian land.—Probably he knew how much their souls and bodies would be cared for. Some of the captains of slavers run their ships ashore in the night, to escape from British cruisers, and drown half their cargo. That is humane, too, I suppose. At any rate, they make money if they save only a third or a fourth, in Brazil, and probably they do in Cuba, as they can buy them with a few hogsheads of tobacco and New England rum.

I suppose the gentlemanly captain did not know that the wars in which they were taken prisoners, grew out of the slave-trade, and were kept up by it. The owners of American ships who sell them for the trade, don't know, and those who furnish the rum and tobacco don't know; of course not. This is an age of darkness on such subjects. Won't you please to enlighten the commercial and maritime public, Messrs. Editors?

The "Charleston view of the passengers in the Echo," shows how a benevolent person could enjoy himself in the trade; please give us a true picture of the traffic on the coast, and its humanitarian effects on the native tribes.

Your Portsmouth and Concord railroad is worth $15,500, clear of all expenses, annually, it seems. It cost a million to build it, did it not? and was sold for three hundred thousand. How much have the original stock-holders to show for the money they invested?

I presume they will not be in any hurry to help build another one. Everybody was honest and truthful about it, I suppose, especially when they wanted assessments paid. Well, I suppose it was all a "fair business transaction," all the way through.

I am glad if the good people of Boston are really waking up to the fact that they can enforce the law against rum-selling. A little child not seven years old, who had an intemperate parent, originated and preached the Maine Law forty years ago. "I wish I was a man," she used to say, "None but a doctor should sell rum. I would pour all of it on the ground if they did, and shut them up in jail."

The was as much in advance of public opinion, as she was in advance of her years, but it shows how simple the method of ridding the community of one of the greatest evils under which it groans, if every one that pretends to be a friend of temperance would come up to the work.—The money saved, to say nothing of character, would support all the poor, put a music teacher in all our schools, support the insane, and deaf and dumb. Why need another generation grow up under such influences? They need not, if all the mothers were to do their duty. In reply to the question, "What does France need most?" "Mothers," said Bonaparte. And what was true of France is true of this Republic.

If it ever is what its founders and friends hoped it would become, we must have a race of mothers very different from the majority of the present,—women who know what is right, and will train their children to it, until they are old enough to govern themselves.

We do not censure as much as we pity them. What training have they to fit them for their work? While so much is being done for young men, what, comparatively, is being done for the future mothers of this Republic? And with little or no training to fit them for their duties, they are expected to perform, many of them, the labor of servants, the duties of house-keepers and nurses, and the office of teachers; and the sympathy they get from their husbands frequently is, "Well, if these children don't behave better, I shall go out of the house, and stay out!" Most men think children are like cord wood.—You have only to pile it up as you want it, and the work is done! So little do they inform themselves of the nature of mind, and the means necessary to govern it. Many honest efforts and sincere desires for light and strength to do right, have been crushed by the thoughtless harshness of men, who have borne the sacred name of father.

Mr. Packard's entertainment in Exeter was quite an agreeable affair, and well attended. I noticed among the singers a great lack of chest tones; most all appeared to sing from their throats. Cannot something be done in reading and speaking to remedy this defect? Music should be introduced into our public schools for this reason, if no other, namely, to teach the right use and practice of the whole vocal apparatus.

I go further than your correspondent "Ion," for I think a "row in church" (as he is pleased elegantly to express it,) worse than in a rum-shop, because there we expect such things, and they are in keeping with the place; not so a church. The "public property" I don't pretend to decide about, not being versed in such matters; but I do think the taste that would be gratified in spreading such an affair abroad, or in reading it, not very elevated or refined. Respectfully, VERITAS.

☞ Rev. Edward Beecher, author of the "Conflict of Ages," has in preparation another work upon the same subject, which will soon be published. The Christian Era, a Baptist paper, says, He should name it "Beecher's Conflict with Common Sense." The sounds rather flippant in Uncle Toby's ears. The conflict in Beecher's soul, is between the natural feelings of humanity, and the calvinistic system, especially the item of endless misery. In his efforts to harmonise the two things, he hits upon an odd theory, to be sure; but he must not be sneered at as lacking common sense, by those who can propose nothing better, and who have never given the dreadful conflict a serious thought, or felt one yearning of compassion for the woes of myriads of human beings who never heard of God.

CREEDS.—A correspondent of the Traveller, who signs himself "One of his Church," writes to correct a statement which has been published quite generally, that Rev. Charles W. Beecher sets aside as useless all religious creeds. He says:—

"Mr. Beecher does not set creeds aside as of no use, only he does not admit that they are paramount with the Bible. He was settled and admitted to the Church in Georgetown, Mass., under a distinctly avowed creed. He does not hold the doctrine that the sinner may repent, and God forgive in a future world, nor has he at any time preached from his pulpit what any unprejudiced, thinking man, would call 'heresies.' Although the original statement was made in the Boston Recorder, yet it obtained from a Unitarian source, and being third-rate at that, it is not valid nor worthy the confidence of the public."

The late Ebenezer Francis, of Boston, wills to each of his daughters, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Bowditch, two hundred thousand dollars, outright, and one hundred thousand dollars he gives in legacies to various persons. The balance he places in trust for the benefit of his grandchildren, nine in number, the interest however to go to his two daughters during their lives.—This interest amounts to about $234,000 per annum, or $117,000 each.

No religious, charitable, or literary institution is mentioned;—but relatives, friends, and old servants and dependants, are well remembered. His daughters, if they are so disposed, can play the Lady Bountiful on a large scale. One of them, Mrs. Mason, is the wife of Robert Mason, son of Jeremiah M., formerly of this city.

☞ In Great Britain, a company has been formed for purchasing the Great Eastern steamer, and running her to America. The London journals are troubled about Mexican affairs. Mr. Ten Broeck's American horse Prioress has won the great Yorkshire Handicap race, at Doncaster. Six persons were crushed to death in a concert hall at Sheffield, during a panic in consequence of a false alarm of fire. Queen Victoria will not send any member of her family to attend the opening of the Exhibition in Canada; but the London Literary Gazette says the Queen herself will probably come over next summer.

☞ On board the burnt steamer Austria, a large number of the persons lost were residents of New York, who were returning from a summer excursion in Germany. We notice in the list of saved, the names of John T. Cox of Boston, and Henry A. Smith of Chelsea. The Austria was a first class ship of 2334 tons. She had three decks; was built of iron at Greenwich in 1857. She was bark rigged, and was owned by the Hamburg and American Steamship Company. She had on board a small cargo, consisting of silks and velvets, &c.

☞ The Ellsworth American says that parties have discovered gold at what is called "Teddy Pond," in the town of Surry, Maine.

Well, they ought to dig out a good pile of gold there—enough of it has been "sunk" in its muddy waters. But we don't believe there will be a large yield—for it's a regular Slough of Despond.

☞ Hon. Jefferson Davis was in attendance at the Maine State Fair, and made a brief address in the Representatives' Hall on Thursday evening. Gen. D. appears highly pleased with the State, with whose interests, scenery, varied business and pleasant episodes he has taken pains to make himself somewhat familiar; and his sojourn in that hill country and on the sea coast has resulted greatly in his favor in restoring his health, the restoration of which was the leading object of his visit North.

A PROMISE.—In a late speech by Hon. A. G. Brown, U. S. Senator from Mississippi, he states positively, that Mr. Buchanan assured him in the most positive and unequivocal terms that he would appoint no man to office who held the opinion that Kansas ought to be admitted before she has a population which would entitle her to a representative in Congress (according to the terms of the English Bill,) and that he would decapitate every office-holder who expressed such a belief. Gov. Brown went on to state that he regarded this as a solemn pledge on the part of Mr. Buchanan, and although he considered him a "little weak in the back," he believed he would stick up to it.

☞ The Bath Times doesn't fancy the resolutions of the Massachusetts Democracy. It gives expression in this wise:

"Those State which never give a democratic vote—which receive the honors and emoluments of the democratic party without performing any of its effective labors, are the ones most forward in imposing burdens upon men's shoulders which neither they or their fathers could bear. The only ambition of some professed democrats is to keep up just show enough to secure the official patronage—and to this end they prefer to keep the party conveniently small."

☞ On Sunday last, a recently emancipated colored man asked permission of Henry Ward Beecher to stand at the door of his church, at the close of the service, and take up a collection for the emancipation of his family. "Go, and do not budge an inch," said Mr. Beecher. He was speedily surrounded by a crowd, rendering it impossible to "budge," who deposited $300 in his hat.

☞ The Detroit Advertiser relates that a little girl about two years of age, who had crawled upon the track of the Toledo and Detroit Railroad, at Trenton, was saved from destruction by an approaching train, by a dog, a playmate of the child, which caught the child by its dress, and dragged it from the track into the ditch, where it held it until the train had passed by!

☞ In the Manchester Police Court, Sept. 27, David H. Young was up for keeping open his liquor shop on the Sabbath. Fined $6 and costs—from which the angry man took an appeal. The Court then ordered him to recognize in the sum of $100 to prosecute his appeal.

☞ Messrs. A. Williams & Co., of Boston, will publish next Tuesday, a valuable book for farmers, in 416 pages—price $1.25. The book is entitled, Milch Cows and Dairy Farming; and the production of Milk, Butter, and Cheese. By Charles L. Flint. Liberally illustrated.

☞ The launch of the Russian frigate "General Admiral," from the Yard of W. H. Webb, at New York, on Tuesday last, was perfectly successful. The vessel is a monster in size—4000 tons burthen, Custom House measurement.

☞ Gen. Denver, in a letter to Secretary Thompson of the Interior Department, says there is no room for doubt in regard to the reported discovery of gold at Pike's Peak.

☞ The Post says:—"Encke's comet having no tail, it is proposed to open a subscription at the reading room to procure funds to buy one—a short one—say about five millions of miles long."

☞ Two girls named Clarissa A. and Clara Sargent are awaiting trial at Concord, N. H., on a charge of having assisted in the escape of three prisoners from the county jail in Concord.

☞ Hickling, Swan & Brewer, of Boston, the publishers, have furnished us with No. 67 of the Old Farmer's Almanack, by Robert B. Thomas, for 1859. How the years slip away!

☞ An eminent spirit merchant in Dublin, announced to an Irish paper that he has a small quantity of the whiskey on hand that was drunk by George IV when in Dublin.

☞ A successful Cattle Show and Fair was held at Amesbury and Salisbury village on Tuesday. There were 1000 plates of fine fruit.

SPECIAL NOTICES.
RAISING OF BLOOD.
This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from imporverishment of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is an excellent remedy for all such conditions, as it equalizes the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, and, by its tonic and alterative powers, arrests the disease in the lungs when not beyond the reach of medicine.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, lately recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the person in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of one hundred eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in case of DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, truiterers and country merchants. Beware of imnitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; R. A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is now prepared to supply ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by O. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 29.

State, by John F. Dudley vs. James Pettigrew, for aggravated assault on the complainant with a boat hook. Respondent ordered to recognize in the sum of $400 for his appearance at the Supreme Judicial Court to be holden in this city in October.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—I have been very much pleased to observe the increased "esprit du corps" manifested in our fire department within the last two or three years, as shown by the new uniforms which the engine companies have obtained—by the increased regularity in their attendance at their monthly and other company meetings, and by their admirable display of promptness whenever an alarm of fire summons them to active service.—But it is with great regret that I have noticed that some of the engine houses are frequently open on the Sabbath, and that many members of the companies belonging to these houses make them a place of resort, even during the hours allotted to public worship.

I have no reason to complain of any disturbance to neighbors from this cause, nor am I one who would revive the old puritanical severity of keeping the Sabbath; but every one who reflects on the subject will admit that the thoughts, conversation and companionships of an engine house are not likely to be such as promote a regard for the Sabbath or for its duties. We also know how frequently the disregard for this day and its duties is the beginning of evil courses. If therefore we would have our fire department maintain its former and present high standard, and never descend to the rowdyism and ruffianism of that of Philadelphia or Baltimore, let us resist the first beginnings of evil.

☞ Atlantic Engine Company, No. 6, of this city, with the Portsmouth Cornet Band, paraded our streets on Wednesday morning, previous to starting on an excursion to Lake Village—and both appeared finely. They went up in the cars; and are to return from Dover in the packet this evening—and will be received on their return home by Laconia Co. No. 2.

MRS. WENTWORTH.—The numerous friends and admirers of Mrs. E. A. Wentworth, "one of the best of our American sweet singers,"—will be glad to learn that she has safely returned from her six months tour in Europe. She is spending a few days in this her native city.

☞ The Ferry Boat at Dover Point will commence running on Tuesday next, and continue running through the week, to accommodate attendants on the State Fair. We are also informed that the steamboat which usually plies between Saco and the "Pool" will convey passengers between this city and Dover, during the continuance of the Fair.

REDUCTION OF RAILROAD FARE.—The Salem Observer says the Directors of the Eastern Railroad have voted to reduce the fare between Lynn and Boston to thirty cents, on and after the first of October.—It is now thirty-five cents.

We should like to Observe and Chronicle a similar reduction of fare, down this way!

☞ Those who wish to see a beautiful natural phenomenon, should look at the comet which now presents a beautiful appearance in the northwest, between the hours of 7 and 8 P. M. Prof. Bond says that it will soon rapidly increase in size and brilliancy, and on the 9th of October will appear nearly three times as large as at present.

MR. KALLOCH.—The Boston Christian Era, (good authority in such matters,) says:—

The Boston Baptist ministers have not refused to exchange with Mr. Kalloch.—The Tremont Temple building does not belong to the Baptist churches of Boston.—The trustees of the Temple do not object to his settlement.

☞ The Manchester Mirror says that pigeons have not been so plenty for many years as they are this season. The woods about Manchester are full of them.

☞ Linus B. Comins has been nominated in Boston, for re-election to Congress from the 4th District, by the Republicans; —and will probably be re elected.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—The Steamship Moses Taylor at New York brings California advices to Sept. 5, three hundred passengers, and about $1,600,000 in treasure.

The National Democracy had carried the State of California; but a combination ticket prevailed in the city of San Francisco.

The mining news from Frazer River was unsatisfactory, and many persons who had rushed to the "gold regions," in the British Possessions, had returned, disheartened. It is said that new and extremely rich diggings had been found on Soda Creek, Shasta County—miners realizing $100 a day.

Another town had been destroyed by fire.

Henry Molis, a clerk in San Francisco, won $100,000 in a Havana lottery.

Numerous murders, assassinations, suicides and accidental deaths are recorded in the San Francisco papers.

L. A. Lauriat, well known in this city as a chemist and æronaut, is dead.

From Oregon we learn that Lieut. Allen, with a party of fifteen men, made a night attack on a body of Indians, and captured seventy-one men, women and children, and much property, but the Lieutenant was killed.

San Francisco Markets had been quite animated during the fortnight, and money was abundant.

A Missouri paper reports that Jim Lane has been whipped by a lawyer in Kansas, that a challenge has followed and that a duel is expected as the result. May a good Providence give a right direction to both bullets.—Bath Times.

☞ Rev. James Pratt of Portland has been invited to become Rector of the church in Phiadelphia made vacant by the melancholy deathof Rev. Dudley A. Tyng.

STOCKY.—A friend, presumed to be a judge in such matters, says the best exhibition of live stock at the Maine State Fair, was the calves on the race course, while the ladies were riding.—Bath Times.

☞ The members of the Jewish community in Boston, have adopted a series of resolutions thanking the British parliament for admitting Baron Rothschild to a seat in the House of Commons.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Winchendon, Sept. 29.—Joshua Hosmer, Jr., employed on the freight train of the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad, was instantly killed at Baldwinsville, last evening, by falling between the engine and cars.

☞ The Lowell Bank has applied to the Supreme Court, at Boston, for an injunction on the Suffolk Bank, to deliver up their bills for $30,000,—on a tender of specie.

"Who is this Fanny Fern, to whom I saw some allusion in one of your papers?" said an English gentleman to a waggish friend of ours. "Oh," was the reply, "she is of the Lucifern family."

☞ The N. Y. News, hard shell, says the Democratic convention in that State was managed to favor "Douglas and his fellows conspirators!"

☞ Even the Richmond South, the most radical and fire-eating journal in the whole South, has published a communication from St. Louis denouncing the Washington Union in unmeasured terms for its assaults upon Judge Douglas.

☞ Speaking of the glorious, benignant weather, the New York Tribune says every bright, warm day adds at least two millions of bushels to the year's product.

"Our darling little queen may go to America in 1859," says a London paper. Come when you please, Mrs. Vic., you shall have the best room in the house.—Boston Post.

☞ Answer to last week's Charade, Red Bird.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

What ! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be scanty and shriveled, hawk and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will loss more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, APRIL 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 18 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her bald little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CARLOS CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Some long year Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. MAYER.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was bald in front, and my wife had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications finished my bald head. It began to fill up, grew out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, beauty, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it unto all. J. D. HOSE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small: the small holds a pint, and retails for $1: the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2: the large holds a quart, 40 percent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying their place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease, effecting a radical cure.

Billious Attacks are common to all, but may be better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One dose taken a short time before each fever and ague, gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for the Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Billious type. It operates on them certainly, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the effects of improper treatment, or false complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or mail, and that the nature of the disease be described in the best manner they can be described by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invidable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in this city, and running hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and in a monthly period with a number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from his place of business by those who, in experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, the Manhood of man.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are rivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the Lung Infirmary, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside—are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—For advice or treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medical advice for one month's treatment, also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be cured as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rest assured that the difficulties of distance are no obstacle to his treatment, as he has so been has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be seen daily, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s5 6m

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many a year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes and to obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1858.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Boston Courier informs us that the case of Hamilton Willis was decided by Mr. Hubbard, master in chancery, who administered to him the poor debtor's oath, and he was discharged from jail, after an imprisonment of fifteen days.

The first section of the law of 1857 declares that "imprisonment for debt, except in cases of fraud, is hereby forever abolished in Massachusetts." Mr. Hubbard has now come to the conclusion, that it is to be administered as a penal statute, inasmuch as it provides for punishment in case of fraud. Therefore, the fraud charged must be specifically set forth in the details, like any other offence, and be proved by the opposing creditor beyond a reasonable doubt, as any criminal offence must be proved. In the case before him he decided that the charges had not been so set forth, nor had any fraud been made out by the creditor. He also intimated an opinion, that as the statute provided the punishment of imprisonment, where fraud was proved, the debtor could not, under the constitution, be required to answer interrogatories. No appeal lies from his decision for administering the poor debtor's oath, but from his decision acquitting Mr. Willis on the written charges of fraud an appeal was taken.

THE KANSAS GOLD MINES.—The Wyandotte Gazette of the 18th inst., says:

"Yesterday ten thousand dollars in gold dust arrived from Pike's Peak. One man brought in $6000 as the result of a few weeks' work. A small boy had $1000, which he says 'he dug down and found;' and the little fellow says 'he can get all he wants.'

These statements are reliable. Parties are daily returning for winter provisions. A Mr. Jones, an old mountaineer, expended $1000 of the shining dust in Independence last week, for his return outfit. Mr. Jones is well known in this vicinity, and being an old Californian; his statements that the Kansas mines are far ahead of those of California, must be believed."

The St. Louis Democrat says that specimens of the gold have reached that city.—One was a ragged lump worth about $40, and contains a few lumps of quarts.

CANDLEBOX RETURNS.—In Maine, this year, are made some grand bogus returns from new settlements of Aroostook. That county gave last year 1,001 Republican to 1,238 Democratic votes, being the largest vote it ever cast. In '56 it gave Fremont 837, Buchanan 795, Fillmore 8. It now returns 917 for Foster and 1,804 for Bradbury (Dem.) though most of the townships show no material change from last year. But Madawaska, which last year gave 109 Repub. to 103 Dem. (which was a full vote) is now reported six hundred majority for Bradbury! Here is a clear, manifest, audacious swindle of at least five hundred votes; and it was paralleled on a smaller scale at three or four other places.

TWO CHILDREN BURNT TO DEATH.—A small shanty in Fitchburg, occupied by Mr. John Daley and his wife, and two small children, was accidentally set on fire by the drunken parents, who with difficulty escaped, leaving their two children to perish in the flames. One was four and the other was two and a half years of age. The drunkenness, combined with the fright of the parents, rendered them perfectly stupefied, so that when the neighbors, who were aroused by the light of the burning shanty, arrived at the fire, they could not ascertain whether or not the children had escaped.

While they were looking around to find the little ones, a very painful cry of "Father, come and save us!" came from the midst of the flames. This call for help from the burning children was instantly responded to by the people at the fire, but it came too late. The whole interior of the shanty was in flames, and no person could enter it without losing his life. One or two dying shrieks came from the flames, and then all was over. As soon as the fire was extinguished, the bodies of the children were found in the ashes, as was also that of a dog which had probably remained to protect the children.

JUDGE SHAW'S DECISION ENFORCED AT EAST CAMBRIDGE.—On Saturday evening about 9 o'clock, the wife of Robert Chittrick, learning that her husband was at a grog shop known as the 'Rifle,' proceeded to the place, and commenced smashing the bottles, decanters, &c. A man named Wallace attempted to stop her, when a police officer who came up interfered and compelled him to let the woman complete the work of destruction, which she did in a most thorough manner.

FORNEY'S ADDRESS.

In the Philadelphia Press of the 30th Sept. appeared an address of Mr. Forney's of some columns in length, in vindication of the principle of popular sovereignty, and in reply to the assaults of the Lecompton organs. He intended to deliver the address at a public meeting, but the multiplicity of his duties have rendered it impossible.

He commenced by reviewing the part that he took at Tarrytown, and the causes which induced him to make the speech he did there. He then alludes to the statement of the Union denying the conversation he is represented to have had with the President. He says:

"Not only did the conversation take place, but many things that were said were omitted in the Tarrytown speech. Among other things the President said:

"If you, Walker and Douglas will unite in support of my Kansas Policy, the people of Kansas will vote for it at the election on the 21st of December. I know that you have the strong side of the question and that you can carry off the people. I appeal to you, stand with me, because if I do not adhere to my policy, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will probably secede from the Union."

A few days after this interview, a friend from Southern New York visited Mr. Forney at Philadelphia, saying that the President had desired him to assure me that the President intended to make his Kansas policy a test upon the party, and that no man would be tolerated by the Administration who did not approve and support it.

Regarding the Union's assertions that his (Forney's) statement of the Cabinet meeting is false, Mr. Forney says that the report of the consultation between Walker and the Cabinet was communicated by Col. Simeon M. Johnson, one of the editors of the Union.

Mr. Forney then alludes to the attacks of the New York Herald upon him, applying terms to the editor of that paper, not at all complimentary to him. He next quotes from several articles that have appeared in the Herald during the Presidential Campaign, saying that Mr. Buchanan once said to him with much excitement, "Why am I so traduced and pursued by this infamous knave? Have I no friends who will visit New York and punish him as he deserves? His ears should be taken off in the public stocks."

Subsequent to the election, when he (Forney) had published a caustic article about Mr. Bennett, Mr. Buchanan regretted the publication, saying, "I desire that Mr. Bennett shall support my administration."

Mr. Forney then reviews the political condition of the Union, claiming that all the Democratic victories at the North have been Anti-Lecompton, and concludes by predicting the complete overthrow of the President's rule in the course of election in Pennsylvania.

☞ The Cincinnati Price Current publishes tables, showing the comparative number of hogs, according to the assessors' returns, in ninety-three counties in Kentucky, thirty-eight in Indiana, and twenty-nine in Ohio, the present and previous years, prepared by the auditor of each State. The aggregate number this year is 2,575,914 against 2,789,488 last year. Decrease 213,574.

☞ It seems, says the Hopkinville (Ky.) Mercury, that a legion of devils have taken possession of the hogs in Davies, Muhlenberg, McLean, and the adjacent counties. A gentleman who has been travelling these counties, informs us that the mortality is astonishing; in some places the dead are piled up by hundreds, the air is black with crows, ravens and buzzards, and the stench is overpowering.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer approves Mr. Douglas' Freeport speech in relation to the Dred Scott decision; says he stated the exact truth, and thus has done the South the favor to let it know precisely how it stands in relation to the territories. The Enquirer further intimates that the Washington Union is no longer a democratic journal.

BEING HUMBUGGED. — Harriet Beecher Stowe, who is in this country at the present time, and has been for many months past, will probably be "taken a back" a little, to learn by the latest mails from the European continent, that within the present month she has been feasted at the grand banquet at one of the chief restaurants of the Paris Royal, by the literary women of the French capital. Somebody is having a gay time at her expense.

☞ The Telegraph News, from the Cable, is rather dry;

Trinity Bay, Sept. 29.—PETER COOPER, for the Directors, New York. There were no signals received from Valentia yesterday. The electrical indications remain the same as before noted. DE SAUTY.

☞ There was an explosion at the powder mills in New Durham, N. H., on Saturday morning, but no person was hurt and the damage was trifling.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—The deaths by yellow fever in this city yesterday were 68.

The steamer Prince Albert arrived at New York on Wednesday with ten of the survivors of the burned steamer Austria. Two of the rescued passengers, Philip Berry of New Jersey, and Henry A. Smith of Chelsea, have furnished statements of the disaster. These gentlemen confirm the statements of Police Inspector Charles Brew; and show clearly that the officers of the ship were in nowise equal to the management of affairs.

The captain, from the first, gave up in despair, and the helmsman abandoned the wheel. Every one seemed to seek only his personal safety. The fire when first seen was so small that it might have been covered with a man's hat, but for some reason it suddenly spread throughout the lower part of the ship, which was instantly filled with dense suffocating smoke. Many were unable to leave their rooms at all.

Henry A. Smith, of Chelsea, Mass., says:—

I got on the third boat as it was cut down from the davits. It fell twenty feet and was swamped. In that fall ten or twelve people were drowned, the boat capsizing at the same time, and in the endeavor to right her ten more were drowned. At last she righted, and I got in with twenty-three others, and after being five hours in the boat were picked up by the brig Maurice.

Philip Berry, of Hackensack, New Jersey, says:—

I was in the second cabin on a sofa. A rush was heard at the door, and as I looked up to see what was the matter, I saw the people come in and the smoke following them. I then escaped by the sky light in the back of the cabin. When I got on deck I saw the entire midship on fire, and then attempted to remove the awning on the quarter deck. By this time the view from fore to aft was cut off by the smoke, and I went to see if I could possibly get a boat and save those on the poop. Three or four officers were at work on the second boat on the port side. The after falls were loosened, and the fore falls were entirely let out, and the boat hung with the stern in the water and her forward part uppermost.

Several of the officers attempted to get on board at this time, and the captain attempted to lower himself into it by a rope which hung from the side of the burning steamer. In attempting to get into the boat, however, he missed his footing, and grasped a rope hanging from the after part of the boat, which was partially lowered, as stated. This rope drew him some distance, and then he sunk and was no more seen. The steamer, during all this time, was going about eight or ten knots an hour, and consequently he could not be rescued. It was impossible to stop the ship, the engineers, too, having been smothered by the smoke. I then determined to save myself, personally. I accordingly procured a life-buoy, and remained upon the quarter-deck as long as the flames permitted. I saw another boat lowered in the meantime, and about fifty lives were lost in an attempt to get into it.

☞ In the Newburyport police court on Tuesday, says the Herald, one Rev. James Hackett, a Baptist clergyman, without a flock—who had come to that city from Lowell, was placed in the prisoners' dock with a Mrs. Sarah Morrison, charged with adultery.

The officers found the parties in such a condition as to leave no doubt of guilt.—Hackett is said to have an interesting family otherwheres; and Mrs. Morrison has two children. Hackett has been bound over in the sum of three hundred dollars, to take his trial for adultery; while Mrs. Morrison was discharged, probably in consideration of the wants of her young family.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT FROM BURNING FLUID.—The fishing schooner Samuel W. Brown arrived at Portland a few days since from a fishing cruise. While in the bay of Chaleur, a band on board named Niel Clancey, of Nova Scotia, one night, while it was his watch, went into the cabin and attempted to replenish a fluid lamp while it was burning, from a can containing about four gallons. The can exploded, enveloping Clancey in a sheet of flame. He ran on deck, jumped overboard and was never seen more. There were five persons asleep in the cabin, all of whom were more or less injured. Capt. Fisher, of Nova Scotia, was very badly burned.—He also rushed on deck and tumbled down into the forecastle, waking the men asleep there. They immediately wrapped him up in quilts, extinguishing the flames, and then turned their attention to saving the vessel, which was done without her being much injured. Capt. Fisher is still suffering from the effects of the burns he received.—Argus.

THE SIXTH DISTRICT.—The Augusta Age of Sept. 30, says: "We regret to say that we cannot hold out any encouragement of the election of Mr. Bradbury in the sixth district. If the returns which reach us are correct, Foster is elected by a small majority."

NAVAL.—The U. S. storeship Release, Lieut. Commanding W. A. Parker, sailed from Boston, on Wednesday, for Paraguay via New York.

As we passed along in the rear of the cattle pen on the Fair grounds, a finely dressed lady was languishingly leaning upon the arm of her lover or friend immediately in advance of us. Casting her eyes towards a noble lot of fathers of their respective towns, she exclaimed rapturously, 'what a b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l lot of cows!'—Bath Times.

APPOINTMENT AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—Mr. Alonzo C. Jackson, assistant editor of the Boston Post, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Naval Office at Boston, vice Moore, resigned.

This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from imperfect development of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which secrete diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing sensations which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounced Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE GENUINE is IMPORTED.

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of offspring. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit direions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor, 1yap18 Address Broadway P. O., New York

COARSE SALT, the best quality for Butter and Pork, at No. 44 Market Street.

LAFAYETTE LAIGHTON.

LOCAL.

☞ Amid the hurry-scurrying of men to gold mines, &c., in search of wealth—and the eternal complaining of hard times, (if for good cause, the more unpleasant—) it is pleasant to see evidence that most men do have some regard for their fellows.

We learn that the workmen on the Navy Yard have made up a purse of $130 for the family of T. W. Philbrook, who died last week.

A subscription paper in circulation for the benefit of a young man living here, who was injured on a distant railroad—we also noticed was pretty well filled up. That chap who gave ten cents was doubtless thinking inversely of the widow's mite—and concluded that the less you give according to your means, the greater the charity. Possibly, however, he thought the sufferer was not in needy circumstances.

☞ The Concert to-night will be well worth hearing—and we have no doubt, much more satisfactory than some entertainments we have had from performers of more celebrity. Mr. Goodrich and one of the ladies we have often heard sing—and sing well too; and they with an alto are said to compose a fine trio club. It don't cost much to hear them, at any rate—and anything under the name of music is acceptable, in the present dearth.

☞ Atlantic Fire Company, No. 6, arrived in this city about 10 o'clock on Thursday evening, on their return from a tour to Lake Village; and were received by Laconia No. 2, who tendered them the usual courtesies. The weather was most propritous, and it seemed as through the rain held off for their especial benefit, for no sooner were the ceremonies over than it began to sprinkle freely, amounting in the end to quite a dampner.

☞ We learn that Miss Durgin, of Exeter, who has won considerable fame at home and elsewhere as a vocalist—intends giving a concert in this city soon, with able assistance. That's right—do let us have a little music of some sort.

☞ To accommodote shose desirous of attending the State Fair at Dover, trains will be run by the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, Oct. 6th, 7th and 8th, as follows:—

Leave Portsmouth at 8 15 and 10 50 A. M., and 4 20 P. M. Returning—leave Newmarket Junction at 9 40 A. M. and 6 20 P. M. Fare to Dover and back 70 cts.

Leave Concord as 7 15 and 10 45 A.M., and 4 P. M. Returning—leave Junction at 12 15, 5 20 and 6 10. Fare both ways $1.60.

☞ The Ferry Boat at Dover Point will commence running on Tuesday next, and continue running through the week, to accommodate attendants on the State Fair. We are also informed that the steamboat which usually plies between Saco and the "Pool" will convey passengers between this city and Dover, during the continuance of the Fair.

Gov. Corwin is making a thorough canvas of his district. In one of his late speeches he thus characteristically expresses a very natural thought concerning Douglas:—

"I have said that I honor Douglas. I honor any man in a party who looks the head of that party in the face, and defies his power. But why did not Douglas wholly emancipate himself, instead of putting the fetters off one hand, and allowing the handcuffs to dangle from the other."

MURDER.—Chateaugue, Sept. 29.—Last night Wm. Cantwell, of Russeltown, Canada East, stabbed his brother-in-law, a Mr. Walker, for beating his wife. Walker had come home drund, and was abusing his wife. He cannot live. Cantwell has been arrested.

DISASTER.—Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 29. The steamer Fanny Herrick struck the Railroad Bridge near the Island at eight o'clock last evening, as it was coming through, and two of the deck hands were lost. Soon after a raft struck the same place and three lives were lost.

Private letters from New Orleans represent the yellow fever to be extremely malignant, and advise strangers to avoid going there until very late in the season—say let of December—certainly not before the middle of November.

The Earl of Rurland (Manners) said to Thomas Moore, when the latter was knighted, "honores mutant Mores." "It will do better in English," was the retort; "honors change manners."

We cannot bear to be deceived by our enemies, and betrayed by our friends; yet we are often content to be served so by ourselves.

TRINITY BAY, Sept. 30.—There has been no change whatever in the condition of the Cable. C. V. DESAUTY.

☞ Judge Bigelow, of Boston, has refused to issue an injunction against the Suffolk Bank.

MARRIED,

In Dover, Isaac G. Folker, of Barrington, to Mrs. Mary V. Young of Madbury.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The Steamship Arabia arrived at New York on Wednesday evening, with news from England to September 18.

The English public had just lost confidence in the Ocean Cable, and the price of shares had declined. Wiliam Weir, the chief editor of the London News is dead.

The King of Prussia, it is said, cannot recover.

The most interesting fact is that Cotton has advanced at Liverpool, fully one-eighth of a penny per pound.

HALIFAX, Sept. 29.—English papers state that Mr. Charles Brew, who furnished the intelligent and graphic account of the burning of the Austria, has held the post of Inspector of Police in Cork, and has been selected to fill the important position of Inspector General of Police in the new British gold region, an office worth £1000 a year. He volunteered during the war with Russia, and held an arduous place in the Commissariat all through the Crimean campaign. The Nova Scotia Government advanced £100 to enable him to continue his journey to British Columbia.

MARSHAL RYNDERS DECEIVED BY A SLAVER.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, says that intelligence has been received, verifying the fact that the yacht Wanderer, which was temporarily detained by the United States Marshal at New York, a few months ago, under suspicious circumstances, went to the coast of Africa, and is soon expected in Cuba with a cargo of slaves. Capt. Corrie of South Carolina purchased her with the proceeds of a claim allowed by the War Department, under a bill which the lobby engineered through Congress for the relief of Saybrook, and he and others provided the necessary capital for the present enterprise. The claim allowed by the War Office was unsupported by any testimony that would be recognized in a court of justice, and had been completely riddled by an official report of the Controller of the Treasury, which is now among the archives. This document will be called for at the next session. Ex-Governor Jones of Tennessee, carried the bill through the Senate, and was also active in conquering the prejudices of the Department afterward.

In the telegraph procession in New York 1100 Germans refused to join in the chorus of "God save the Queen," declaring that "they had no respect for the Queen, and didn't believe in God!"

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens AND Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS PERFECT IN ITSELF, and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of DOUBLE THICKNESS, will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Housekeepers Buy One, AND SAVE Your Time, Labor and Fuel.

ITS ADVANTAGES ARE NUMEROUS.

IT COSTS LESS,
IT OCCUPIES LESS SPACE,
IT REQUIRES LESS FUEL,
IT WILL KEEP FIRE LONGER,
IT WILL DO MORE WORK,
IT WILL BAKE QUICKER,
IT WILL WEAR LONGER,
THAN ANY RANGE IN MARKET.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir—I permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a valuable preparation, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyllelydiet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Spring st., Apr. 12, 1858.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who conceived to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and fastening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CEREDIG CANDOW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I have found. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness and itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Hair Restoratives, but they proved worse than useless to my hair. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications first used my hair finally. It began to fill up grow out and turned back to its original color, black. At this time it is fully restored to its original color, beauty and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to my friends. J. D. HOON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 50 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 60 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands, in our large and crowding towns, surrendering their lives to the fiendish delusions of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from false delicacy or reluctance to make known their complaints, and consequently, to the world at large, that any of his medicines will be sent by express, postpaid, to all who may order them, provided the nature of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last years of his practice, more than three hundred cases of diseases of the urinary organs, originally treated by empties have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number have been cured in from two to four months.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be deceived by quacks, to be referred to by correspondent with false and fabulous statements, the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicines can be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is speedy and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions, and of persons who may be offering a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been found to be mere pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine, the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions, if remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 ly

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LIVING INFIRMARY.—My consultation for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Seminal Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Publication—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By this, alone, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment, and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the general management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are well known to every any enjoy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic and the above charity have been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefit of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and will devote myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the patronage most will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, and Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment are as follows: Each patient, for one month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $5 to be paid to Express Agent for receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he invariably effects a cure over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth st., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing tailored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attributed upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by the Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trying of the weather he invites the attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently, and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with this Office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1858.

THE FUGITIVE LAW.—On the 13th inst., a colored boy named Price, 18 or 20 years old, came near being kidnapped from Oberlin, Ohio. A wretch of a farmer, named Boynton, sent his son ostensibly to hire Price to work on his farm. The son, instead of taking Price to the farm, delivered him to two Kentucky slave catchers named Jacobs and Bacon, who, with U. S. Deputy Marshal Lowe, and Officer Davis of Columbus were waiting on the way to receive him; U. S. Commissioner Chittendden of Columbus having issued the papers upon which the young negro was to be consigned to slavery. Price was ironed and taken nine miles to Wellington to await the cars for Columbus. The citizens of Oberlin, however, got wind of the matter, and they proceeded to the rescue of Price. This they were not long in accomplishing, and returned in triumph to their homes. A correspondent of the Sandusky Register in describing the rally to the rescue, says:—

"The enthusiasm manifested by the honest farmers along the road was indeed refreshing. One—coming into town with a load of flour—heard of the affair, and piling his loading over [illegible] took in twenty armed men and drove to Wellington. Another shoveled out a load of sand and did the same. Gray headed old men brought their muskets to the road and urged the young ones to use them if necessary. In short, the demonstration was a complete success. The moral of this is quite obvious to any one, viz: the Fugitive Slave Law 'can't be did,' in this part of the Reserve at least."

☞ At Dedham, Mass., at the Norfolk Co. Agricultural Fair, outside the grounds there were many stands, at some of which liquors were sold. The Chief of Police of Roxbury, Mr. Parker, was in attendance at Dedham, with officers of his force; and Chief of Police Endicott, and Deputy Sheriff Woods, of Dedham, had also a strong force in the field, and during the afternoon, no less than six different seizures of liquors were made, varying from ten gallons up to fifty, and in two of the cases the liquor was poured on the ground. The rest was conveyed to the Dedham jail; several of the liquor sellers were also arrested. A violent assault was made at one of these places, upon officer Campbell, who received a contusion on the face, but speedily arrested his assailants. These exploits of the police were quietly done, and created no excitement, but probably were the means of preventing some drunkenness. Inside the Company's enclosure, however, the best order was preserved. In one of the cases of seizure outside, the liquor was in a wagon, and one of the officers sprang in and drove it off to the jail, owner and all.

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST THE SUFFOLK BANK.—On Thursday, a messenger from the Suffolk Bank visited the Newmarket Bank, N. H., with $20,000 in bills of that institution, and demanded the specie.—The coin was promptly paid, but no sooner was it in the possession of the messenger than $5000 of the amount was attached by the sheriff of Rockingham county, to satisfy a suit of the Newmarket Bank against the Suffolk, for illegal and improper annoyance in drawing so large a sum in specie from the coffers of the first-named bank. The courier from the Suffolk Bank returned to Boston with $15,000 in hard money.

☞ The Universalist Quarterly for October, 1858, is to contain an article (No. 25,) from Rev. Thos. Whittemore, D. D. reviewing Rev. Thos. Starr King's two sermons in reply to Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams. Mr. Whittemore's article is entitled, "Universalism Revealed in the Four Gospels;" and it is a defence of the doctrine on "textual and dogmatic" grounds; and it contains strictures on Mr. King's estimate of the New Testament Scriptures, and on his alleged preference for philosophical induction. It will be read with interest by more than one denomination of christians, as indeed the whole controversy has been.

DEATH OF AN AGED PRINTER.—Mr. Henry Emmons, one of the oldest, if not the senior printer in Boston, died in Boston, on the 22d inst., at the advanced age of 88 years and 5 months. The deceased is known to the present generation as an agent for the sale of several annual publications. He was formerly quite active in religious matters, and is reported never to have tasted ardent spirits or used tobacco. For the last forty years he has not used tea or coffee, but has been a consistent cold water man.

A NEW FEATURE.—The Milford (N.H.) Republican says the citizens of that town, with most commendable liberality, to enhance the interest in the County Fair held at Milford, on the 29th and 30th of September, offered six premiums for Bands of music. The best in the county to receive $30, the second $25, the third $20, the fourth $15, the fifth $10, and the sixth $5. Dinner was furnished gratuitously to all the bands in attendance.

The Dover Enquirer thought this would have been the best plan at the State Fair. We hope something like it may be adopted hereafter in State and Counties.

☞ In a parish meeting of the society in Boston, (late Rev. J. I. T. Coolidge,) it was resolved, after much debate, by a large majority, about four-fifths of the whole society, that the course of the standing committee, in opening the church, pursuant to a vote of the proprietors, be sustained, and the church will accordingly be opened for Unitarian worship on the first Sunday in October. Rev. T. S. King will preach on Sunday morning, and the Rev. Dr. Gannett in the afternoon, to be succeeded the Sundays following by other Unitarian preachers.

SAD CASUALTY AT MONTGOMERY.—The Springfield Republican says that on Wednesday afternoon, as Mr. Oliver Moore, an extensive farmer and most highly respected citizen of Montgomery, was on his way to Huntington, with a pair of cattle for exhibition at the cattle show on Thursday, a bridge which he was crossing near the line between Huntington and Montgomery gave way, and he, with his cattle, was precipitated into the water beneath. Mr. M. was struck by the falling timbers and instantly killed. His wife was a short distance behind him in an open carriage, but being a cripple, could not render any assistance, and was obliged to drive back two miles to procure help. Mr. Moore's loss will be deeply felt by the community, in which he was so widely known. He was 65 years of age. His cattle were rescued unharmed.

☞ At Concord, Sept. 30, at night, one George Clark and wife, with a few female friends gave a private entertainment to a select company of some fifteen or twenty gentlemen at their domicil, near "Prospect Hill," their house being one of no doubtful reputation. The police broke in upon the party, Clark and wife with some others were arrested, and the names of the gentlemen taken to be summoned to appear before His Honor Judge Pillsbury.

This house with one or two others have been a great annoyance to the peaceful citizens living in that vicinity, and it is hoped that this effort of the police will break up the vile "nest."

A UNION SAVER.—The Manchester American of Thursday, says, William Murphy, a famous "shoulder hitter" and fighter at the last spring election, was found beating his wife yesterday afternoon. After a severe struggle with the police, he was conquered and put in the lobby.

William was no fanatic, or "Maine law hypocrite," but a true blue National rum man, and proved his faith by his works.

In Justice Upton's Court, Murphy plead nolo con. to both offences; was fined $10 and 5.00 costs, for beating his wife, and ordered to give $100 bonds for good behavior.

For the assault on the officer, he was ordered to recognize in the sum of $300, with two good and sufficient sureties of $300 each, for appearance at a higher Court, and to stand committed until the above sentence be complied with.

For lack of bondsmen he went to Amherst jail.

☞ "The Immutable Right: an Oration delivered before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Brown University, August 31st, 1858. By Andrew P. Peabody. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Company." This is a very able production, worthy the author's fame, and admirably adapted to the place and occasion of its delivery. We commend the oration to public consideration, as it deserves a permanent place in literature. It is an essay of admirable tone and spirit.

"SETTLED"—A CASE IN POINT.—The Detroit Free Press has much to say about the Kansas question being "settled on the broadest terms of popular sovereignty." To which the Detroit Tribune responds as follows:—

"Settled very much as the landlady's coffee was by her Hibernian "help," who had been instructed to put in an egg, and who, in reply to the question whether she had done as bid, replied, "Yes, mum, I put in four jist, for cause, they were so bad I had to use the more of them."

FEAST OF TABERNACLES.—On Wednesday evening commenced the Jewish festival of Succoth or Tabernacles, which lasts nine days. On the first, second, eighth and ninth days of the festival no business may be transacted; the middle days of the feast, however, may be devoted to worldly affairs. The origin of this festival is to be found in Leviticus, 23d chap. 43d verse:

"Speak unto the children of Israel, saying: 'The fifteenth day of the seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the Lord; on the first day shall be an holy convocation; ye shall do no service work therein.'"

The peculiar rights incidental to this festival are found particularized in the 39th verse of the same chapter, which reads:—

"Also, in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye shall have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days. On the first day shall be a Sabbath, and on the eighth shall be a Sabbath. And ye shall take unto yourselves on the first day the fruit of the tree Hadar, palm leaves, boughs of the tree Aboth, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the Lord seven days. And ye shall celebrate it as a feast to the Lord seven days in the year, an everlasting statute to all your generations, in the seventh month ye shall celebrate it. In booths shall ye dwell seven days, every denizen in Israel shall dwell in booths, in order that your generations may know that I caused the children of Israel to dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God."

One of the ceremonies peculiar to this festival is the dwelling in the Succoth or booth, which is erected in the open air.—Such a booth is attached to nearly every synagogue in this city, and there are probably some twenty more belonging to private persons. The booth must not be completely roofed in or covered with any solid material, but must be thatched in such a manner as to admit the view of the sky and stars. During the continuance of the festival it is imperative to dwell in the booth; that is to say, all meals must be taken there, and where the climate permits, it is also customary to sleep therein. Coming as it does, immediately after the day of atonement and time of penitence, this festival, which may be called the harvest feast of the Jews, is strictly observed, with all the rites peculiar to its observance by them.—N. Y. Express.

"An amusing incident occurred in the cars of the Virginia and Tennessee road, which must be preserved in print. It is too good to be lost. As the train entered the Big Tunnel near this place, in accordance with the usual custom, a lamp was lit. A servant girl, accompanying her mistress, had sunk into a profound slumber, but just as the lamp was lit she awoke, and, half asleep, imagined herself in the infernal regions.

Frantic with fright, she implored her Maker to have mercy on her, remarking at the same time, "the devil has got me at last." Her mistress, sitting on the seat in front of the terrified negro, was deeply mortified, and called upon her,—"Mollie, don't make such a noise; it is I, be not afraid." The poor African immediately exclaimed, "Oh, missus, dat you? jest what I 'spected; I always thought if ever I got to de bad place, I would see you dar."

These remarks were uttered with such vehemence, that not a word was lost, and the whole car became convulsed with laughter.

A stuttering man, at a public table, had occasion to use a pepper-box. After shaking it with all due vehemence, and turning it in various ways, he found that the pepper was in no wise inclined to come forth.

"T-th-this p-pep-per box," he exclaimed with a sagacious grin, "is so-something like myself."

"Why?" asked a neighbor.

"P-poo-poor delivery," he replied.

A person, better known for his wealth than for his liberality, was requested to aid in the erection of a church. The subscription book was placed in his hands.—He looked at it anxiously and earnestly, and handed it back with the astonishing remark—"No, sir! I will not give anything; not half as many people go to hell now as ought to go."

RAISING OF BLOOD.
This alarming symptom may arise from congestion of the lungs, from impoverishment of the blood, or from incipient pulmonary disease. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is an excellent remedy for all such conditions, as it equalizes the circulation, purifies and enriches the blood, and, by its tonic and alterative powers, arrests the disease in the lungs when not beyond the reach of medicine.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples, also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, SPRINGS, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
—Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

CARPETS.—We believe Messrs. Jones & Mendum keep the only stock of Woolen Carpets in this city, of late years—and they have a well-selected and considerably extensive assortment, too; at prices as low as similar goods can be purchased anywhere.

We are not among those who would pass our home-traders by, to patronize others in no way identified or interested in our city's prosperity; but if people will prefer to buy in Boston, we must recommend them to visit the large halls of the New England Carpet Company, on Hanover street—which we advertise in our columns this morning; and they will be most courteously served with goods to suit any taste or purse—at astonishingly low rates. Everybody who is "sharp" enough to run round "the city" and inquire the prices of carpets, will soon discover that the New Engladd Co.'s store is the place to buy. So we've been told—"more than once." Personally, we are not fond of running about to save 5 cents—wasting time worth 25 in so doing.

☞There seemed to be no cause for the alarm of fire on Friday evening, except the loafing-rowdyism which is so prevalent among us. CONTEMPTIBLY MEAN:—The person who stole a piece of crape from the handle of a door in this city, on Friday. One who has so little regard for the grief of others should not be suffered to associate with decent people.

THE LAW.

In Portland, Me., Municipal Court, on Tuesday, there were two cases of liquor seizures before the Court; the party in one case plead nolo contendre, and was fined $20 and costs; the other case was continued until next Thursday.

In Dover, N. H. Police Court, this week, are these cases, before Judge Kimball:—

Miles Buzzell, intoxication, disclosed.

Thomas Lyons, selling liquor, found guilty, bound over.

John F. Brown, selling liquor, bound over.

Jas. McDonald, intoxication, disclosed.

J. Bolo, intoxication, disclosed.

Edward Carnes, John Carnes and Philip Shields, entering the dwelling house of Mr. Brewster, on Mount Pleasant street, and stealing money, found guilty, sent to the Reform School at Manchester,—three years each.

DANCING THEIR RAGS OFF.—Two unsophisticated country lasses visited Niblo's in New York during the ballet season.—When the short-skirted, gossamer-clad nymphs made their appearance on the stage, they became restless and fidgetty.

"It ain't nice. I don't like it."

"Hush, the folks will notice you."

"I don't care: it ain't nice, and I wonder aunt brought us to such a place."

"Hush, Mary, the folks will laugh at you."

After one or two flings and a pirouette, the blushing Mary said:

"O, Annie, let's go; it ain't nice, and I don't feel comfortable."

"Do hush, Mary, replied the sister, whose own face was scarlet, though it wore an air of determination; "it's first time I ever was at a theatre, and I suppose it will be the last, so I am just going to stay it out if they dance every rag off their backs!"

☞Rev. Mr. Packard, says the Biddeford Gazette, in announcing last Sunday the meetings for the week, stated not only the time of commencing, but the hour at which they would close. The reverend gentleman observed that he considered the latter announcement as important as the former, and also that it would be punctually observed.

☞The Electricians have means of weighing the electric fluid or power,—and by weighing, they can tell how far off a break is. The latest dispatch from the Atlantic Cable is Sept. 30.

C. W. FIELD, Esq., New York.

I bring instruments and regulations for testing and working on certain days, when Valentia will be particularly watchful for signals. It is to be hoped, by establishing a system of unison between the two stations, to get signals through. The conductor is not broken. The defect is loss of insulation 280 miles from Valentia.—It is possible, by sending certain kind of electricity, to improve the insulation, and thus overcome the difficulty for a time.—From the nature of the defect, signals even at present may be received at Valentia from Newfoundland, and not vice versa. Everything will be done to restore communication. Mr. Brett thinks the cable can be lifted and repaied. C. W. LUNDY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The balance in the Treasury on Monday was $10,869,000. The receipts for the wee were $925,000—a reduction, as compared with those of the previous week, of $1,240,000. The drafts paid amounted to $2,221,000, and the drafts issued to $2,165,000.

The plasterers on the Capitol extension, numbering about 70, have struck for $2.50 per day.

A KANSAS DESPERADO.—Hays, the Kansas desperado, and murderer of Buffum, who was admitted to bail by the infamous Judge Lecompte, has again been arrested, in Atchison, K. T., on the charge of attempting to kill a man named Doane. The Freedom's Champion, a paper published at Atchison, says that Hays "has got into the hands of men now, who know how to meet out justice to such scoundrels."

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—Garnett B. Adrian has been re-nominated by the anti-Lecomptonites of the 3d Congressional district of New Jersey. Patterson is the Lecompton candidate.

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD.

The first annual meeting will take place in this city on Thursday next. It appears from the Report of the Directors for the past year that the receipts have been from

Passengers,	25,219 08
Freight,	29,633 39
Mails,	2,703 53
Express,	793 28
Rents, &c.,	149 01
	$58,488 29
The expenses of operation have been	39,125 96
Leaving a balance of	19,362 33

Which is accounted for as follows—

By permanent improvements of roadway,	3,370 70
" " " " bridges,	3,954 21
" New Sleepers,	3,238 28
" pd. on Freight Cars of Ice Co.	1,680 88
Cash assets on hand, over outstanding bills,	7,118 26
	19,362 33

The great depression of business during the year has been unfavorable to this in common with other roads. And it has not been practicable to fully counterbalance the diminution of receipts by a proportionate reduction of expenses of daily operation. The same number of trains over the Road have been run as would have been with the amount of business in ordinary (years; and the management of those trains and the proper care of this Road have required nearly the same number of persons employed.

On the 12th of September last, a contract was made by the Directors with the Concord Railroad relative to the operation of the Road by that corporation. A copy of that contract accompanies the Report. By it the right is reserved to the stockholders of either corporation to terminate the contract, if they so elect, by a vote at the next annual meeting. This matter will therefore be for their consideration at the approaching annual meeting of the corporation.

N. H. STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Ninth Annual Fair will be held in the City of Dover, Wednesday, Thursday & Friday, Oct. 6th. 7th and 8th, 1858, on the Granite State Trotting Park, a broad plain of fifty-five acres, inclosed with a high and substantial fence. Cocheco Pond, on one side of the field, affords abundance of pure water for Stock, and for the supply of the Fire Engines. The display of Machinery, Implements, Farm Products, Manufactures, Fancy Articles, &c, will be in the large Tent used by the Society at its last Fair. A prominent feature of the Fair will be the Fire Departments of Dover and Somersworth, with companies from Manchester, and other places, with their Engines and Bands of Music. The Steam Fire Engine, "Lawrence," made by Bean & Scott, of Lawrence, Mass, will be present during the Fair, and will play each day. The Exhibition will close with a grand Balloon Ascension.

On Monday, October 4th, the Grounds and appurtenances will be in order for public inspection, and for the reception of all heavy and bulky articles.

On Tuesday, October 5th, the Business Office will be open for the entrance of articles, and it is particularly desired that all entries be made by TUESDAY NIGHT.

WEDNESDAY, THE 1ST DAY OF THE FAIR.—The morning will be devoted to the entries of articles at the Business Office. No entry will be made after 12 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock the Signal Gun will be fired; the Gates will be opened to the public, and the exhibition will commence.

At 2 o'clock, there will be a Grand Cavalcade of all the horses entered for exhibition, under direction of the Marshals.

At 3 o'clock, there will be a display of Cattle upon the Track.

At 5 o'clock there will be an exhibition of the Steam Fire Engine.

THURSDAY, THE SECOND DAY.—At 9 o'clock, the Fire Departments of Dover and other places, will exercise with their Machines.

At 10 o'clock, the exhibition of Stallions in their several classes.

At 12 o'clock the Steam Fire Engine will play.

At 1 o'clock the Annual Address before the Society will be delivered from the stand by Ex-Governor Boutwell, of Massachusetts.

From 3 until 5, exhibition of Horses by their several classes.

FRIDAY, THE THIRD DAY.—At 9 o'clock a Procession of all Teams entered for Plowing will be formed, and will proceed to the Plowing Ground at the northerly part of the Field, where the Plowing Match will take place.

At 10 o'clock there will be an exhibition of Stallions, and other Horses.

At 1 o'clock the award of Premiums will be announced.

At 3 o'clock there will be an exhibition of Premium Horses of all classes.

At 4 o'clock, an exhibition of Premium Neat Stock.

At 5 o'clock the exhibition will close with the GRAND BALLOON ASCENSION, by King & Allen, in the Queen of the Air.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The Teachers' Institute for Rockingham county will be held at Exeter the first two weeks of November; in Strafford county, at Great Falls the first week of November; in Carroll county, at Conway, the third week of October.

Hon. E. Ellis, who has been forty years a member of the British Parliament, is on a tour through the United States. Mr. Ellis is 78 years of age, hale and hearty, and worth upwards of a million of dollars. He traveled through the United States fifty-six years ago, this being his second visit.

FRANCE.—The despotism of Napoleon III. seems of late to have become more and more oppressive and hateful. M. Delesclure who, after several year's banishment in Jersey, was permitted to return to France, and was living quietly in the country, without meddling with politics, has been arrested and carried to Cayenne. This is one of the indications of an unstable government,—of an authority not founded in the affections and confidence of the people. The ruler seems perpetually in fear as it were of his own shadow.

Napoleon openly proclaims his championship of the Roman Catholic faith, and has done the bidding of the priesthood by permitting or directing the minister of the Home Office to prohibit the sale of the French Bible by travelling agents.—The same intolerance in Italy must be with his knowledge and permission. Count Ercolani has been arrested at Rome for lending a copy of the Italian translation of the Bible to some friend.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom over so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye never so sparkling, the teeth like those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Painter, Thelberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original colour, about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THELBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwyllicydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Ann-st., Aug. 12, '55.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but it has done it well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark color, leaving the hair soft and pliable, and stopping the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CAMBOR.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNIT.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Renovators without any result; the small bottle of your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 2 sizes, viz: large and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $1 75; the bottle holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, who are secretly suffering from the baleful effects of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their situation, thinking it a disgrace, I feel bound to state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed to the above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred and fifty persons which have been under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients may rely on the medicines being Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with worthless remedies, when the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article of the same signification of fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend the drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the chances of prizes at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the number of prizes, every ticket must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are on the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer, every ticket is a prize, from $100; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

All the prizes in these lotteries are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Union, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that in the night, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and confiding, BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are above the certain panacea for the relief of the human family. Unprincipled organization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing buoyant spirits and bloom to wheel about more agreeably to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—Ladies, these PILLS are purely vegetable, safe and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that genuine but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, which has heretofore been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst their friends, that they may reap benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS ever are to be taken when Cayenne is an ingredient, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail, on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESMAN, Box No. 4231, Post Office, New York city. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal,

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and as twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicine are directly applied to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the excision of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fatal and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside—are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic and the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce, in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or Canadas. Terms for the above treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month. Inhaling Medicine, Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payments as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient is cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be as well treated by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon their health and speedy relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected. ap24 6m

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Imperious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many a year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other tarry compounds in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after First Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles for 1 in. of less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a service test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

A WOMAN JUSTIFIED IN COURT FOR RIGHTING HER OWN WRONGS WITH A COWHIDE.—We have already stated that Mrs. Hannah Lyons inflicted personal chastisement upon one Henry Frost, the publisher of a little sheet in this city, with a cowhide in the office of Justice McFall.

Frost entered a complaint against her for assault and battery, and the case came up for examination in the Police Court yesterday. The whipping was acknowledged, but justified upon the ground of great provocation. Mrs. L. asserted that her fair fame had been aspersed by the plaintiff in the publication of a libel upon her character. In giving a decision in the case, in which he discharged Mrs. Lyons, Judge Pruden took occasion to justify the whipping upon the ground that it was committed in self-defence, substantially; that in publishing the scurrilous article refered to, the defendant had struck the first blow, which was always sufficient justification in law for proper resentment, even to the use of weapons. He spoke of the evil influence of such assaults upon the character of a wife and mother, as amongst the most dangerous that could be tolerated in community, and he was in favor of suppressing such libelious sheets altogether, as they only served to poison the minds of young girls, and point the vicious to disreputable houses of the town. In view of the fact, therefore, that the plaintiff was the aggressor, and as Mrs. Lyons had proven a good character, the Judge dismissed the complaint at the cost of the plaintiff. So far as the women are concerned, when their characters are assaulted, he justified the fullest "liberty of the cudgel," and he probably but echoed public sentiment.—Cincinnati Gazette.

A BIT OF ROMANCE IN READING.—Quite a little buzz has of late been moving about in the generally quiet town of Reading. It seems that a young lady, a little above the marriageable age of twenty, a resident of New York, of good family, and said to be worth the snug little sum of eighty thousand dollars—something worth possessing—took it into her precious noddle that she would patronize the newspapers—a sensible woman—and advertise for a husband; she believing in that mode, which of course she had a right to.

Among the answers to her proposals, was one from a young journeyman cordwainer of Reading. She took his proposition kindly, and forthwith packed up and came this way to see the plucky youth. Immediately upon her arrival in the village—the whereabouts of the son of Crispin—she installed herself in the snug and cozy hotel here, and placed herself under the care of the good landlord Kilborn, and then sent for the storessaid youth, who forthwith responded to her call, and appeared before her ladyship.

The young man, it is said, has a little tinge of verdancy about him, but the lady seems disposed to overlook this defect—and it is thought, by appearances, that the youngster has, or is fast finding favor in the strange lady's sight.—Reading Gaz.

ABOUT TREES.—The following items are from the Salem Register:—

Some time last fall, a lady of this city transplanted, from her old residence to her new, several pear trees. Among them was one choice tree, which bloomed in May, has continued to blossom every month during the season, and is in blossom now, being also well fruited—exhibiting another among the many curious freaks which Nature has taken it into her head to play during the past few months.

The Orange pear tree, in the garden of the late Capt. Wm. Allen, has produced four bushels and three-quarters of fine large pears this season, duly matured and gathered. The history of this venerable tree, can be satisfactorily traced back two hundred and eighteen years, to 1640, and how much longer it has existed we do not know. At any rate, it is a hardy and honorable specimen of the fruit trees of the fathers.

Charles Dixon, whose trial for rape on Mrs. Matilda Dodge was commenced last Saturday, at Amherst, by the S. J. Court, was found guilty, and sentenced to three days solitary confinement, and hard labor in the State Prison during life.

Served him right. He was an imported loafer, who hung round the groggeries and stores of a sister city; but going out into the country he committed a crime that has housed him.

ANDOVER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The class entering the Seminary this autumn is larger than for several years past. It numbers some over forty. The middle class numbers thirty-eight, and the senior class thirty-seven;—whole number one hundred and sixteen, or about that, with the expectation, it is understood, of some additional increase.

DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN.—Rev. Stephen Lovell, Methodist Minister, of Boston, and at one time Chaplain of the House of Correction, died on the 29th inst., of internal cancer, after a long and painful illness, at the age of 59 years. Mr. Lovell was for a number of years assistant editor of the Boston Olive Branch, to which paper he contributed many articles of an interesting character.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages of securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1858

"The chief trouble of the Administration at the present time is the lukewarmness of the South on the Slavery question. Strange assertion this, but it is absolutely true. There is a strong disposition manifested by Southern journals and statesmen to favor Douglas in his Senatorial contest. This disposition — call it ingratitude—makes Mr. Buchanan sick at heart. While he is waging war for the extermination of the South, such journals as the Richmond Enquirer—old and influential—such statesmen as Senator Brown of Mississippi, take part with Douglas, and deprecate the course of the President's organ, the Union. This is the very worst kind of ingratitude.

The President cannot understand how it is that while he, a Northern man, is so devoted to Slavery, that he willingly sacrifices such men as Douglas and Forney, Southern men do not come up to his support against the mighty in the Free States."

We can understand it easily. The slave power swindles all who come within its clutches, from Dred Scott the negro, up to Judge Taney whom it swindled out of his manhood, and to the President whom it swindled out of his propriety.

☞ The Washington correspondent of Forney's Press states that orders have been sent from Washington to the Democratic State Committee of Pennsylvania, to insist upon the full endorsement of the Lecompton policy of the Administration, and a full denunciation of Judge Douglas for standing by Democratic principles. The Federal Cabinet has resolved that the whole policy of the Administration on Kansas, and particularly that part which denounces Douglas, shall be elaborately approved.

☞ Despite strong opposition from ultra and exclusive friends, the American and Republican mass meeting in New York city, Tuesday evening, Messrs. Clark and Haskins, anti-Lecompton congressmen, were fully endorsed. It is reported that the Americans and Republicans in New York State, are about uniting on the following basis:—The American candidates for governor and lieut-governor, and the Republican candidates for State-prison inspector and canal commissioner, to withdraw, thus leaving but one ticket in the field.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN NORTH BERWICK.—A correspondent informs us that on the arrival of the morning train from Portland on Friday, at the Railroad Crossing near North Berwick, a horse attached to a vehicle, in which Mrs. Hannah Noble, wife of Moses Noble of Berwick, was seated, took fright, and the lady was thrown out, breaking her neck, and causing instant death. She was about 70 years of age. Mrs. Morrill, a daughter of Mrs. Noble, who was in company with her, was also thrown from the carriage, but was seriously injured.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY AT NEW YORK.—The American Tract Society at New York, have issued a circular to its friends, calling for increased aid to enable it to carry on its work. The deficiency in the contributions in the first five months of the current year, as compared with the last, amounts to $15,000; and unless relief is speedily afforded, the Society will have to curtail its operations. Very many of the New England and western churches have withheld their contributions from the New York Society since its action on the slavery question in May, last and have paid them to the Boston Society.—To this fact is no doubt attributed the deficiency above stated.

☞ The Irishmen in Ware, Mass., have set an example worthy to be followed. A portion of the Catholic society, alarmed by the prevalence of intoxication, especially on the Sabbath, entered into a formal agreement to prosecute any of their associates who sold liquor or used it to excess. Their priest, Rev. Mr. Blenkinsop, threatened to discontinue his ministrations if there was not an early reform, and is active in directing legal action against the offenders.

WALKING UPON THE WATER.—At Amsterdam there has been a regatta of young men who walk the water in shoes called podoschapes. One of them, Mr. Oehener, who gained the prize, accomplished the feat of walking up the Rhine from Rotterdam to Cologne, where he arrived on the 22d of August, having started from Rotterdam on the 16th.

A TALE OF WOE.

The sad recital of facts, in relation to the suicide of Esther Ann House, at Manchester, is such as to "make both the ears of him that heareth it, to tingle!"

It is stirring up the people of Manchester to have certain bad houses broken up, and it ought to stir them up, so as to compel their city government to break up the groggeries, which keep these dens alive! Break up the groggeries, and every one of such dens must close.

In the mob of two hundred loafers who howled out their indignation in this city eighteen months ago, because some groggeries were searched, were embraced every keeper of brothels and gambling dens in this city. Their interests were one and indivisible!

In the Manchester Police Court report of Sept. 26, we see these two items:

Jane Clark, for keeping a house of ill fame. She plead guilty—and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $200 for her appearance at the higher court.

Henry Haywood for keeping house of ill fame. Plead nolo contendere, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $300. These are the parties who took Miss House out to ride and carried her to the disreputable house kept by them on Manchester street.

On this, the American makes the following remarks:

The investigation of the suicide of Miss House, shows more of infamy and preconceived villainy than was at first apparent. It brings to light some of the artifices which during a year or two past have been constantly practiced by the keepers of a dozen houses of prostitution in this city, and which in a less public way have ruined many of the inexperienced and unsuspecting. These dens of prostitution are no secret "institution" of Manchester, but their locality and purpose are almost as well known as that of the hotels. They are a sort of ally of the groggeries, are patronized for the most part by the same class of men and boys, and of the two are by far the most damnable and villainous.—Our city authorities have no apology for tolerating the known existence of such dens of infamy.

Esther Ann House was the daughter of James L. House, living in the edge of Hooksett, two miles above the city, and who for several years has worked at the granite ledge. The girl has for two years worked out in that neighborhood, and last spring came to this city, worked some weeks with Mr. Carter of Piscataquog, and on the 5th of July began to work on the Manchester corporation where she remained eight weeks, boarding with Mr. Philbrick. By consent of her father, she began housework in Mr. Philbrick's family three weeks ago.

On the Monday following, Jane Clark, whose father keeps the old tavern two miles above Mr. House, called on him and inquired where Esther was now residing, and was informed. On Friday Mr. House saw Mr. Philbrick, and inquiring for his daughter, was told that she had left, and gone to work elsewhere, where, Mr. P. could not tell, but was with a young married couple who were her acquaintances, and had promised her better pay. Suspecting nothing wrong, and thinking that she would be at home on Sunday, he made no farther inquiry. The next Monday night he learned from a neighbor that Esther was living with Miss Clark, who for some months had been keeping a house of ill fame in the eastern part of the city.—On Tuesday, with some difficulty, he found the house occupied by Jane Clark in "Beanville," the fourth house above the pine grove on Manchester street.

The whole mystery was now apparent. On seeing her father the girl burst into tears, and disclosed her sad condition.—She informed him that on Tuesday afternoon (14th inst.) Jane Clark in company with a young man unknown to her, but whom she introduced as her husband, called at Mr. Philbrick's and invited her to a ride with them. Having well known Miss Clark last winter in Hooksett, she went with them. They offered her high wages if she would work for them, and with this inducement she consented. She returned with them to Mr. Philbrick's, informed them of her intention and left. On the first evening, quite a number of young people of both sexes called at Miss Clark's, and engaged in amusements.—Wine was drank freely, she was flattered with attentions, and after some persuasion was induced to drink freely also. She soon became oblivious, perhaps from the quantity drank, and was unconscious till she awoke and found herself in bed with Whittier.

[The reader will please to notice the close connexion, between drink, drugging, destruction and death.]

She also discovered the next day that the Clark woman was not married. Finding herself ruined, she now dreaded to see her friends, and remained at the house till discovered by her father just a week later.

Miss House told her father that she could not return home, or see acquaintances, but begged to be sent to Fisherville or some place where she would be unknown and could get employment. He told her she would be kindly received at home, and had better go there rather than among strangers. She agreed to do so that evening, and he left. In the evening she went to Elm street, got the dose of arsenic of one druggist, and the laudanum of another. When she reached the company's wood pile above the city, she drank a part of both, and, as she afterwards said, expected to die in a short time. So heavy a dose occasioned violent vomiting, which continued till daylight, when she succeeded in reaching home. She died on Friday morning.

The above facts we learn from the family of the deceased, who have always borne a good reputation among their neighbors.—The girl has always had a good name wherever she has worked, and was seduced away from her friends on the corporation by the falsehoods of Jane Clark and her paramour, Henry Hayward, Jr. The former is a notorious character—a graduate of the old Clark tavern, and is about twenty-five years old. Hayward and Miss Clark have been arrested for keeping a house of bad repute. There does not appear to be evidence sufficiently direct to lead to the arrest of the parties on a criminal warrant.

LETTER FROM CHARLES SUMNER. — The Boston Advertiser publishes the following private letter from Hon. Charles Sumner:

AIX, Savoy, 11th Sept.

Look at the map of Europe, and you will find, nestling in the mountains of Savoy between Switzerland and France, the little village of Aix, generally known as Aix-les-Baine, from the baths which give it fame. There I am now. The country about is most beautiful and the people simple and kind.

My time is devoted to my health. I wish that I could say that I am not still an invalid; but, except when attacked by the pain on my chest, I am now comfortable, and enjoy my baths, my walks, and the repose and incognito which I find here.

I begin the day with douches, hot and cold; and when thoroughly exhausted, am wrapped in sheet and blanket and conveyed to my hotel and laid on my bed. After my walk I find myself obliged again to take to my bed for two hours before dinner. But this whole treatment is in pleasant contrast with the protracted sufferings from fire which made my summer a torment. And yet I fear that I must return again to that treatment.

It is with a pang unspeakable that I find myself thus arrested in the labors of life and in the duties of my position. This is harder to bear than the fire. I do not hear of friends engaged in active service—like Trumbull in Illinois—without a feeling of envy. CHARLES SUMNER.

☞ At Louisville, Ky., on the 24th ult., an affray occurred between D. L. Ward and R. R. Lindsay, both printers. Lindsay was passing down Third street, and was accosted by Ward, Ward using very abusive epithets, calling him a "d—d rat," and finally striking him in the face. Lindsay immediately drew a pistol and fired, the ball entering the left breast.—Ward walked a few steps, entered the Democrat office, and died in less than half an hour.

☞ F. W. Kellogg, just nominated for Congress by the opposition of the 3d district of Michigan, was formerly an Ohio shoemaker, but now runs a saw mill in the Michigan pineries. He seems to be a dangerous opponent, for the Detroit Free Press, dem., says of him:—

His experience as an itinerant lecturer on temperance gave him fluency, his Maker gave him lungs, and Kansas gave him a subject; and as a consequence he is one of the most expert shrikers that the Fremont times produced in this State.

DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS. — The editor of the Richmond Advocate, in referring to delinquent subscribers, says that it is bad enough for an editor to bear his own shortcomings, but to bear the shortcomings of about 5,000 other people is a little too much for patient endurance.

THE Demarouis is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the pure pilts or cosmetics, and then dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the very ...able kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find in it a grateful and a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tasted."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

A Rich Scene in Court.—During a session of the Circuit Court at Lynchburg, Va., an Irishman was indicted for stabbing another on the canal, and the only witness was Dennis O'Brien, who was required to enter into bonds for his appearance at the new court. The recognizance was in the usual form:

"You acknowledge yourself indebted to the Commonwealth of Virginia in the sum of $500.

As soon as the clerk recovered from the amusement at the answer, he explained the meaning of the form, then read it over again.

Dennis.—"I tell ye, I don't owe her a cint. Its more money nor I ever saw, nor my father before me."

At this stage of the matter a brother of Dennis interfered, and said:

"Ye must jest say it, Dennis; it's one of the forms of law."

Dennis.—"But I won't; I'm a decent, honest man, what pays my debts, and I'll spake the truth, and the devil may drink all my whiskey for a month if I say I owe anybody a cint. Now cheat me if you can."

A One Horse Novel.—Violetta started convulsively, and turned her tear-drenched eyes wildly upon the speaker; for to her, there seemed something familiar in these low, rich tones. Their eyes met; his beaming with love and tenderness—her's gleaming with wild uncertainty. "Violetta!"—"Allendorf!" And the beautiful girl sank, from excess of joy, upon his noble heart, throbbing with the pure, holy, delicious love of other days. Allendorf bent tenderly over her, and bathed her pure white temples with the gushing tears of deep, though subdued joy. While doing this, Violetta's father, Rip Van Snort, was seen approaching the lovers with a flail. Allendorf saw the aged patriarch, and just as he was turning the corner of the red barn, gave him a lift with the flail, that placed him on the "other side of Jordan." Violetta, driven to distraction, threw herself upon the grass, and for a long, long hour, was deaf to every consolation.

Washington, Oct. 1.—A rumor prevails that the troops are to be removed from Fort Henry, in consequence of alleged infectious diseases in that neighborhood.—There is reason to believe, however, that the report is premature. The regulations of the army authorize the removal of the troops from sickly to healthy locations, and this would doubtless be done by the commanding officer of the post, were there sufficient grounds for the exercise of this discretion.

It has been decided at the Post Office Department that letters received from U. S. vessels cannot be considered ship letters under the provisions of the act of March 3d, 1825 which apply only to letters or packets carried "in any private ship or vessel;" such letters, therefore, are chargeable with drop letter postage, if intended for the delivery of the offices in which they are deposited, and with the ordinary rates if forwarded to others offices; and in neither case is any compensation to be allowed to the person from whom they are received.

New York, Oct. 2.—The Times Washington correspondent announces the approaching removal of Mr. Faran, the recently appointed Postmaster at Cincinnati. He is a Douglas sympathizer.

The case of Superintendent Tallmadge was decided yesterday before the Police Commissioners. He is censured for not sending men to quarantine at the commencement of the riot, but is reinstated in office.

From Rio Janeiro.—Norforlk, Oct. 1. Barque Parthian, 43 days from Rio Janeiro, arrived in Hampton Roads to-day.—The U. S. frigate St. Lawrence and the sloop-of-war Falmouth were at Rio—all well on board. The health of the city was good. Freights were dull.

The Turf—$10,000 Match.—New York, Oct. 1.—At the Fashion Course to-day.—Slasher won the $10,000 match, beating Don Juan. Time—3.42 1-2; 3.56.

Parachute won the 2-mile race. Time—7.59; 8 min.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—The Salt Lake mail reached St. Joseph on the 25th ult., 21 days out. The Mormons were quiet and orderly at the time of departure. A violent snow storm was encountered by the train west of Laramie. The Indians on the route were quiet.

Accident—Good Pluck.—We regret to learn that Mr. Samuel C. Nason, of Eliot, Me., in discharging a gun at a lot of pigeons upon a stand which he had erected for the purpose, had his shoulder broken by a kick of the gun. He had in a heavy charge and killed three dozen of the fowl. This happened on the day of the annual election in Maine. Mr. Nason is one of those indomitable Democrats of which there are a good many in Maine, and for fear he should loose his vote went to the polls and exercised the right of suffrage, before having the bone set. This is the best instance of "good pluck" of which we remember to have heard.—Dover Gazette.

Surgical.—We learn that on the 20th ult., Hiram Edmunds, of Emery's Mills, a boy some 14 years old, fell from a hay mow and struck the lower part of the left side of the chest upon the upright end of a sharpened slab, used as a fixture in the barn. The slab penetrated the chest, and he hung there, some four feet from the floor, whilst his father could go and take him off. When the slab was drawn from the body the left lung followed! It soon became inflated, so that it was somewhat difficult to reduce and restore it to its proper place. This, however, was effectually done by Dr. W. Stevens—the opening closed up—and in a few days a complete recovery effected. The boy is now running about the neighborhood.—Great Falls Advertiser.

Looking out of his window one summer evening, Luther saw, on a tree at hand, a bird making his brief and easy dispositions for a night's rest. "Look," said he, "how that little fellow preaches faith to us all! He takes hold of his twig, tucks his head under his wing, and goes to sleep, leaving God to think for him."

A sick man slightly convalescing, recently in conversation with a pious friend, congratulating him upon his recent recovery, and asking him who his physician was, replied, "Dr. ——— brought me through." "No, no," said his friend, "God brought you out of your illness, not the doctor." "Well," replied he, "may be he did, but I am certain the doctor will charge me for it."

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

THE LATE ELECTION IN MAINE.—The Augusta Age, reviewing the result of the late election, says:

The Democracy entered the contest under exceedingly unfavorable circumstances. The unfortunate divisions in the national counsels last winter, over the Kansas question, had left their impression on the public mind, and although partially healed, the injurious effects of that disagreement were not fully effaced. But for this one fact, the Democracy would inevitably have carried the State this fall. The State Convention in June, by its wise and conciliatory course, did much to avert the injurious consequences apprehended from that disagreement, by presenting a common ground of union, whereby the democracy were kept intact; but it did not enable us to recall any considerable portion of our deserted forces; nor to make such inroads into the republican ranks as we otherwise should have done. Had the Lecompton issue never presented itself, the Democracy would have broken the power of the republican organization and swept the State this fall—had that issue been kept open we should have been overwhelmingly "crushed out,"—with the issue composed as it was, we have been enabled to hold our forces intact, and make a respectable gain upon the enemy, in the popular vote—pushing him to the very point of defeat in three Congressional districts, and largely increasing our representation in the legislature.

If the "powers that be" at Washington, will but hold the democratic helm with a firm and unflinching hand, keeping the ship of State on her present course, without veering to the right or left, and springing no new issues upon the country, and insisting no new tests for the party, the Democracy of Maine will by another year gather strength sufficient to overthrow the present black republican dynasty, and effect a thorough and complete redemption of the State.

☞ Hon. T. A. Hendricks, Commissioner of the General Land Office, being on a visit to his home in Indiana, made a speech at Indianapolis on the 10th inst. The Sentinel of that place says:

At the close of Mr. Hendricks's speech, he was asked "if he endorsed the policy charged against the Administration of a desire to defeat Judge Douglas and the democracy in the contest now pending in Illinois." In reply, he said he was here to make known only his own views, and that he could not make known the views and purposes of others. So far as he was concerned, he desired the success of the regular party organization in Illinois, represented by Judge Douglas.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. No. CLXXXI. October, 1858.

This celebrated publication lies on our table. We have had barely time to glance at its table of contents, and read one or two of its able papers. The first article in the present number is a very pleasing sketch of the literary life of Sir Walter Scott. The sketch of Scott's social position at Abbotsford, the picture of the man is not less agreeable than anything which relates to Scott, the novelist, poet, historian and essayist. His pecuniary reverses are alluded to, and the train of circumstances which led to the crash, involving Sir Walter in ruin, are briefly stated. A consideration of the judgment which denies to Scott the title of great, leads to a short but critical analysis of his character, and the writer closes with a passage from Ivanhoe, as showing Scott's clearness of moral insight, as well as the method by which that element affected his productions. Gray's Botanical Text-books—a very favorable criticism upon the elementary works recently prepared by that eminent simplifier of knowledge, Asa Gray, M.D., is the title of the second article. The remaining articles are: The new Crime of Austria, Michael Montaigne, Buckle's History of Civilization, Recent French Literature, The First Stages of American Revolution, The Early Days of Hellas, Climatology, Life and Labors of Thomas H. Gallandet, The Ocean Telegraph, and Critical Notices of new publications.

In the variety and excellence of its papers, this number of the North American is not behind its predecessors.

THE IMMORTALITY RIGHT: An Oration delivered before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Brown University, August 31, 1858. By Andrew P. Peabody.

We have hardly perused this Oration, and find it to be devoted to the discussion of these questions: Is the moral law arbitrary and conventional or absolute and eternal? Does it owe its validity to its divine enactment, or its enactment to its intrinsic validity? Right or wrong—are they characteristics imposed on actions by a sovereign will, or are they inherent and indelible? The argument of the lecturer maintains that "God's decrees and acts are not right because they are his, but his because they are right." In the conclusion, the learned Doctor shows the bearing of the doctrine of this discourse upon government and political life, pronounces the repudiation of political "higher law-ism" one of the most atrocious sins of the age, nothing short of "stark atheism," and draws a parallel between Satan and the "manifest-destiny" type and the Hebrews of old.

GOLD IN KANSAS—All the accounts from the Gold regions of Kansas are of one tenor. Either the mines are of surpassing richness, or the travellers are all tip top liars, and have entered into a general conspiracy to deceive the world. But there can be little doubt that the reports are true, and if so, won't there be a scrabble next spring after the "dust?" This discovery is of vast importance in a political point of view, for if the accounts are not exaggerated, Kansas will double its population in a twelve month, and come into the Union with a California rush! The evidences of the vast extent and richness of the mines are rapidly increasing.—Among other accounts the St. Louis Democrat says:

"So great is the demand for provisions at St. Joseph, for the mines, that Mr. Isidore Poulin, a merchant of that place, who has been shipping to this port large quantities of bacon, has come here to repurchase some of that article. He says that he expected, a few days ago, in carrying from the steamer Wattoman, to the White Cloud, thirty-five thousand dollars worth of gold dust, which Mr. John Richard had procured from Indians who had collected it with implements of the rudest description, which they themselves made.

Yulo, Yancton, Winnebago, and St. Stephen villages are points from which many Indians, half-breeds, &c., had gone to the diggings. Mr. Poulin had sold goods for the mines to the amount of $12,000, and corroborates the reports in regard to the richness of the auriferous region."

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—By connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, and a long private practice, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my derived opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment, which is positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapors and medicines are made to act mediately and directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of pipe, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it a matter of importance that every patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases is well and widely known, and the testimony upon which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and prominent friends, through whose philanthropic and the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to open such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to my private practice and the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above mentioned, in accordance with the rules in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine and all necessary advice, and the medicine, Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair, BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth like those of pearls, if the head is beset by its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, hard and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Ayer's Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pomatic Theologist:

NEW YORK, April 10, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligation I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, and to my disappointment of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six months since I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color. Much to her surprise, after using the few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown and the brown hairs to their original color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grew out and turned back to its original color. Thinks I, All this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to me to all.
